The carnival has come to town.

Mrs. J. G. Wooley was the guest of relatives in Columbia and Pelion last week.

J. O. Patterson, Esq., went over to Blackville Friday on professional business.

Capt. H. A. Simms, of Camp Jackson, spent Sunday in the city with relatives.

Sergt. Luther L. Stuart, of Camp Jackson, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Davies.

The members of the Local Board for Barnwell County held a business meeting here Monday.

Miss Sallie Pate, who is teaching school at Swansea, spent the week-end in the city with relatives.

The farmers of this section have been blessed with ideal weather for gathering their crops this Fall.

Dr. L. F. Bonner and Messrs. Angus Patterson and S. E. Moore went up to Columbia Friday morning.

Messrs. Martin Best and Mordecai Mazursky were initiated into the mysteries of the mystic Shrine in Columbia Friday.

Mr. B. P. Davies attended a meeting of the executive committee of the South Carolina Press Association in Columbia Friday.

Mr. Terrie Richardson, who was injured about two weeks ago in an automobile accident, returned home Friday evening from a Columbia hospital. He is recovering rapidly, although not yet able to walk.

Mayor and Mrs. J. Emile Harley and children and Miss Pauline Richardson returned home last week after a pleasant trip to New York. Mayor Harley says that the people of New York are very enthusiastic over the war.

Mr. Harry G. Boylston, county demonstration agent, urges farmers to communicate with him as soon as their hogs show any signs of cholera infection. He will be glad to render them any assistance possible in combatting the disease.

CONFUSING CITY OF CAGNES
Tourists Find It Advantageous to Learn to Distinguish From Similar Name—Cannes.

American and English visitors to the Riviera soon come to know Cagnes by name, according to Harper's Magazine. It is a challenge to their ability to pronounce French—a challenge that must be accepted, if you are in the region of Grasse or Nice or Antibes. Two distinct tramway lines and several roads lead from Grasse to Cannes and Cagnes. Unless you are very careful you may find yourself upon the wrong route. Once on the Cagnes tramway, or well engaged upon the road to Cannes, when you had meant to go to Cannes, the mistake takes hours to rectify.

At Nice chauffeurs and cochers love to cheat you by the confusion of these two names. You bargain for the long trip to Cannes, and are attracted by the reasonable price quoted. In a very short time you are at Cagnes. The vehicle stops. Impossible to rectify your mispronunciation without a substantial increase of the original sum of the bargain. Antibes is between Cagnes and Cannes. Cagnes is nearer, and it is always to Cannes that you want to go. Spell the name or write it on a piece of paper if you are to be sure that you will be taken west instead of east.

Drum Major Necessary.
Indispensable is the drum major of a rural brass band, and the envy of the small boy is he as well. This functionary is about as servicable as a figurehead on a battleship, writes Zim in Cartoons Magazine, yet his duties are beyond estimation in keeping the tubas and trombones from stumbling into mud puddles and guiding the alleged musicians past refreshment emporiums. His success rests on the extent of his ability to twirl the stick over three-story buildings and catch it behind his back on its descent. He is to the band what the monkey is to a hand-organ. All eyes are upon him while the ears feast on the music. Big city bands often roam about the streets unescorted by a drum major and feel not at all discommoded by his absence, but a country band would not deem itself fit to be seen on parade without this distinguished appendage.

World's Greatest Weavers.
The ancient Indians of Peru are now regarded as the world's greatest weavers. This noteworthy revelation in the history of textile art is the result of the critical examination of many rich and beautiful tapestries and other fabrics executed by the gifted ancient Indian population of Peru. Though buried three centuries or more in the sandy desert after being made with primitive handlooms and other weaving implements, these wonderful fabrics are now found to be superior to those turned out by the automatic looms of the great mills of today. The primitive Peruvian handloom consisted of two sticks, one at the top and one at the bottom.
