Old Rites Attended Regent's Engagement Ceremonies

Tokio, Nov. 8.—At the formal engagement ceremonies of the Prince Regent to Princess Nagako Kuni which were held in front of the shrine of the Imperial Palace, Shinto rites of old Japan were renewed.

The Prince Regent, clad in a yellowish-brown court dress and wearing a "Drooping Cherry Crown" on the head, imparted the news of his engagement to the spirits of his ancestors.

A representative of the Emperor previously called at the Palace of Prince Kuni, who had formerly tendered his consent and received the customary presents of the Emperor and Empress to the parents of the future Crown Princess.

Princess Nagako also was decorated with the First Class Order of the Sacred Treasure and in the Hall of the Chrysanthemum of her palace received the Prince Regent's betrothal gift, a sword about a foot long, very simple but made by the most skillful sword maker of the country and decorated with the imperial crest.

From ancient times women of the samurai class or the nobility have owned a short sword as a symbol of "hastiness and a sign that they would choose death rather than dishonor. The gift of this sword holds the same significance as that of the engagement ring in foreign lands.

Exports to China Show Increase

Tokio, Nov. 8.—The total amount of Japan's trade with China during the month of September was $1,187,000 yen, of which exports were $2,862,000 yen and imports $3,319,000 yen, showing an excess of exports over imports by $1,549,000.

Rattlesnakes Grow Wild Near Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 9.—The oft-debated question of whether rattlesnakes grow wild in the vicinity of Chicago has been settled by Dr. Frank M. Woodruff, curator of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, in Lincoln Park, with the acquisition of a specimen captured this summer in the sand dunes at Miller Beach, near Gary, Ind.

The rattler, a three foot female with six rattlers and a button, belongs to the prairie type, or Crotalus Confluentus. Shortly after reaching the museum she gave birth to seven young snakes. Two died, one escaped and the other four, now some six or eight inches long, already have demonstrated on white mice that they are as deadly venomous as their mother.

Counterfeiters Busy in Japan

Tokyo, Nov. 8.—While the Japanese government is doing its utmost to withdraw from circulation the 50 sen notes issued as a war measure, replacing them with silver coins, there are some Japanese adopting an opposite course. The country has been flooded with counterfeit 50 sen notes. Some counterfeit 10 yen bank notes also are in circulation, which, being more cleverly made, are harder to distinguish from those issued by the Bank of Japan. The police also have discovered some counterfeit silver coins.

McSwain Thanks Voters

Greenville, S. C., Nov. 8, 1922. Editor Union Times, Union, S. C.

Dear Sir: Please let me thank through your columns the people of Union County for their loyal support of the nomination of the Democratic party at the general election on November 7.

It is very gratifying to receive such loyal support. I feel sure that there are more than mere historic and sentimental reasons for the unanimity of Democratic convictions in the South and in our particular part of it.

The policies of the Democratic party, both domestic and international, are of great economic value to the people of the South. Our section, as the producer of cotton, the greatest single factor in our international trade, is deeply concerned about the success of our foreign policy.

The isolation, the non-participation, and the provincialism of the Republican party, combined with a high protective tariff, have well-nigh killed out our foreign trade and have therefore well-nigh destroyed the foreign market for cotton.

If Democratic policies of sympathetic cooperation and enlightened self-interest, with a tariff for revenue only, were prevailing today, so as to make it possible for the foreign nations to buy our cotton, cotton would be selling on the streets of the Southern towns very probably at 40 cents per pound.

This demonstrates very closely and intimately the relations between the prosperity of the people of the South and right adjustment of our foreign relations.

The price of cotton determines the length of schools, the pay of teachers and preachers and the payment of debts to doctors, business men and bankers, the improvement of roads and streets, and all of the factors that go to make up civilization.

Let us all unite for a glorious victorious fight in 1924! Yours very respectfully, J. J. McSwain.

Red Cross Annual Roll Call

An appalling situation of suffering, involving hundreds of thousands of people who have been forced to flee from their homes in the Near East and to seek refuge in lands already burdened with care, has emphasized to the people of this country that the American Red Cross is our National Emergency Fund with which to meet great crises in disaster.

The accentuation of the fact is the greater in that the particular calamity now appealing to humanity has fallen just up advance of the American Red Cross annual roll call.

The resources of the American Red Cross must be annually replenished through the roll call. This year the summons is seconded by a concrete emergency of the kind that is ever liable to be precipitated upon the world.

It is impossible for the Red Cross to be dependent on a public appeal for specific objects, because when emergency and disaster face us we have no time to wait until funds can be raised. The Red Cross is our ever-ready agency for responding to the call of calamity the moment the alarm is sounded.

The American Red Cross should have a minimum membership of ten million in order that its reserves may be equal to our domestic and our foreign emergencies in humane purposes.

In the light of my experience in relief work throughout the world I feel it a duty to express my personal hope that the people of America will show their confidence in their Red Cross in this

Booklovers Arouse the Life of French Women

Paris, Nov. 8.—As the women of Paris recently have been beating the men in competitions for places as librarians, a discussion has arisen over women's attitude toward books.

Writers in general seem to agree that woman is the avowed enemy of books. This view, which will seem strange to Americans, is accepted by the French as a fact not necessary to discuss. They seek only to show why, and how greatly woman is hostile to books.

One of the principal publishers is quoted as saying that in the retail trade women constitute only one per cent of buyers in France. Others dilate upon the difficulty their men friends have in keeping a library of fine books and in adding to the collection.

Men's love of books, and women's dislike of them, are cited as having caused the break-up of many homes. M. de Bersaucourt, author and booklover, holds it is the duty of a bibliophile to remain a bachelor.

He cites the cases of men who have to buy books secretly to avoid outbreaks of wrath from their spouses, and others who keep books hidden.

One Parisian booklover, says M. de B., smuggles home purchases under his coat or in his pocket, meanwhile, disarming his wife by holding out cake or candy to her at the front door in order to gain time to slip the volume on the shelf unnoticed.

War Rumors Increase Demands for Diamonds

London, Nov. 8.—The present boom in diamonds in England is attributed to recent rumors of war in the Near East. Experts in the trade say that this phenomenon has been noticed before, and that when political troubles are brewing the business in diamonds revives. Not only in London is this activity noticeable, but in Ant-
