

TO FIT THE BOY

FOR SCHOOL

LORD BALTIMORE CLOTHES

It is a mistaken idea that just anything in the line of clothing will do for your boys school year. One substantial suit will outwear two poor ones. We sell the substantial kind.

Especially does your boy need a strong durable suit for school wear. He should have good clothing, for rags destroy his self respect.

WE HAVE made special provision for the boys, and have a line of clothing, hats and shoes that cannot be surpassed.

You will be pleased and the boy will be happy if you outfit him here.

Economical and satisfying.

Health Precaution

The common sense way is to keep the health right. And the way to keep good health is to eat pure food. Impure or inferior foods are a menace to health, and should never be allowed on your table.

OUR GROCERIES WILL STAND THE TEST

We can't advertise cheap groceries now. The cheap article is just the thing you don't want.

But we can furnish you the best in all staple and fancy groceries.

And our prices are very reasonable when you know the excellence of our goods.

A regiment of 24,000 negro stevedores for foreign service has been authorized by the war department to meet the demand for experienced men to handle war supplies for the American force in France. Recruiting officers, especially those in southern seaport cities, have been instructed to seek men for the regiment. An effort is being made to get exemption from draft for negroes of draft age who would prefer hard work behind the lines to duty in the trenches. The army also wants negro cooks and will give good pay to even inexperienced men if they have capacity and are willing to learn.

Six negro soldiers of the 24th infantry, who clashed with the civil police and the troops sent to subdue them at Waco, Texas, on the night of July 29, were found guilty of violation of the 13th article of war before the general courtmartial held recently at Camp MacArthur, Waco. Five of the men were sentenced to five years at hard labor in the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan. The sixth man received ten years. All were sentenced to be dishonorably discharged from the service and to forfeit all pay and allowances due or to become due while in confinement under service.

A Horrible Example.

"Willie," said the mother sorrowfully, "every time you are naughty I get another gray hair."

"Gee!" said Willie, "you must have been a terror. Look at Grandpa's hair."

A campaign to recruit women for farm work has been started by the National League for Women's Service in cooperation with the department of labor at Washington.

Artificial Camphor Produced.
Artificial camphor has been produced. It is now made from pine tree turpentine. But the chemist has not yet succeeded in synthesizing gutta percha. This commodity yearly becomes scarcer. Enormous quantities are required for various purposes, notably the covering of submarine cables and the making of golf balls. A fortune awaits the man who can make artificial gutta percha at a price that will permit it to compete with the juice of the Dichops gutta.

Dragon's Bones Found in China.
The earth, under the probes of explorers, is still yielding up prehistoric secrets and strange revelations of past ages.

In China, the bones of what it is thought to have been a species of "dragon" have been unearthed. One large specimen measured 60 feet, and near it were the fossilized remains of a number of smaller ones. Interest in this discovery was very widespread and keen, as all true Chinamen like to say that they have "seen a dragon," even if only a fossil.

Getting the News.

"Why do you encourage that incessant talker, Mrs. Gaddy, to come here?"

"Well, I save that much on subscription to a daily newspaper."

Strong Hint.

"Have you an extensive plant in your town to interest an enterprising stranger?"

"Yes, we have. There's the town cemetery."

THOMAS E. WATSON

His Strange Career and its Lamentable Conclusion.

Just beyond the little town of Thomas, in a magnificent, old fashioned Southern home, there lives a man whose very name should, by all rights, be blazing brightly on the halls of time.

Today this man is in the depths of despair, burdened with woes unextinguishable, eating the bitter fruit of remorse and tasting the dregs of grief.

To him, as it were,

"When sorrows came, they came not single spies,

"But in battalions."

Born with an innate pride which lashed his ambition like the whip of a task master and spurred him on and on to heights which the average country youth would not dare to scale, this man cultivated himself, developed his talents, and made himself a man among men.

He became as good a lawyer, in at least one particular branch of the profession, as there was in Georgia.

He exhibited qualities of statesmanship seldom seen in these shallow times.

With his pen he employed,

"Choice words and measured phrase above the reach

"Of ordinary men."

His essays rank with those of Lamb and Macaulay.

His histories are the ablest ever written in this country—his "Story of France" being a classic and his "Napoleon" the most comprehensive one-volume study of the most famous man of history. His "Jeffersonian" and "Jackson" his "Mexico" his "The Hohenzollerns," even his "Roman Catholic Hierarchy," are works which prove him an historical writer of the high order.

His editorial expression burns with the fire of a Marat and the powerful eloquence of Brain or may soothe like the tender gentleness of a woman. Forcibly, he is even yet, with the possible exception of Judge Speer, the most superb orator in the South. Certain it is, he is without a peer in this State as a political stump speaker.

Yet this man has "Fallen, fallen, fallen, fallen,

"And weltering in his own blood,"

However it may be said that—

"Twas no foeman's arm that felled him,

"Twas his own that struck the blow."

Today, instead of being honored by his people, an inspiration to the youth of the land, his name the proud boast of his countrymen, he is despised by decent-thinking citizens, practically proscribed by his government, a pariah among patriots.

While others less gifted but more devoted to democracy are giving their unselfish services to their nation, this man is sowing the seeds of sedition. His writings are denied the mails, and a prosecution for an offense akin to treason hangs heavy, heavy over the head.—From the American, Ga. Times-Recorder.

Largest War Tax in History.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The war tax bill—the largest single taxation measure in American history—was passed tonight by the Senate. It provides for a levy somewhat under $2,400,000,000 as compared with the $1,867,870,000 proposal in the bill as it passed the House May 23. The vote was 69 to 4. Senators Borah, Groun, LaFollette and Norris being recorded in opposition.

Had Her Fixed.

"My first wife said if I married again she'd dig her way out of the grave and haunt me."

"But you did marry again."

"Yes, but I buried her face down. Let her dig."—The Tatler.
