Rebecca of Prudence Island At The Throttle

Prudence Island, R. I., Nov. 19 .-This island today boasts the only young woman licensed ferry engineer in New England, and possibly in the country. She is Miss Rebecca Chase, of twenty-seven summers, and she rises early every morning to take her place at the throttle of the ferryboat Harvest, connecting the island with Bristol. That she is at home on the sea is demonstrated by her license, which grants her the right to navigate a power boat. Frequently she directs from the pilot house, handling the Harvest with the skill of the ablest skipper. Shortly after America entered the World War her grandfather, owner of the ferry, unable to obtain an en gineer, called upon Miss Chase, who was an experienced automobile driver. She succeeded in passing the necessary examinations. Miss Chase keeps her domain below decks spick and span. She believes in being a good housekeeper on shipboard as well as at home.

CONTROLLE C Must Learn How to Wink Port Au Prince, Nov. 19 .-- In preparation for the first national rifle match to be held in Haiti, the American officers of the Haitian Gendar. merie are engrossed in teaching their native riflemen how to wink. When rifle practice was taken up in earnest for the first time this year among the native troops, their instructors immediately were confronted with the practically universal failure of the gendarmes to close their left eye when sighting along the Springfield barrels. Experiments showed that then were unable to close one eye without closing the other, or to open one eye without opening the other At first the expedient of putting a patch over the left eye, or tying a handkerchief across it, had to be resorted to. As this did not prove satisfactory General Douglas C. MacDougal, Chief of the Gendarmerie and a shot of national reputapaper in the state is putting on an in- tion in the United States, instructed tensive publicity campaign against his officers to teach the gendames the principles of winking.

At the recent departmental shoots resolve themselves into the following: held to select eight man teams for the Plow under old cotton stalks, plant national match, the scores made by early, fertilize generously, work fast the leading gendarmes would have compared creditably with that of the more experienced marines. The gendarmes are absorbed in their newly tell about all that is to be said. The last expedition in 1908 killed 2,249 sea elephants in ten days' work, and brought back 150 tons of valuable oil.

Kerguelen Land has a curiou tory. Captain Cook, the British navigator, while cruising in the Antarctic sea suddenly came upon this drear island, covered with moss and unproductive, although long thought to be underlaid with coal-beds. He landed and was about to take posses son of it in the name of his king when he found a French flag flying, raised by De Kerguelen shortly before, probably about 1172. The British sailor swallowed his disappointment and in his log-book recorded only that he had landed on "Desolation Island," ignoring the French-

Years later an inquiry reached the French naval office, asking for information about the island of Kerguelen. The naval department searched its records, high and low, but found nothing. The question was referred to the British admiralty with a request of the holy gods, who has the wisdom for an answer, which came in a few of the gods. His name is Daniel and days. # Gipsy Smith's Sermon Last Evening

I'resbyterian church. To the very end of the campaign the attentive audiseat in the edifice. There has been no perceptible waning of interest; in fact, just the reverse is true and hundreds will keenly regret that the time for the great evangelist's departure is rapidly drawing nigh. He has only six more sermons to preach in Union as his local campaign closes Sunday night.

"Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting," from the 5th chapter of the Book of Daniel, 27th verse, was the evangelist's sermon subject last evening.

Wherever one travels through modern cities one cannot help but marvel at the wonderful architecture, but the wonderful architectures of the present day in some respects is not the equal of the ancients. The city of Babylon was surrounded by a wonderful wall, which was a marvel or architectural ingenuity. The city was entered by 25 gates of solid brass and the Babylonians could close these great gates at a moment's notice.

In the center of the city square about the slopes of this mountain was | For money some men are willing to a tremendous pavilion in which grew all the glorious vegetation of a tropical climate.

I want you to come with me in shazzar as described in the 5th chapter of Daniel. We can see the thousand Babylonian lords and ladies drive up to the great hall and wait for the entrance of the king. Then announcement was made of the ruler's entrance and the feast started.

