Hats, Shoes and ready-made Clothing.

JAMES HORAUX CO.
AT THE SIGN OF THE MASONIC HALL.

HAVE just received a large supply of the above goods, which with their former stock, constitutes a more extensive assortment than was ever before in this place. The workmanship (particularly that of the clothing) is of a superior description.

J. H. & CO. inform all those whose accounts (due on the 1st of January last) remain unsettled, that without any discrimination, a further credit must be denied to them.
Oct. 3. 40 1/2

E. L. ROCHE,

MAN, MERCER AND TAILOR,
No. 9 Broad-street, opposite the U. S. Bank,
Charleston South Carolina.

RESPECTFULLY informs his country partners, that he has received from London an extensive supply of all kinds of GOODS in his line, together with a large assortment of FANCY ARTICLES, of all descriptions; it is now well understood and acknowledged by some of the most respectable gentlemen in this state, who until lately sent for their clothes to New York and Philadelphia, but who now deal with the subscriber, that he can accommodate them as reasonably and in as elegant style as any person in either of the above cities. Some gentlemen have been in the habit of sending their measures to the North. The subscriber informs them, that if they send them to him, he will have them equally if not better fitted; his hands are all white and experienced workmen to whom he gives high wages.

N. B.—He will keep on hand, a few suits of ready-made clothes, for the accommodation of such gentlemen, as may want them for immediate use.
December 14 3

Mrs. H. MARKS,

Milliner and Mantua-maker,
HAS the honor of returning her thanks to her customers and the public in general, for the encouragement she has hitherto received, and still solicits their patronage, and informs them, she has just returned from Charleston with a first rate Milliner and Mantua-maker, and has also succeeded in procuring the latest fashions, made by one of the first Dress Makers in Charleston. She pledges herself all orders entrusted to her care either in the Millinery or Mantua-making, shall be done in the neatest and most fashionable manner.

The Parents and Guardians of those young Ladies placed at the respective Academies in this place will have, if required, a liberal credit allowed them.

In consequence of another person having commenced a business under the same name, and to prevent mistakes, Mrs. H. MARKS, informs her friends and particularly those at a distance, that she is to be found at her old stand, opposite Mr. JOHN FERGUSON'S Glass and Crockery Store.
N. B.—Lignons and Straw Hats cleaned and pressed in the best style.

Twin Lever Cotton Press.

THE inventor regrets it was not in his power to put up one of his presses in Columbia this season; numerous prior engagements prevented him. There is one in operation in the city of New York, at Hunt & High's, 74, Wall street, in which one man alone has pressed 4600 lbs. cotton into 5 yards of bagging; the press is very small, and calculated to be put in the yard, and is durable. Upwards of fifty have been built in Virginia, the last four months. This press will furnish models, iron and patent, for $50, and ship them to any place. A drawing of the press can be seen at the Telescope office.
