By Miss Louise Nettles

The Chronicle desires to make the social column as interesting and as complete as possible and invites the sending of articles to this office or to Miss Louise Nettles.

WIND AND WAVE.

Oh, when I hear at sea The water on our lee I fancy that I hear the wind That comes by fanning tree.

But when I hear the tree I listen eagerly I seem to hear the rushing wave I heard far out at sea.

The Latest War News. While for the moment there are no infantry operations of great magnitude in progress on any of the numerous battle fronts indications are not wanting that shortly the Canadian sector in France and the northern line in the Italian theater will again witness the titanic struggles with the Germans and the Austro-Hungarians the aggressors.

Already the Germans in the Cambrai region have brought up reinforcements with the object of blotting out the salient driven into their line by General Byng's dash a small portion of which they have reconquered but at a fearful price.

Congratulations To The Majestic. To The Editor of The Chronicle: Having used the courtesy of your columns for a recent criticism of the moving pictures, then being shown, I wish to employ the same medium to offer my congratulations to the management of The Majestic, and its patrons, on the excellent repertory which has been given recently and also on the prompt and clever solution of the problem for parents by the insertion of the line after each advance advertisement indicating its fitness for parents to take or send their children to see.

Nothing could be more charming for children than "Polly of the Circus", "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and "The Sawdust Ring", while for the elders there was the clean mirth-provoking comedy of "The Amazons" and nowhere have I ever seen a more artistic and beautiful production than "Barbaric Sheep" with Elsie Ferguson while others equally good are promised in the near future, among them "The Garden of Allah" may be looked forward to with pleasure, it is capable of such artistic treatment and wonderful atmosphere effects.

The waitresses for the occasion were Misses Maude Moore, Virginia Taylor, Ethel Yates, Ethel Yates and Edna Teal.

Mr. Robt. Lindsay of Chester was a guest for Thanksgiving and the week end at the home of his brother Mr. John S. Lindsay.

THURSDAY LITERARY SOCIETY IN THE LONG LEAF PINES CAMDEN, S. C. A Club Plan Resort near the Sarsfield Golf Course.

ones come none, I am sure, will regret the small extra expense when they are assured of the compensation, for in these times of our country's burden of care amusement for her people is almost as necessary as food. Most heartily I applaud the good work and best for its continuance. A Friendly Critic.

Christmas Vigor. The Christmas Holidays always call for more or less strenuous living. You cannot escape the social features of the season. It is equally true that you cannot enjoy the season if you are in a jaded, run-down condition. YOUR DRUGGIST can furnish you just the right tonic or corrective to put your system in mince-ple order. Don't wait till the Christmas sports and the Christmas feasts have gotten you "all wrong". Take it in time and fortify your health. We are in earnest when we subscribe ourselves, "Yours for Health." Zemp & DePass. Call or Phone No. 19. Prompt Attention Given.