After the banquet had proceeded and the minds of the host and guests had become befuddled with liquor the king decided to do something that would be an insult to the Jews of the city with whom he was not on good Belshazzar had been left in charge of the city by his father, who had taken the trained Babylonian army and had gone to attack a distant city, leaving Belshazzar to protect the city with what we would call the home guards. While the father was away the Medes and Persians laid siege to Australia, is soon to have one of its the city and the father returning with his troops could not get in, and Belshazzar and his men could not get out. while the inhabitants of the city were being slowly starved to death.

Made chesty by being placed upon the throne in his father's absence, this quet and invited 1,000 of his friends. When his mind had become befuddled with wine he decided to take a fling at the worship of God and had been sto en from them. When the goblets had been filled with wine, the drunken ma nproposed a toast to his royal highness, King Belshazzar. The drunken beasts proposed, "Long Live Pelshazzar." Then I can see the king's face whiten and his knees begin shaking as he is temporarily sobered by the sight of an armless hand appearing and writing letters on the wall, and the young king was very much afraid. He was very much like a lot of other young folks who, when they get into trouble want a minister, but as soon as they are again out of trouble never to go near a church or a clergyman.

So the king sent for his soothsay. ers, but they could not interpret the myserious writing. Then the queen said to the king: "There is a man in thy kingdom in whom is the spirit translate the writing.

So the ruler sent for Daniel and told him that he could not give him the early in the 18th century, for old first or second place in the kingdom as blubber stations with cauldrons mark- his father was first, and he second, ed "New London," were found there but that he would make him third man in the kingdom if he would tell what the mysterious writing meant. That he would give him riches and power.

The biggest lie that the devil has ever foisted on this contry is the tatement that "every man has his price." There are many men that you know that money cannot buy at the price of being untrue to their God, and Daniel was one of them. He told the king, "You can5t buy me and I don't want to be the third man in the kingdom. The words mean: "God has numbered thy kingdom and finished it. Thou art weighed in the balance and art found wanting. Thy kingdom is givided and given to the Medes and 'ersians." When he heard this the king's face it means. Of course my kingdom is posed to be better than I am. Let the

But the Medes and Persians were work. There was a great river that your father and mother. ran under Babylon's mighty wall and ing the Medes and Persians built a solutely guiltless in the sight of God?

THE RESIDENCE OF THE PARTY OF T Many who previously were blind to | dam so that they could turn the river the beauty of Jesus Christ are being in an entirely different direction. On made to see the attractiveness and the night of the revelry they knew value of living real Christian lives that everyone of consequence in the through the medium of the all-reveal- city was drunk, so they turned the ing sermons of Gipsy Smith at the course of the river and then the sol- and say that as a result of these meet. diers jumped into the bed of the river and marched under the great walls ences are filling every available seat until they were in the city, never stopuing until they reached the banquet hall. I can hear the shrieks of the women and the curses of the men and see the sword that lopped off the head of Belshazzar.

Suppose you and I were weighed in the same balances that Belshazzar was weighed in? Not the balances of Union, or the balances of public rpinion, or the balances of our loved ones, but in God's balances. It is possible that you are a heavyweight in the estimation of your friends, but a nonentity in the sight of God. In the estimation of public opinion you may be ranked as a big gun, but a featherweight in the sight of God.

Let's imagine that we have a pai of tremendous scales in front of us here. We'll place you into one of the scales and then throw into the other side, first the injunction: "Thou shalt not have any gods but me."

Every man has his god. What i yours? It is that thing which you think of more than anything else in the world. To some it is pleasure was a mountain 496 feet high and business, family, loved ones or money commit murder, villify others in order o have a larger credit in the bank If you have ability to make money i is God given. You can take a five cen: magination to the feast of King Bel- piece and put it over your eye and i will be closed to the world. I takes a very small coin to place over your cars and they will be closed to humanity's call. If you can make money and know how to take care of it, it is a God given abiity. But He never mean that we should worship it.

