

TROOPS WILL BE ORDERED OUT IF ORDER IS NOT MAINTAINED

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 31.—Gov. Cameron Morrison late tonight stated he had advised James F. Barrett, president of the state federation of labor, that troops would be sent to Concord tomorrow if disorders occur in connection with the textile strike situation there. The governor this afternoon called Mr. Barrett into conference and advised him that disorder in connection with the strike must be stopped at all hazards and order maintained. The governor expressed a hope that the disturbance this morning was temporary in character and that the situation would yield itself to order.

Governor Morrison was emphatic in his denunciation of persons creating disorder and said that the disturbance of the peace and intimidation of persons desiring to work must be stopped immediately or troops will be dispatched there to preserve order.

Governor Morrison will leave Asheville at 5 o'clock in the morning to meet Adj. Gen. Van B. Meets of the state militia, in Charlotte before noon for the purpose of deciding as to action on a request from Concord and Cabarrus authorities that troops again be dispatched to the textile strike zone.

Request that state troops again be sent to Concord because of conditions arising out of the textile strike in progress there were today received by the governor from C. L. Spear, sheriff of Cabarrus county, J. W. Womble, mayor of Concord and C. A. Robinson, chief of police at Concord, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Governor Morrison also received telephone communications and telegrams from several citizens of Cabarrus county requesting that troops be returned to the strike zone.

The message, signed by the sheriff, mayor and chief of police, said: "Conditions in Concord and vicinity are again beyond the control of the city and county authorities. Three hundred strikers congregated at Brown mill, forcibly restraining men and women from going to work. Respectfully and earnestly request you call military company to be ordered out immediately to maintain order and preserve life."

According to information received by the governor, disorders have occurred daily this week at the Brown and Norcott mills and crowds have congregated about the strike mills, that at the Norcott mill a man and woman were assaulted as they went to work. He was also told that a woman had to fight her way through a crowd to get into the mill to work this morning. Operatives in one room of the Norcott mill had to be removed today, the management reported, because bricks had been hurled into the room.

A telegram signed by 14 professional and business men of the city of Concord, received by Governor Morrison, is as follows:

"Situation here again serious. Local officials admit they can not control situation. We think presence of troops necessary."

President F. M. Sloop of the local union of textile workers and L. M. Barnhardt, member executive council of United Textile Workers of America, tonight issued a statement that they had done all in their power to maintain law and order in the strike zone and that employees of the Brown and Norcott mills want to return to work under the agreement reached with C. W. Johnston, owner, on Tuesday. The union officials entered denials that bricks have been hurled into the Norcott mill.

President James E. Barrett of the State Federation of Labor stated tonight that he would leave early in the morning for Concord, and that the latest difficulties there arose over the demand of the superintendents of the Brown and Norcott mills that every employee apply for his or her old position, which, he asserted, does not comply with the proposition made by Mr. Johnston.

Party for Fall Brides

Mrs. J. W. Mixson was hostess Wednesday afternoon, complimenting the fall brides, Mrs. Malphus and Mrs. Webb Alman.

The rooms were filled with blooming plants and ferns and tables were arranged here for bridge. Prizes were given and Mrs. Theodore Maddox won the first prize, a dainty hand embroidered handkerchief, and Mrs. F. H. Garner drew the consolation, also a beautiful handkerchief.

Mrs. Mixson presented the brides with huge spoons and said although married; their spooning days were not over and they must continue to stir.

Ices and cake were served by Miss Helen. Maper Mixson, the young daughter of the household, and numbers of young people enjoyed Mrs. Mixson's gracious hospitality.

The Sunday school class of Mr. Ben L. Berry had their annual picnic at Bald Rock last week, and all report an enjoyable time.

A Request

Several members of the William Wallace Chapter and some outsiders have been kind enough to type some historical papers for our chapter without charge.

"If there is any one else who can do some work of this kind for us, between now and September 15 it will be greatly appreciated."

Mrs. J. W. Mixson.

THREE MAY LEAVE HARDING CABINET

By Hugh W. Roberts
Washington, Aug. 31.—Washington, as a topic of common gossip, is now discussing the future disintegration of the cabinet of "supermen," with the same interest and assurance that Washington discussed some months ago, its organization. Briefly, it is understood that:

(1) Secretary Mellon of the department of the treasury, finds the financial affairs of the government less interesting than his own, and that as soon as the pending fiscal legislation is completed, he will ask to be permitted to return to the field of personal operation.

(2) Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general of the United States, will, in the near future offer his resignation to the president, and return to private practice, as result of which he hopes to accumulate a fortune against old age.

(3) Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, is not satisfied with his opportunity of rendering vital and spectacular service as the head of a comparatively minor department, and that for his attitude as a "mute inglorious Milton," he holds the chief executive in part responsible.

The Mellon report is denied, but it is a matter of discussion just the same. It is said that Hoover is not "sore" with the president, but that he longs for an operation in which he holds practically unlimited power. He is sponsoring Henry Ford as a bidder for the government's properties at Muscle Shoals, and is said to be chafing under the delay of the secretary of war in reaching a conclusion.

