Faked Antiques

Crowd London Shops

London, Dec. 28.—The methods by which thousands of persons are cheated annually through the sale by dealers of antique furniture, draperies and porcelain which are "faked," were shown recently when an antique dealer was brought into court charged with fraud.

During the trial it was declared that dealers sell thousands of pounds worth of antiques every year to American tourists visiting England, and that probably less than five percent of the purchases are real.

The methods of the antique dealers in faking their wares are carried out so skillfully that the experts differ widely in their opinion of many of the pieces brought into court. The favorite system of the crooked dealer is to obtain a genuine antique of a certain period, for instance a chair. This he will take apart, and reconstruct a number of new chairs of the same design, each one containing a section of the original chair. It was shown during the hearing that an antique bedstead had been taken to pieces, and that the 12 duplicates fashioned in accordance with this system have sold for $5,000 each.

In faking china the work is more difficult. Here the dealer must make copies conforming minutely to the original and bearing the maker's signature. This requires a skill which few persons possess nowadays and which easily baffles the experts.

It is estimated that sixty percent of the antiques now being shown in London are not what they are represented to be.

A. R. A. Ready to Send Clothing to Russia

New York, Dec. 29.—Reports from Russia to the local headquarters of the American Relief Administration set forth the desperate need of many people in Russia, and particularly children, for warm winter clothing. To meet this emergency the organization has inaugurated a clothing remittance package which will clothe an entire family for the winter. Twenty dollars sent to Administration headquarters in this city will equip and deliver a package to anyone in Russia. Several thousand banks and other organizations in the United States have agreed to receive the money for these remittances. Through an arrangement with the Soviet government the packages will be delivered free of duty and at the greatest possible speed.

Economic Program Before South Dakota Legislature

Pierre, S. D., Dec. 28.—Economy will be the keynote of the biennial session of the South Dakota legislature, which meets early in January, according to statements from senators and representatives. Pressure on the part of the people for a reduction in expenses, voiced in a large number of communications, is expected to result in a program of strict necessity.

Among the more important bills which members have announced would be introduced include a law to place state and county school officers on a non-political ballot in elections; revisions in the primary election law; inauguration of state owned enterprises; a law to make the fish and game commission a body composed of sportsmen to serve without pay, excepting mileage, and a measure authorizing the construction of three bridges across the Missouri river.

One influential senator said his program was "passing of necessary appropriation bills, repeal of inefficient, useless, obsolete and unenforceable laws and simplification of those that remain, and adjourn."

Arraigns Administration Of Mandated German New Guinea

Sydney, N. S. W., Dec. 28.—An indictment of the Australian administration of the mandated territory of German New Guinea has been uttered by W. Welsh, F. R. G. S., honorary treasurer of the Royal Australia Historical Society, who has returned from a visit to Rabaul.

"Many people in the territory would prefer government from Downing street to that which they are obtaining from Melbourne, and the inexperience of the administration is at the bottom of the trouble, he said.

Osaka Second City of Japan

Osaka, Dec. 28.—The city of Osaka, the second largest of Japan, and one of the chief industrial and commercial centers in the Orient, now has a population of about 1,300,000 according to latest figures. The city is fast undergoing transformation in respect to its buildings, both public and private, in order to meet the requirements of modern trade developments.

As an indication of the popularity of newspapers in Osaka, it is said that the daily Osaka Asahi Shimbun has a circulation of about half a million.

Notice to Tax Payers

This notice is to remind those who failed to make their tax returns for 1922. When you call at the county treasurer's office for your taxes and you are not returned, please don't forget to come to the auditor's office and make a supplemental tax return. There are a great many who have not made any returns of real and personal property and after the tax books have closed will have to check up and get out execution for those who failed to comply.

J. S. Betenbaugh, Co. Auditor.

Faries Lives On

Today, December 29, is the date for the electrocution of William C. Faries, the convicted York county murderer, but an appeal to the supreme court has stayed the sentence and Faries will not pay the penalty as prescribed by the court. Col. A. K. Sanders, superintendent of the penitentiary, was served two weeks ago with a notice of intention to appeal and this automatically stayed the execution of the sentence.—The State.

Money From Tax

Sam T. Carter, state treasurer, has collected to date, including amounts through Wednesday, a total of $936,039.45 from the state income tax, he announced yesterday morning. The tax is expected to reach $1,000,000 before the close of the year.—The State.

Court Meets Today For Consultation

An en banc consultation will be held by the supreme court here this afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. Some weeks ago the court heard the case of Jane P. Strother vs. E. H. Folk et al., but no opinion has been filed, and today all the judges will confer on the case.

Other cases will also be taken up during the afternoon and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the court will hear the petition of W. W. Rhame to require L. G. Southard and C. P. Sims of Spartanburg to refund $2,000 alleged to have been unlawfully retained by Sims and Southard.

