SODA WATER.

THIS is the season in which this most excellent and salutary beverage may be taken to the greatest advantage. It may not only be drunk with safety, but is an active promoter of health, and preventive of disease, particularly of autumnal fevers, the prevalence of which always depend on an accumulation of bile, and secretions, in the abdominal viscera.

Ruta Baga or Russian Turnip, May be made to yield on a rich soil, 1,300 bushels to the acre.

WILLIAM CORBETT.

Extract from a communication of R. S. Townsend, Esq. of New-York, to William Corbett.

DEAR SIR—I take the liberty of sending to you the following experiments upon the culture of your Ruta Baga made by my uncle J. Townsend, Esq. A piece of strong dry loam, ten feet square, produced three bushels, each Turnip weighing from four to eight pounds.

A piece of rich moist loamy land containing four square rods, produced twenty five bushels. This was made up of the same soil as the first, but in the next. As Mr. Townsend's opinion that on some rich soil 1,500 bushels may be made to the acre.

Wm. Branthwaite,

HAS JUST RECEIVED A SUPPLY OF SODA POWDERS.

BY using them in the manner directed, a glass of soda water may be formed at pleasure, superior to what is drank from the machine. Improved Seidlitz Powders. These powders taken after too frequent indulgence in the luxuries of the table, particularly after too much wine, the common disagreeable effects are altogether removed. In warm climates they will be found diff. beneficial, as they correct disordered bowels, and debilitated the stomach.

Pineville Academy.

A principal Teacher will be wanted to take charge of the Pineville Academy on the 1st January, 1820, who will receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, payable half-yearly. Testimonials of good character will be required. Applicants must also be prepared to receive boarders; one of the duties of the Institution requiring that the Principal shall take charge of sixteen boarders, at the rate of $120 per annum.

The duties of the Principal shall be as follows, viz.

Extract from the Rules.—"He shall have a general superintendance and control over all the branches of the institution, and the immediate and particular direction of all students in the Languages, of the Geography classes and of those advanced in Arithmetic, and of all such students designed to complete their education in the Academy after they have advanced to a general course of study." A drawing of the Academy, and a list of the Trustees, may be seen at the office of Messrs. Maxwell & Son, Charleston, S. C. will be attended to. The election will take place on the 31st October next.

Pineville, May 17, 1819.

Education.

AN elderly gentleman without a family, a stranger, who has lately arrived in this state from a tour through the different parts of the Union, and wishes to reside for some time in this state, whose principal employment all his life has been the education of youth, and who has taught in various parts of the United States with approbation, now takes this method of offering himself to the public as a teacher in town or country, as an assistant in an academy, or as tutor in a private family. He can be well recommended for ability and attention to business, and is qualified to give youth a sufficient course of English education, including the reading of English grammatically, writing various hands, arithmetic, systematically and entirely, comprehending the measurement of superficies and solids, Euclid's Elements, geometry and trigonometry both plain and spherical, with their application to all the branches of the mathematics and astronomy, from the latest and most approved authors. He likewise teaches painting, drawing and engraving, in all their various departments, with several new and ingenious methods of copying of drafts, and a variety of useful and entertaining accomplishments for youth, which are not taught in the common seminaries of literature. A letter or letters addressed to I. D. M. to the care of Mr. John Weir, near Chesterville, will be attended to. He utitur parvus seu nullus professor ab mortuis lingua.

Female Academy.

THE Trustees of this Institution, desirous to inform such of their fellow citizens, as may be desirous of affording their children, an opportunity of participating in the benefits of education, that the elegant and commodious buildings erected by the honorable William Smith, at this place, have lately been purchased for an Academy, and also to accommodate such persons as may choose it with boarding for their scholars. The building stands on a healthy, elevated and beautiful situation, in a grove of forest timber, containing eight or ten acres. It is airy and well lighted by large windows, contains eight spacious rooms, and a fire place in each room, and is convenient to several excellent springs of water, and is well adapted for an academy and boarding house. It will afford a convenient room for one hundred boarders, besides the rooms appropriated for recitation and fancy work. It will be given up to the sole use of the scholars, and is now open to receive any number of boarders.

They also think it their duty to announce the flourishing condition of the academy since it commenced in January last, about 50 scholars have been entered, and are now in school; all of whom have made such improvement in the different branches of education to which they have attended, as to leave no doubt of the superintendent's assiduity for her duties, and to enforce a conviction of her capacity, to communicate and fix instruction on the minds of her pupils, in both the literary and ornamental parts of education.

The trustees are highly gratified, that they can in sincerity and truth aver, that Miss Usden, the only instructress yet in the school, is by all persons who have become acquainted with her, and by those who have visited the school, highly esteemed.

They would further communicate, that every exertion is making, to get a well qualified musical teacher, and necessary assistant teachers in the academy; and it is expected such will be obtained by the next fall or earlier.

It is the intention of the promoters and founders of this institution, to establish it on a permanent footing, to extend the branches of education therein to scientific studies, and to procure teachers capable of instructing the pupils in polite and useful learning, in improving the understanding, polishing the deportment, and in forming, preserving, and strengthening their morals.

They would further give notice, that they are personally and intimately acquainted with Mr. Samuel H. Bus, who is now occupying the premises, for the purpose of accommodating all those in boarding, who may wish to have their children under his care. That he is a gentleman in whose upright conduct they have every confidence, and have no doubt he will pay every necessary attention to those who may be put under his charge, and discharge all the duties incumbent on him in his situation to general satisfaction.

By order of the board.

J. A. WRYTE, Secy.

DR. THOMAS WELLS,

RESPECTFULLY informs the inhabitants of Columbia and its vicinity, that he is about to commence the practice of Physic and Surgery in this place. He announces himself in this way, that it may be generally understood, he will pay particular attention to country practice. His services may be commanded by calling on Mr. Isaac Randolph's, or at his office, one door east of Mr. Randolph's.

Feb 27.

Town of Coosawda.

ONE hundred lots in the above town will be sold to the highest bidder, at public auction, on the premises, on the first Monday in October next; one fourth of the purchase money in hand, and the balance in three equal annual instalments, secured by bond with approved names. The sale will be continued from day to day, until completed.

Coosawda is situated on the western bank of the river Alabama, about two miles below the confluence of the Coosa and Tallapoosa. The site is an elevated and beautiful plain, commanding a comprehensive view of the river. Steam-boats can reach the town without any difficulty. It is the highest desirable point on the river. There are, in the town site, several fine bluff springs, and convenient boat landings. The neighborhood abounds in excellent timber for building, and several saw-mills are already in successful operation.

The site has been long admired, and is regarded by many as the most eligible for settlement in the South. It promises to be more healthy; and a confident belief is entertained that the growth of Coosawda will be rapid and permanent.

At the same time and place, will be offered at public auction, and sold to the highest bidder, about EIGHTY TRACTS OF LAND, lying in the district first sold at Milledgeville, in August 1817. These tracts are well situated, and comprise some of the finest bottoms and highlands in the territory, lying principally on and near the Alabama, and will be set up at what they cost, when they will be required in hand;—for any excess over that sum, a credit of twelve months will be given, secured by bond with approved names. Full legal transfers of certificates will be made to purchasers, complying with the above conditions.

A plan of the town may be seen at the office of Huntsville, and Cahoon's residence at Bolling Hill, near Abbeville, who has also a full power to sell the same before the sale.