It is regarded as true that the attorney general will retire. He is 65 years of age, and it was generally understood from the beginning that he would not complete his term. He will return to a large practice with the prestige of having served as attorney general of the United States. As a member of the Harding cabinet, he has been regarded as the chief political adviser. He scored a success in this field far superior to that of Albert Burtleson, who played the same role in the cabinet of President Wilson.

His successor to Mr. Daugherty, Guy D. Coff is discussed. Coff is son of former Senator Nathan Coff of West Virginia. He was formerly counsel for the United States shipping board, and is now assistant attorney general.

In this connection, Secretary Hughes of the state department is said to be entirely satisfied. He is perhaps the most important figure in Washington. In the beginning, however, it was regarded as certain that he would ask for relief as soon as the administration got well under "sail."

Notice to Wm. Wallace Chapter U. D. C.

The time for sending in papers to the Historical Department, U. D. C., has been extended to September 20. If there is any member of the William Wallace chapter who has a paper please send it to the historian, Mrs. J. W. Mixson.

Indian Voters Kidnapped

Buenos Aires, Aug. 31.—La Vanguardia, the organ of the Socialist party, tells a curious story of the kidnapping of 80 Indian voters in a recent election in the province of Jujuy in the north of Argentina. The Indians, says the newspaper, were taken to the home of a candidate for the Chamber of Deputies and kept prisoner for three days in a cellar in which there was a wooden image of the Virgin.

The candidate finally entered and exacted an oath that the prisoners would vote for him. They were carried off to vote.

PREDICT HIGHER COTTON PRICES

By Hugh W. Roberts
Washington, Aug. 31.—All prophets agree that conditions are such that the supply and demand of cotton will result in advanced prices the coming fall campaign. Gov. W. P. G. Harding of the federal reserve board in a statement released for publication today declares that in July and August there was further deterioration of the cotton crop, and the smallest crop produced since 1907.

Senator Heflin of Alabama, Democrat, issues today the following statement:

"We have consumed and exported more than 11,000,000 bales of cotton since July, 1920. Southern cotton mills have made heavy inroads on the low grade cotton produced in 1920. The cotton of that crop now remaining unsold is mostly high grade cotton.

"The cotton crop this year will be in the neighborhood of 7,000,000 bales; April, May, June and July of next year will see the smallest supply of and the greatest demand for American cotton that the world has witnessed in a long, long time. Germany's demand for American cotton is growing in leaps and bounds. One of the largest cotton producers in the United States is now in Germany arranging for the direct sales of American cotton to German interests. The small crop, the increasing demand and the aid furnished the cotton producer by the war finance board is bound to advance cotton prices.

"The cotton crop showed further deterioration during July and the early part of August as a result of excessive moisture, which caused rust and encouraged the activities of the boll weevil. On July 25 the condition of the United States cotton crop was 64.7 per cent of a full normal as compared with 69.2 per cent on June 25 and 74.1 per cent on July 25. The estimated total cotton production based on estimate of July 25, is 8,203,000 bales which is 5,163,000 bales less than the production in 1920, and is the smallest cotton output since 1899.

District No. 5 (Richmond) states that the cotton crop in South Carolina, except the Piedmont counties, has been seriously damaged by rain and the ravages of the boll weevil, whereas the crops of Virginia and North Carolina are in better condition.

The boll weevil is active in practically every part of District No. 6 (Atlanta). The season is about two weeks late in Georgia and Louisiana, and the crop is underized wherever it is not seriously hurt.

At the home of the Belcher woman and began shooting. He fired once through the wall and once through each of two windows. The two year old child was killed instantly. The woman bled to death.

October	15.97	17.36
December	16.33	17.70

N. Y. Spots 17.50
Local market 16.50

Government report on condition of cotton crop, August '25 is 49.3, the forecast yield per acreage 127.0. Indicated total production, 7,037,000 bales.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The government experts say that the cotton condition for Aug. 25 is the lowest of any month in the history of industry. The damage is greatest in the area of central Oklahoma to north central Texas. It is thought declines of ten to twenty points show in southern South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama.

New Orleans, Sept. 1.—Cotton went up eight dollars and a half a bale as a result of the government report.

New York, Sept. 1.—Cotton advanced $5.00 a bale.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The decline of the cotton crop condition during August caused the reduction of 1,000,166 bales, making the estimated production 7,037,000 bales.

THREE KILLED NEAR GREENWOOD

Greenwood, Aug. 31.—As a result of a series of homicides in this county last night, Willie C. Herring, a thirty-three year old man, is dead, shot to death by Policeman T. E. Dukes of Ninety-Six after Herring had shot six times at officers; and two negroes, a woman and a two year old child, had been shot to death by Nathan Wardlaw, a negro, who shot last night in a fit of jealousy. Sheriff E. M. White and his deputies are looking for Mr. Herring, charged with a third shooting, in which W. C. Hill, keeper of a country store on the Greenwood Saluda line, was slightly wounded in the face this morning with shot from a shotgun.