Man Disappears In River's Waters

In attempting to include a magistrate's warrant on him, Alex Richardson, a young white man, ran across the river about 100 yards above the Gervais street bridge yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock and disappeared about as far as the bridge disappeared from view.

By those witnessing the disappearance he lost his life, one of the constables saying Richardson came up and was caught in the current. The constable himself believed that Richardson was drowned.

The coroner and police officers were notified at once of the disappearance of the young man in the river. Neither the body nor the young man was seen during the evening. Richardson wore a heavy army overcoat when he walked into the stream.

Constable for Magistrate T. J. O. Williams, said yesterday that he had a warrant for Richardson's arrest, Richardson being charged with the transaction being to Richardson's home on William street and found Richardson there again inquired by him found that he had disappeared.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Williams said he was in the vicinity of a house on the river which Richardson happened to be near. Richardson, the constable, took to flight, running and turning directly to some distance into the water.

Richardson, he said he called to down your name, he said, you'll be there, he said Richardson continued to wait for him, apparently hoping to make a point of land the Gervais street into the stream near the water street bridge.

Christmas Was Peace on Earth

This has been the happiest Christmas in many years; in fact, it was the spirit over the whole country to make somebody happy and everybody got in the game. Not a drunk man, no accidents, no people in jail, no fights, no fires, no hands blown up from fire-tracker and everybody was happy. If the flu had not spread so alarming it would have been ideal in every way. The weather man sent the most gorgeous southern weather and the sun was never so bright, the holly trees had more red berries than usual and Santa Claus was more generous than ever. Let's keep up the good work of making others happy.

Words of Appreciation

A letter came to The Times office this week and read something like this:

"I do not know whom to thank for the box of delicious things sent me Christmas. My children and I certainly appreciate the thought which prompted it and wish you to thank the donors through The Times. We all know Israel, for he has been Santa Claus to us for five years and always come so happy and smiling and never will tell who sent the goodies. The children climb all over his wagon and beg to know where the stockings come from but nobody gets it from him. We call him Santa Claus down this way—all the time, summer, spring and all the time and we thank all of you for remembering us—and wish for you a happy, prosperous New Year with God's richest blessings pour out for you."

Austria to Discharge State Employees

Vienna, Dec. 28.—More than 100,000 government employees will be discharged within the next two years under the new economy plan adopted by the Austrian government with the approval of the League of Nations. It is proposed to discharge the public employees gradually, but in such a way that at the end of two years there will be only 50,000 men on the payrolls of the state.

Berlin Imposes Tax on Gluttony

Berlin, Dec. 28.—A tax on gluttony is the latest method of raising funds to be devised by the municipality of Berlin.

Gluttony is defined in the regulations as excessive consumption of food or drink, and the fact of excess is determined by the cost of the meal. The figure in marks at which the gluttony begins is to be fixed and announced monthly. The cost of eating in excess of this amount will be taxed at the rate of 25 percent.

Can You Take Such a Risk?

Instances of loss of valuables through theft and fire are countless and continual. Can you afford to take chances on the safety of yours?

It is sheerest folly to allow bonds, mortgages, deeds, jewels, etc., to remain a moment unprotected. Your peace of mind about their safety is insured when they're in a Safe Deposit Box in our vaults.

PROFIT

is one of the chief incentives to business activities. Men are in business to secure profit therefrom. They make investments with the expectation of reaping returns. Small business is satisfied with small profits, for safety lies in that direction.

Loss

is something that every honest business man tries to avoid. To come to the end of the year and find profits less than losses, is a matter of deep concern to the honest business man.

But it is true that some years the profit may be swallowed up in the losses. Ventures that appeared financially sound may not prove to be so. In that case, give your business a thorough examination, particularly the cash book. Intelligent consideration often changes failure to success.

Consolidated College Club House Planned in Boston

Boston, Dec. 29.—College men and women of Greater Boston have in prospect a club home, to be built at an estimated cost of $1,600,000 under plans of a committee of the present University Club, the sponsor of the project. With the existing organization as a nucleus, the University Club is expected ultimately to have a membership of 5,000.

There are known to be 28,000 persons, alumni of 237 colleges and universities, resident within 50 miles of the city, who are eligible to membership. Separate organizations are now maintained by graduates of 71 of these institutions. The present University Club was organized in 1892 at the suggestion of Amherst men, whose idea was to form a lunch-club. Specifications of the new structure for a building in the Renaissance style, of limestone and brick. The basement will contain squash courts, swimming tank, billiard and pool room, barber shop and locker room. The two floors above will include dining and grill rooms for both men and women, reception rooms, library, lounging and guest rooms. The third floor will be given over to women's use and the fourth and fifth floors will consist of sleeping quarters.
