It gives us pleasure to chronicle this departure from a custom that has so little merit in it, and which has been so long and generally adhered to by our churches, to the detriment of both pastor and people. Let other churches fall into line, and keep pace with the advancement of the day. It is an svil custom that most go.-Baptist Cou-

In speaking of the glory and prosperity of the new Troy in Abbeville county, of which he is Intendent, Capt. J. T. Youngblood said to us a few days ago: "We have two bar rooms in full blast but we haven't had or needed a marshal in six months. Red oats and wheat are the reasons for our peace and prosperity. Our people feel their oat. They sow oats and wheat in the fall and the money they get for their surplus crops lasts them until cotton comes in. They have money all the year round and never get blue enough to resort and a special favorite with the girls, who to the aid of John Barleycorn to get a rosy view of life. Why don't you Barnwell folks quit putting all your eggs in one basket: try oats and come out of the wilderness. As long as they depend on cotton alone they will continue to go from bad to worse and oats alone can save them.

Mr. John H. Hewlett, who was so dandependy wounded at Allendale on the 25th of last December, has recovered almost as If by a miracle. In the "Christmas affray" his son and grandson were killed, and he was seve ely wounded in the body and had his arm shattered, which for months kept him confined to bed, unable even to change his position. All who visited him then went away hopeless of his recovery. Being blessed, however, with a strong constitution, and under the careful and skillful treatment of one of our most eminent physicians, Dr. L. S. Hay, of Al endale, he rallied and soon got up. On August 28d he rode into town on horseback. He lives three miles out in the country, and yet he came in to attend the primary election .-Mr. Hewlett was born in Virginia. He is closely related to ex-President Harrison and two of Virginia's Governors. His parents moved to South Carolina when he was a boy, and he has been a resident of Bernwell county ever since.-Justice in News and Courier.

Because the rost of production is greater than the market price of crops. Well, a decrease in the cost of production is the first step necessary to and in the direction of prosperity. If human labor can be so aided by human ingenuity that one man can do the work of two, three or more, they a long step forward and in the right road is taken. Some time ago one of the mest active farmers in the county add to us: Last fall one hand with two muces aid a pulverizing harrow planted from eight to ten acres in oats every day; duling about as much work and to better style than eight hands and eight mules under the old plan. We have seen letters from prominent Georgia planters warmly commending the Randall Harrow, advertised in this issue by Poues, Dougherty & Co., Augusta, Ga., one of the oldest and most honorable hardware houses in the South. Our readers are referred to their advertisement and we feel completely conif lent that investment in the Randall will pay a big percentage.

A SAD DEATH -On last Thursday morning our whole community was shocked and saddened by the announcement of the death, on the previous night, of Mrs. Kate Willis, wife of Capt. John T. Willis and daughter of Capt. Geo. W. Burns of Chareston. Buring her short residence in Barnwellshe had won, by her many virtues the esteem and affection of all our people, and their warmest sympathies are given to the bereaved husband, the orphaned children and the little infants who will never know the infinite tenderness of a mother's love. In the shadow of so great a sorrow human sympathy is unable to comfort the bruised flearts of those who loved her so well and we can only pray that He the has chastened may heal and gather, at the last day, the living and the lost in a new home in the city of the saints or God which the dusky wing of Azrael can never disturb.

THE DEATH OF CHARLIE MATTHEWS -On Saturday afternoon Charlie Matthews, son of Mr. Moses Matthews of Williston, was killed by a n ule belonging to Mr. J. C. Stausell. The circumstances were these: Mrs. Stanseil and Miss Lizzie Kirksey were driving past Mr. Matthews place on their way to the house of their father, Mr. t. P. H. Kirksey. Their horse became unruly and they concluded to drive a mule and called Charlie to help them harness it -While putting the tridle on the mule reared kneck ng Charlie down and striking him as he lay on the ground on the chest with both feet. Miss Kirksey, who was holding the mule by a rope tied around the neck, was also thrown down. Ch rile got up, walked to the buggy and rested upon the wheel. When asked if he was hurt he answered: "Yes, my arm is burt, please send for my mother." The ladies saw that he was seriously injured and with the aid of some colored persons placed him in the brugy and carried him to the house of Mr. Willie Willis near by, where he died in short time after being placed on a bed. He was about fifteen years of age. The sympathics of the entire community are with the tamily of the deceased in their deep and sudden bereavement.

WILLISTON .- So far there has been no sickue-s of a 3-rious character this year. This exemption has no doubt been assisted by the constant care of the town council to keep the village in apple pie order. Semi-monthly inspections of the lots have been made and all causes that threatened abated. The order maintained has been worthy of imitation in sister towns. No disturbance of the public peace has occurred during the past twelve months and only one intoxicated person has appeared on the streets and he procured his benzine elsewhere. The town is clear of debt, the streets in first rate order and the treasury has a surplus of a hundred and forty-seven dollars.

THE DESIGNATION AT BLACKVILLE.—The dedication of Sc. Matthews Church in Blackville on last Bunday was, to the Outholics of that community, the fruition of long cherished hopes and long continued labors. The day was perfect; a gentle breeze tempered the ardor of the September sun that came down from the cloudless skies and nature was in her kindliest mood.

No generous man, po matter how thoroughly protestant he may be, can hesitate to admire the wonderful vitality of that faith which has planted its churches in every land where man has made his home and dispensed its charities wherever want and positionce have afflicted humanity. With all the energy of earlier days the small membership has devoted itself to the task of building a temple of its own and in that labor of love has been aided generously by those of their own faith in the neighboring cities and by the protestants of their town. And now the completed edifice is an ornament to Blackville and a credit to its builders.

The church, perhaps the prettiest in the county, is built of wood after the Gothic style, measuring 65 by 25 feet with a cupola sixty feet high. It will comfortably accommodate 250 persons and its acoustic properties are perfect.

The services commenced at 10-30 a. m, with the formal dedication of the width, at from 50 cents per yard up: church by Bishop Northrop. A sel-Revs. F. J. Shadler, P. L. Duffy, Wm. | cialty. Lonergan and P. J. Wilson officiated.

The Dedicatory Sermon by Bishop at unheard of prices. Northrop was a masterly effort, elequently and elegantly delivered. His text was from the first chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, "And you shall be witnesses unto me even to the outermost parts of the earth." During its delivery, which occupied more than an hour, he held the unflagging attention of his audience.

The music throughout the protracted services was exquisitely rendered. Miss Eliza A. Deveneaux presided as organist and was assisted by Miss Quinn of Little Rock, Ark., Misses Kanapaux, Gambatti and Jaques and Messrs. Jaques, McSweeny and Shaffer of Charleston.

Vespers were celebrated in the evening and Fathers Shadler and Lanegan chanted the Magnificate with splendid 'eff ct. Several candidates were confirmed and the services closed with the Benediction of the Blessed
