CHRISTMAS GREETINGS!

The Herald management takes this opportunity to extend its best wishes to its subscribers, readers, advertisers and all others who contribute to the making of the paper for a very merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous new year. The Herald has not rested on a bed of roses during the year now coming to a close, but we still have our head up. We look forward to the coming year as one of the better conditions for all our people.

We trust that each of our friends will have a most enjoyable holiday season. We also trust that each one of the many children who have written Santa Claus his or her wishes will have each wish fulfilled.

As usual, The Herald office will be closed on Christmas day. We will be on the job again early Tuesday morning, and each morning thereafter until next Christmas, ready, willing and anxious to serve our patrons to the best of our ability.

We also take this occasion to thank our friends for their liberal patronage, considering the stress of the times, during the year. We trust that we have been of service to each one who has contributed to the business of this office.

Merry Christmas!

FINE RESULTS OBTAINED BY USING NITRATE OF SODA

Augusta Chronicle.

Results obtained by the use of nitrate of soda in the raising of cotton under boll weevil conditions as demonstrated in experiments conducted in this immediate section by T. H. Bonner, field representative of the Chilean Nitrate Company have been compiled and a few of them are given below.

The results of the experiments are considered as indicative of the fact that the cotton yield can be increased under boll weevil conditions by the proper use of nitrate of soda. The results of the experiments follow:

George W. Wingate, Hephzibah, Richmond county, took an acre of land and applied to it 500 lbs., of a 9-2-3 fertilizer and half this acre, he applied 100 lbs. nitrate of soda both at planting time. The half acre where nitrate was applied he picked 717 lbs. of good cotton, and on the half acre where no nitrate was applied he picked 163 lbs. seed cotton or a gain of 554 lbs. seed cotton per half acre.

R. R. Vallonton, Grovetown, Columbia county, applied to his acre 400 lbs. of a 9-3-3 fertilizer and on half this acre he applied 75 lbs., of nitrate, both at planting time. The half acre where nitrate was applied he picked 589 lbs., seed cotton and on the half acre where no nitrate was applied he picked 385 lbs., of seed cotton or a gain of 240 lbs., per half acre.

J. E. Gibbs, Grovetown, Columbia county, applied to his acre 200 lbs., of a 9-3-3 fertilizer and on half this acre he applied 75 lbs., nitrate both at planting time. And picked from the half acre with nitrate 450 lbs., seed cotton while from the half acre without nitrate he only picked 240 lbs., seed cotton or a gain of 209 lbs., per acre.

B. T. Smith, Carnesville, Franklin county, applied to his acre 200 lbs., of a 10-2-2 fertilizer and to half this acre he applied 100 lbs., nitrate both at planting time, and picked from the half acre with nitrate 599 lbs., seed cotton, while from the half acre without nitrate he picked 402 lbs., seed cotton or a gain of 197 lbs., per acre.

T. D. Brown, Martin Route No. 1 Franklin county, applied to his acre 200 lbs., of a 7-2-0 fertilizer and to half this acre he applied 100 lbs., of nitrate both at planting time, and picked from the half acre with nitrate 629 lbs., seed cotton, while the half acre without nitrate he picked 418 lbs. seed cotton, or a gain of 211 lbs per half acre.

The average yield per acre is 1250 lbs., while the average yield without nitrate is 709 lbs., or a gain of 507 lbs., by using a sack of nitrate per acre at planting time.

Fred Blackman, Tignall, Wilkes county, applied to his acre 100 lbs., of a 9-3-3 fertilizer and on half this acre he applied 100 lbs., nitrate both at planting time, and picked from the half acre with nitrate 858 lbs., seed cotton, while from the half acre without nitrate he picked 492 lbs., seed cotton or a gain of 366 211 lbs., per half acre.
