YESTERDAY'S FEATURE OF HOME INSTITUTE BEING CONDUCTED HERE

That the Home Institute, being conducted at the graded school, under the auspices of the Home Demonstration Work, in charge of that wonderful and most able leader, Miss Ma-hala J. Smith, is attracting increased attention goes without saying. Yesterday afternoon was perhaps one of the very best features of this whole event. Every effort is being made most successfully to present the va-rious features of rural life in form of lessons indellibly impressed by the strong corps of teachers. In fact, the whole occasion has been so well planned and carried out that it would do honor to any state.

The following schedule was carried out late yesterday afternoon and evening: Home beautification with flowers, by Miss Lois V. Watkins, district agent for Piedmont section, after which the young people were guests of the Rialto Theatre. Then came a trip through the office of the Union Times, where a cordial welcome was extended and the new features of this splendid and rapidly developing enterprise were explained in detail.

Later came supper at the school followed by games on the play-grounds, in which adult and child took part with equal interest. At 8 o'clock a number of stereopticon slides were shown dealing with the important features of club work and rural life in which much interest was

This was followed by club songs recitations and stories led by Mrs. Hughes Johnson and the Misses Bailey, Watkins, Fuller and Winn, each evidencing decided talent and ability to hold the interest of the

The conception and carrying out of such an institute certainly reflects great credit upon all concerned, particularly Miss Smith, whose wonderful efficiency cannot be rated in dollars.

lars and cents.

Miss Smith is to be congratulated upon securing such able assistance and our entire adult population would have profited by attendance at each session had facilities for handling.

session had facilities for handling the crowd been sufficient. To make the occasion complete "Mother Walker" was present, a lady who long since has endeared herself to every county and community in South Carolina, particularly through her wonderful personality and efficiency, and to whom tribute was paid by each teacher.

The features of today's exercises will appear in tomorrow's Times.

When the curtain drops this afternoon on this Home Institute there will be recorded in the history of Union county one of the greatest occasions ever held here pointing out in a definite and concrete way the practical side of rural life, what may be done, and the way to higher realms.

THE FANTS

OF ANDERSON

The chautauqua advance man came in when he reached the city to get his bearings. He asked who had charge of the chautauqua sales, he was told Mr. Rufus Fant, then he asked who the mayor of the city was, the answer was Mr. Foster Fant, then the secre-tary of the chamber of commerce and answer again was a Mr. Fant-Arlington P. Fant. Then he wanted to know of the women who were backing the chautauqua, and he was told Mrs. Rufus Fant. Sr., is president of the Federation of Women's Clubs for South Carolina, she is also president of the civic associations of this city who took the responsibility of bringing the chautauqua here this year Mrs. Rufus Fant, Jr., is president of the Dixie Chapter U. D. C., Mrs. Theo. Fant is president of the R. E. Lee chapter, Miss Wilhelmina Fant is president of the daughters of Winthrop College. This is some prominence for one family and few people of this city realized that so many honors had been given them until this information was asked for.—Anderson Daily Mail.

IN YACHT RACE

Sandy Hook N. J., July 23.—Fog today delayed the start of the fourth international yacht race.

While the two cup sloops were loit ing around the Ambrose Channel Light Ship at 11:30 in a four knot breeze, a thick bank of vapor enclosed them, causing the regatta committee at 11:45 to order a fifteen minutes postponement.

An eight knot southwesterly breeze was blowing at 8:00 o'clock and with passing to sea of an all night rain storm, prospects for todays international cup race were good.
