PLAN HOME GUARD.

Organization of Regiment Under Way. Baker to Cooperate.

Columbia, Aug. 31.-The organization of a regiment of State militia for service solely within the limits of the State, will be taken up by Governo: Manning in conference with the secretary of war and governors of New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia at an early date. Preliminary steps have already been taken and the matter has been brought to the attention of the war college in Washington.

The committee comprising the proposed regiment will be formed only in those communities which are anxious to form such organizations and which will guarantee to give them financial support. The officers will be designated and appointed by the governor. The arrangements so far made are purely tentative and are contingent upon the approval of the secretary of war and the assistance of the federal government.

The general plan is to organize a regiment of infantry, the members of which will subscribe to oaths rendergovernor for use solely within the authority to call upon them for serv-Mr. C. F. "The same conditions we confronts the authorities of er States," said governor Manvery ning today "There is apparent need for the authorities to have at their command a mobile force for use solely within each State. The organization of "Home Guards" would not be a sufficient check as they could be used of the Germans. only in the localities in which they are formed. Furthermore, there is some doubt as to how far the federal government would go in extending recognition to them in the matter of equipment.

"With the State milita, however, which would have its central body of control, the probability is that the government will extend recognition and render the necessary assistance after the regular army, the National Army and the federalized National Guard have been equipped.

"I intend to go to Washington in the near future when I shail present the matter in full to the secretary of war and obtain from him such assurance as the war college has seen fit to grant.'

The Retort Courteous!

A few years ago, while watching a Prof. Robert F. Goodwin was in parade in Boston in which the Stars and Stripes were conspicuous, a fair foreigner with strong tnai-American proclivities turned to a companion and, commenting on the display, pettishly remarked:

'That American flag makes me sick It looks just like a peice of checker-

RUSSIANS EVACUATE IMPORTANT POST ON GULF OF RIGA.

Opens the Road to Petrogad for the German Armies.—Austrians Lose 128,000 Men.

Riga, Russia's big port on the Gulf of Riga, is in the hands of the Germans and its garrison and the civilian population are in retreat east-

Following up rapidly the advantage they gained in driving the Russians 5 across the Dvina river on both sides 5 of Uskull last Saturday, the Germans 6 threw bridges across this stream and 6 soon were on the heels of the former 6 defenders, some of whom offered re- 6 sistance, but others of whom showed 62 the white feather, giving the invad- 6 ers no trouble in marching up the 6 eastern bank of the Dvina toward 6 Riga, fifteen miles distant. Seeing 6 the disaffection and the inability to 6 stem the tide of the advance, the 6 Russian commander ordered an evacuation.

Between Two Fires.

With the falling back of the Russians from the city proper and the advance of the Germans northward along both sides of the stream, the Russians still defending the western bank around Dahlen, seemingly are the two fast moving bodies of the enemy and made prisoner.

Behind them the Russians in their retreat from Riga are laying, the country in waste, burning village's and farms. Whether the city itself remains intact has not yet been made known, but doubtless the guns in the fortress and the ammunition stores either were removed or destroyed to prevent them falling into the hands

Value of Position.

Aside from the strategic value of controlling the Gulf of Riga, and of a base nearer the mouth of the Gulf of Finland, at the head of which Petrogad is situated, for the moment it is impossible to see the importance of the German gain, especially with the near approach of winter, when military operations in this northern region are almost impossible.

On none of the other fronts have there been operations of great moment, except the Austro-Italian theatre where the Italians have made further progress on the Bainsizza plateau and in the Brestovizza valley and at various points along the line have repulsed fresh counter-attacks launched by Austrians. Throughout this entire theatre violent artillery duels are in progress from Tolmino to the sea.

Heavy Austrian Losses.

Advices to the Italian embassy in Washington are to the effect that in the present offensive the Austrians have lost more than 128,000 men. Reports from Udine, Italy, give the Austrian losses as one-third of the first line army.

The batteries of Field Marshal Haig are still pouring an incessant fire against the German trenches in Flanders, but as yet the anticipated new dash by his men to capture them has not started. Doubtless the knocking down of the defences has not reached the limits which the British commander always requires before he throws his infantrymen into the fray.

On the remainder of the front in the west, held by the British, there have been the usual trench-raiding operations, in one of which south of Monachy-Le-Preux German dugouts and machine guns were destroyed and some prisoners taken.

Artillery duels, which are somewhat violent in the Verdun region, are taking place along the front where the French are facing the Germans. No infantry actions of importance have occurred.

Condition of Cotton Crop 69.6

New York, Aug. 29.—August is generally a month of deterioration for the cotton and the 2,040 reports received from special correspondents an average date August show a decline of 3.7 points, compared with a loss of 10.1 points a year ago and 6.6 points in 1915. The severe decline in Texas of 14.4 points is wholly responsible for the loss, since all other States show gains, with the exception of Florida and South Carolina, which remained unchanged.
