Buying of French Francs ause of Present Condition

Paris, Oct. 25 (By the Associated Press).—The buying of dollars by the British banks with French francs in their possession is said by French financiers to be the principal cause of the present weakness of the franc. Dollars were used by British to pay interest on the war debt to the United States. Bankers and financial authorities of the government appear to be disturbed by the rise of the dollar and the pound.

STILLMAN CASE COSTS BIG SUMS

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.-Varied testimony as to Mrs. Catherine Rosier's motive for killing her husband, Oscar Rosier, and his young stenographer, was given today when the trial reach_ ed its most sensational development thus far. Mrs. Roster, who is under indictment for the killing of both, is being tried first for the murder of Miss Mildred Geraldine Reckitt, the stenographer. "I did it-I must have been crazy," one witness testified she had told him immediately after the shooting, which occurred in the office of Rosier's advertising agency.

To another she is said to have made the statement that she would not have committed the crime if she had not been intoxicated. Testimony was introduced yesterday to show that Arthur Rosier, brother of the slain man, and the defendant had been in a restaurant shortly before the shooting and had drunk wine.

Michael J. Toner, a policeman, told of a scene in the hospital where the girl, Mildred, smiled forgivingly on Mrs. Rosier from her death bed. Toner related how the dying girl, supported by two officers, was besought to say something to incriminate her slayer.

"No, I don't think she meant to shoot me," she said. "I know she did not mean to shoot me." Thereupon Mrs. Rosier bent and kissed the hand of the girl, said the witness. Mrs. Rosier, shaking with sobs, buried her face in her hands as this testimony was given. Alfred Layton of Pittsburgh, formerly a newspaper reporter, testified that Mrs. Rosier, mistaking him for a physician, fell on her knees, clasped her hands and begged him to save her husband's life. He said Mrs. Rosier had told of finding a diary containing romantic writings in Miss Reckitt's

Counsel for the defense objected to the question and was sustained by the court.

Taking another tack, the prosecutor asked Cline why he had armed himself. In self-defense, Cline answered. He denied that he had represented himself as "Mr. Ryan" when he telephoned the actor to come to his home. He said that when he confronted his wife with Bergen she broke down and confessed that he had drugged her in a Saranac Lake hotel anl then assaulted her.

Cline said that Bergen then admitted the charge, and said: "I'm a dirty dog, shoot me," and he ordered Gergen out of his house. "I had no idea of shooting him.

Cline testified. He said it was a remark of the actor's as he was bout to leave the house which infuriated him.
