FRIDAY, JULY 16, 1920

A school in easy reach of every child and every child in school should be two of the objects constantly aimed at by our people.

Eighty-five dollars has been received on our fund to help the babies. We are waiting a day or two to see if the fund will not grow to an even hundred dollars before sending it to the proper authorities. Monday we propose forwarding the amount, whatever it may be.

A new hotel for Union is going to be a very urgent need. We did not begin the movement a day too soon. In fact, it is probable that for a period Union will be without any hotel whatever. It is very well that the committee in charge of the building of the new hotel has seriously taken up the matter of putting through the enterprise.

One of the dangers of commercial prosperity is the often resulting neglect of matters pertaining to citizenship. This may be seen in the utter indifference that is being shown in the matter of enrolling. Many, very many, are going to be debarred from voting at the coming primary simply because they would not show sufficient interest to enroll. Go to your nearest voting precinct and place your name on the club roll. This applies to all. You must register this year or you cannot vote. Don't blame anyone save yourself if you fail to perform this duty.

The equipment for the Venereal Clinic has arrived and this very important movement will soon be in operation. Those who have studied the conditions not only here but throughout the whole country, are united in their support of this very great undertaking. Ignorance is the twin brother of vice. One of the wise things about this movement to fight venereal diseases is that it proposes to educate the people concerning such matters. The ignorance concerning well-nigh every phase of the greatest scourge that has ever afflicted mankind is simply astonishing.

The new political party organized at Chicago is a conglomeration of all sorts of disgruntled elements that can never fuse into a compact whole. The various groups cannot show a united front and the party will fail of its own internal dissension. The agitator, so long as he is merely an agitator, puts up a very plausible front. But when faced with having to put his wild theories into fact he finds it much more easier to be destructive than constructive. Out of the follies of the two old political parties there may come a revolt that will lead to a strong third party but in our humble judgment the Chicago product will not be that party.

Fifteen tons of General Wood's campaign literature were sold to a Chicago junk dealer for $650.
