SAMUEL EWART.

Columbia, Sept. 29 1829.

A CARD.—As circumstances will prevent my return again to the south, I take this opportunity of presenting my sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Columbia, and its vicinity for the patronage and kindness which I have received during my residence among them.

At the same time I deem it my duty to recommend some gentleman to fill the vacancy which my absence will occasion, as this branch of the profession is too often undertaken by itinerant men, who are entirely ignorant of medical science, wholly unacquainted with the diseases of the teeth, and the great influence which those exert upon the general health, especially upon the organs of digestion; and of course, ignorant of the remedies necessary for their relief. The evils resulting from unskilfulness, in the practice of dentistry, are, to say the least, as great as in any other branch of the medical profession.

I have great pleasure in being able to recommend Wm Lee M. D. and do it with the utmost confidence, having for some time past resided with him and seen him perform all the operations in Dental surgery with great dexterity and skill. By Lee's permanent location in Columbia will afford frequent opportunities for the examination of previous operations, and will be a sufficient guarantee to the public, to secure entire confidence.
