WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

No. 19

Question: Why is a used Buick the next best buy to a new Buick?

Answer: Because the correctness of Buick design and the quality of Buick manufacture are not altered by use. A used Buick is a better investment than many new cars of other makes.

In Memoriam.

On March 24th, 1852, a little babe was born in the home of the late David and Felina Lane and soon she grew into girlhood, thence to womanhood, for this girl was no other than our deceased friend, Mrs. Missouri Lane Anderson.

In the year 1867, she was married to Mr. G. W. Anderson and for 58 years they lived most congenially together and were faithful in every respect to their marital vows. To this union were born several children.

Early in life Mrs. Anderson became converted, and was baptised into full membership of the Joyce Branch Baptist Church, near Dunbarton, of which she proved to be a most faithful member until she answered the summons of her Master; "Child of God, in my Father's house are many mansions, there is Peace for you in this home I've prepared, come home." She was also a consistent member of the Womans' Missionary Society.

She will be greatly missed in every phase of life, but truly can it be said of her, "to live with Christ, and to die was gain." While her gain is our loss, may we realize "that all things work together for good to those that love God" and "Whom the Lord loveth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth every soul that receiveth Him."

Words are inadequate to describe her loyalty as a friend, a helpmate, a mother, but her high Christian character and influence stand out prominently in the lives of her seven children who survive her. These are: Mrs. Byron Baughman, Mrs. H. J. Moody, Mrs. Lawrence Drummond, Mrs. Lee All, Mrs. George Kneese, Messrs. Gary and Heyward Anderson, all of Dunbarton, and whose sweet privilege it was to be with their mother during her long weeks of suffering.

Mrs. Anderson was a friend to all who needed her. She clearly displayed her Lord's religion towards the motherless, fatherless, and widow. "To know her was to love her," can truly be said of her. She suffered so patiently for nine weeks, and with all that medical aid and loving hands could do, the dear Lord say it was best to remove her, for He had a better place for her, a place of peace and love, one free from all pain, and "there is no night there."

"When I go-home, it will be evening, And I shall hear my loved ones sing; And see the lighted rooms and take my place As one of them in that sweet time of grace. When I go home I shall be very tired Of struggling for the things that I desired; But I shall be content to end my quest Gaining the best things, peace, love and rest. When I go home I shall be travel-stained, For winds have beaten me, and storms have rained. And earth has clung to me by vale and hill. But God will take me in and love me still. When I go home—Oh, will it not be Heaven To be restored, accepted, loved and forgiven? Sorrow and sighing are for those who roam; I shall find my bliss when I get home." For Mrs. Anderson there was no fear of going Home, so great was her faith and she knew that all was well with her and that her Heavenly Father would lead her by the hand thru the dark valley of the Shadow of Death to meet her dear little ones who had preceded her to the grave some years ago, and who in bright angelic forms were waiting and watching at the Beautiful Gate for her as she would enter. What a joyous meeting! How happy she must be today to be reunited again with her dear ones who had gone before.

How strange it seems that on Mothers' Day, May 10th, she a much loved mother should slip away, and her soul should wing its way into the Great Beyond.

On the following day funeral services were held in her late home amidst a concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends, who had gathered to pay their last sad rites to one whom they loved and honored. A former pastor, Rev. Guy Martin, of Allendale, was in charge of the services and spoke some beautiful and comforting thoughts.

The remains of Mrs. Anderson were thence conveyed to the Joyce Branch cemetery, and laid to rest until the "final Judgment," beneath a mound of flowers. These being only small tokens of love and esteem expressed by the friends and loved ones of the deceased.

She leaves to mourn her loss a devoted husband, seven children, thirteen grandchildren and a host of relatives and friends who will miss her ever welcome smile and cheerful face.

May we realize that He who gave was the one that has taken, and how in humble submission to His will and say: "Go, spirit of the departed dead, Go, to thy longed for happy home! The tears of men are o'er thee shed; The voice of angels bid thee come; Tho' cast down we're not forsaken; Tho' afflicted not alone; God didst give, and He has taken; Blessed Lord, "Thy will be done."

Tho' today we're filled with morning, Tho' today we're filled with mourning, Mercy still is on the throne; With the smiles of love returning, We can sing "Thy Will Be Done," One Who Knew Her.

Eubanks-Lancaster. Oar, June 14.—Sunday afternoon, June 14, at the Methodist parsonage at Olar, Miss Mae Allen Eubanks became the bride of Lewis Henry Lancaster of Denmark.

The beautiful ring ceremony of the Methodist church was used by the Rev. C. P. Chewing, pastor of the bride, who officiated.

Only a few close friends were present and immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon trip of several days, after which they will be at home to their friends at Govan.

Is Your Work Hard?

Many Barnwell Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier.

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back? Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn?

There is no peace from that dull ache. No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.

Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Barnwell people recommend Doan's. C. C. Owens, drayman, Barnwell, says: "Jolting while riding on the wagon irritated my kidneys and they acted irregularly. I became lame and my back was stiff and sore. My kidneys acted too freely and I had to get up several times at night. The secretions were highly colored and contained sediment. I went to the Best Pharmacy and got Doan's Pills. Doan's relieved me in a short time."

THE SOUTHERN SERVES THE SOUTH

Railroad service that profits all of us

On the Southern Railway System last year we hauled seven million tons of farm products. We carried back to the farms a great volume of things that the farmer gets in exchange for his products.

This is a big part of the day's work of our 8,000 miles of lines, stretching across the South from the Potomac to the Mississippi.

Farm prosperity means prosperity for us. To give the best service, at rates which will enable our shippers to sell their products in the markets at a good profit, and which will enable us to make a fair profit, too, is a fundamental policy of the Southern Railway System. Did you ever stop to think how much better service the Southern has given you in recent years since it was relieved from financial starvation? That is part of your share in our prosperity.
