Cope Clippings.

Cope, Dec. 12.—The Mission Study class met at the home of Mrs. W. O. Tatum last Tuesday afternoon. The lesson, which was intensively interesting and instructive, was taught by Mrs. Chas. Henery in her usual efficient manner. At the close of the lesson period the hostess, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Darby, served a delicious sweet course.

Rev. and Mrs. Easterling were tendered a pounding last Monday night by the members of his church. Quite a number were present and passed a pleasant hour at the parsonage.

The Truth Seekers' Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Glenn Cope last Friday night. Twenty of the 23 members were present. A delightful Christmas programme was rendered. Deserving special mention was a vocal solo, "Dear Little Stranger," by Dell Brickie, and a quartette, "Silent Night," by Effie Lee Garrick, Henry Ella Valentine, Eleanor Croft and Madeline Thomas. The hostess, assisted by Misses Darby and Johnson, served a salad course with Russian tea.

A great many of our people are still suffering with malaria, and now the "flu" has come again. However, we are hoping that all of the sick ones will soon recover, and be ready to eat Christmas turkey and fruit cake.

Train Hits Car Taking Life.

Kingstree, Dec. 8.—Roland Floyd, 29, and Leland Floyd, a young brother, drove their car into fast train, No. 83, at a crossing at Cades, nine miles north of this place, this morning. Roland Floyd was killed instantly while Leland was seriously injured. He was brought here on the train and is now in the Kelley sanitarium, where an X-ray will be made tonight to determine the extent of his injuries, as he is not resting so well as he was earlier in the day. Roland Floyd was married and is survived by his wife and several children.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL'S APPRECIATION OF THE REV. AND MRS. S. O. CANTEY.

Near the close of the Sunday school hour at Trinity Methodist church, the past Sunday, our superintendent announced that Miss Creighton had a matter to bring before the school: We sat up with our ears open to catch what the speaker had to say to us. Close attention was given to resolutions that had been offered for our departing pastor and his charming wife. These resolutions were adopted by our school. Then one of the young men, who is a student at Carlisle, read, in our hearing, resolutions that had been prepared by the committee for the Busy Workers' class, voicing the appreciation of the young men of the life and teaching of their teacher and friend, who had been called to another field of work. After this young man sat down, Mrs. Kirsch, the president of the Ladies' Bible class, arose to say that she felt that she voiced the thanks of the women of this class for what our pastor had accomplished. Time and again our pastor has been the need of a ladies' class, but for one reason and another they did not see a class of this kind set to work. It was given to the Reverend S. O. Cantey "to bring things to pass." He was not in Bamberg long before he urged us to organize our women for Bible study and Christian science. Mrs. Kirsch said that the successful efforts of our pastor in bringing about the organization, which folks say has accomplished a vast deal during these past three years, will ever stand as a fitting memorial to the Rev. Mr. Cantey. We have decided that we could not show forth our gratitude to our former pastor who leaves us this week to take up his work anew in a new place, nor can we honor him more than by naming the Ladies' Bible class, The Cantey Bible class.

As the days come and go we shall remember the Rev. and Mrs. Cantey, who were indeed regular and faithful workers in our Sunday school, and who surely carried the work of this branch of the church very close to their hearts. We are sure that it must be with sad hearts that Mrs. Cantey's splendid class of girls gives her up.

We wish the fellow-workers happiness and Godspeed.

Resolutions.

Whereas, the South Carolina conference has seen it fit to remove to another charge our pastor, S. O. Cantey, now therefore, be it resolved by the Sunday school of Trinity Methodist church:

First: That we lose in him an earnest, consecrated and faithful friend and co-worker.

Second: That our prayers and best wishes shall follow him in his new field of work.

Third: That we shall always be grateful for his Christian influence among us.

Fourth: That we give him a large portion of the credit for our development during the past three years.

Fifth: That we have received a heavy blow to the activities of the church, in the removal of his wife who has been a faithful untiring worker whenever and wherever asked to work.

Sixth: That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Bamberg papers, in the Southern Christian Advocate and the Sunday school secretary's record.