Willie C. Herring, the former service man, who was shot, had stopped in the business section of Ninety-Six late yesterday afternoon, according to the officers, and was cursing and creating a disturbance in the streets. Officers T. E. Dukes and J. C. Rush started toward the scene and Herring began firing at them as they approached. He is said to have shot four times at Officer Rush, the officer returning his fire, aiming at his feet in the hope of forcing him to surrender without killing him, the officer declared.

Officer Dukes covered Herring with his gun and ordered him to surrender after being shot at once. Herring is alleged to have thrown up his hands, exclaiming, "I won't hurt you, Mr. Dukes." The officer dropped his gun to his side, and as he did so, Herring is said to have lowered his own gun, firing directly at the officer's head. Officer Dukes dodged and returned the fire, the bullet taking effect in Herring's abdomen. The wounded man was brought to the Greenwood hospital last night, but died shortly after midnight. He had been treated for the effects of gas received on the French front. His twin brother, Jimmie Herring, was killed in France and he was severely gassed and shell shocked.

The police officers came to Greenwood and surrendered to the sheriff this morning.

Andrella Belcher and her two year old niece, Tommie Romans, negroes, were shot to death about 10 o'clock last night near Hodges in this county. Nathan Wardlaw, according to his own confession, he shot them this morning and lodged in the local jail. Andrella Belcher, the dead woman, and her sister, Margaret Romans, were also shot by the same man, but not seriously hurt. Wardlaw is now in the jail at Ninety-Six.

At the home of the Belcher woman and began shooting. He fired once through the wall and once through each of two windows. The two year old child was killed instantly. The woman bled to death.

FIRING IN WEST VIRGINIA TOWN; THREE CASUALTIES IN SHERIFF'S RANKS

POOR COTTON CROP IN SOUTH

Washington, Aug. 31.—The condition of the cotton crop continues poor in most of the states, according to the national weather and crop bulletin issued today. "Shedding" was reported in Alabama, Alabama and central North Carolina," the bulletin says, "and weevil activity was retarded by dry weather in Florida and Texas, but much damage continues, except in northern portions of the belt. Army worms are reported in Arkansas.

"Cotton deteriorated in portions of Oklahoma and much of Texas," the bulletin continued, "the progress during the week was rather slow in other portions, except in Tennessee, northern Arkansas and southern North Carolina, where the weather was fairly favorable. The bolls opened rapidly and picking and ginning were in progress in all the southern and some central portions of the belt, this work make rapid progress in Texas.

"Little or no rain fell in most northern, central and western parts of the cotton belt. Scattered light to moderate showers occurred from central Texas eastward to the Atlantic coast. The temperature was below normal in the eastern part of the belt, about normal, or slightly above, in the central and southern parts, and much above normal in the northwestern portion."

Sept. 1.—Massed troops, armed, are gathered at the coal fields apparently waiting for when martial law will be declared throughout the coal fields. No indications are reached by the government officials that the Harding proclamation ordering dispersal will be complied with.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Proclamation decreeing martial law in Logan and other nearby counties of West Virginia was signed and ready for promulgation on receipt of adverse advice from Governor Harbo.

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 1.—Approximately one hundred and fifty six ex-service men were recruited and left today for Logan to join the sheriff's force.

Logan, W. Va., Sept. 1.—Conflicting armed forces in the hills are fighting men for the bands around the mine.

Logan, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Logan authorities tonight announced that a telegram had been sent to Washington stating that unless troops were sent at once the county would be attacked by between 4,000 and 6,000 men. Sheriff Chafin at the same time issued the following statement to newspaper men:

"There has been more or less continuous firing on four points of the line today. The points are Beech creek, Blair, Crooked creek and Mill creek."

"Casualties, according to the best reports we can obtain, were limited to three in the defensive force of Logan county forces. John Coff, deputy sheriff, was killed. We have not received identification of the other two. One was a McDowell man, the other from Logan county. We have received no information as to the number killed on the opposing side. We know of one miner who was shot when striking our men. The most serious fighting was reported from the vicinity of Blair. At all points our forces succeeded in driving back the invaders."

"Our opponents advanced one mile in the Blair district but were driven back. In the Beech creek district they advanced one mile and there also were turned back. The heaviest fighting was in the Peck's Hill district, where they advanced two miles along with creek. Here we also drove them back. We have 1,200 men at our disposal."

points including Bluefield, Williamson, McDowell and Huntington. I have heard nothing of the fate of the deputies held prisoners, but I fear for them. That is all I can say at this time."

The announcement that an appeal had been made to the federal government to hasten dispatch of troop was made by officials at the court house, while the sheriff was talking to the newspaper men.

Tonight's reports indicated quiet prevailed on Blair mountain late in the day but that on Crooked creek firing, which began at 10 o'clock this morning, continued.

Many families living along Mill creek were moving away from the boundary line and seeking shelter in the interior of Logan county.

According to reports brought in from the hills tonight similar reports were received from other parts of the border.

Another call for help was sent to neighboring counties tonight, authorities stated, adding that McDowell had another force of 400 on the way.

Word was received from Representative Goodykoontz at Washington late tonight, that he had advised the Washington government of the necessity of sending troops.