There is one thing that mone won't buy. It will build hospitals, get you the best of nurses, surgeons and surgical equipment, but when the doc tor takes out his watch and shakes his head, and God calls you will leave your beautiful home, your costly garage with its latest model car, and your cellars stocked with imported stuff. They will become as nothing but a glorified tombstone. Money is a fine servant but a mighty poor god Then there are many persons who are mad for pleasure and the day may come when we will have to hire a jazz orchestra in order to get people to attend the Lord's sacrament. Money and pleasure are many a person's God. Then there are myriads of womer who dress the was they do simply because society says so. If society says one thing and God another they obey society. There are men who make the church play second fiddle.

If I was asked to conduct the funeral of one of these people I would the Jews by sending to the royal like to ask all the young people to vaults for some golden goblets which come to the services and exclude the had been consecrated by the Jews to rest and then I would say: Here he is and here are his gods, the thing he worked for and worshiped in life but his caskket and his shrowd can not tae them with him. One by one I would like to lay the things that he put first in his life beside his casket, the fads anl frivolities of this world, and say, you know exactly what he worshipped. Well, he's gone but his gods are still here. There i one thing that these false gods cannot do, they cannot make you live. How much do you weigh in His scales? Is He first or is there something else? God said: "Have no other Gods but

Now we toss another injunction into the scales: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in

Are you guiltless in the sight of God? No matter how much you count for in Union, if you take the name of the Lord in vain then you are guilty. There are many men that think it is all right, even before their women folk and children, to God damn this and Jesus Christ that. It has always been a puzzle to me how Christians allow the name of the Lord to be taken in vain in their presence. If their women would be insulted they would scrap if their assailant was as big as a mountain. Yet they will allow Christ, who died for them to be villified and say: "The poor chap doesn't mean anything by it."

Nowadays it is considered smart and flippant to say "My God!" This is an expression that is common for many women to use and those that do in God's sight are filthy and not

God will not hold them guiltless. how much do you weigh? Do you dare jump into these scales with me? I will throw in another, "Honor thy father and thy mother."

There are a lot of young people who consider it smart to speak of their father and mother as the old man and the old woman. The youth who calls rightened and he said: "So that's all his father the old man, I wouldn't wipe my feet on. He's not a man, but livided. Are not the Medes and Per- only a thing. There are many men ans laying siege to the city and as now in prison who would never be far as being found wanting is con- there had they listened to their fathcerned no man can say that I ever ers, and there are many girls who would never have taken the first false dance go on. Every callons on your father's hands, every wrinkle on not fools and on the night of that your mother's brow was put there for banquet they did a brilliant piece of your sake and you can afford to honor

Will you jump into the scales with while the lords and ladies were feast- me? Is there anyone here who is ab-

As a man thinketh in his heart so is he. I could go on and throw into these scales every command God has given us and say how munh do you weigh? I know that I am not guiltless and am sure that you will be man enough to say that you are not guiltless either. The greatest command-ment of all is to love God will all thy heart.

I may have broken every one of the commandments, but Jesus stands ready to bear the penalty for every law I've broken. You may come here ings you are going to be a better man. But who's going to help you? You've said the same thing a million times before and you've never yet done it. But suppose you could keep your good resolutions and from this night you lived an absolutely clean and spotless life and then reached God's throne and God turned to the book and looked up your record, He might say: "For years you have lived a clean life ,but what about the rest?" The saul that sins shall die. There is only one way to escape. If you desire and are anxious to be the man or woman that God wants you to be, you can do it only by taking hold of the blood-red hand of Jesus and all the laws which you have broken will fall away and you will be really saved.

Vienna Seeks Return Of Napoleonic Mementoes

Vienna, Nov. 19 .- In 1914 the municipality of Vienna sent to the Lyons fair a priceles eachibit fo relics of the Franco-Austrian period of Napoleon's time. They included many mementoes of the French Emperor and Mary Louise, and other articles of great historic interest.

The war came, and the collection is till in France. This week the Mayor of Vienna petitioned the French Minister to restore it to the city. It is understood these articles are now in he hands of the French liquidator of alien enemy properties.
