The superstitious and unheralded disappearance of the Standard and Commercial from the field of journalism is one of the changes in the whirligig of time, and it has been swallowed up and counted out by its younger rival, The Tribune. We feel that in beginning the New Year we owe a word of greeting to its readers, and if an old friend with a new face comes to you each week, at two dollars a year—strictly in advance—we trust it will be most welcome and acceptable than heretofore.

"Big fish eat little fish" is a homely truism, but in this case The Tribune, though sometimes styled the little fish, has changed the order of things and is now the biggest and only fish in the newspaper line in Beaufort County.

Great men it is said are poor writers, and if we demonstrate that fact in a journalistic sense by the style, and tone and spirit of our editorials we hope our readers will give some other brain the credit of such failures and not charge it to The Tribune; all such editorials are most like borrowed and inadvertently inserted without credit.

Finally, we wish all a happy and prosperous New Year, free from returning boards and false counts, and disasters to hopes and ambitions that impede our success in the great battle of life.

The planters in the upper part of the county who intended to refuse employment or rent land to the colored men who voted the republican ticket are considering whether it is to their interest to deprive themselves of labor the coming year on this ground. Several have concluded to let their tenants remain and others are awaiting the issue in Columbia before putting the proscription policy in force. Nothing, in our opinion, can be gained by driving labor away from plantations that are not now half tilled, and any sensible man will be slow to depopulate his lands that untenanted are almost worthless, for opinion's sake. If the thieves and rogues that infest the country could be weeded out it would be a blessing, but faithful, honest laborers are scarce enough even in Beaufort County.

The Presidential question has settled down to only one disputed State—Louisiana. The report of the Congressional committee to this State that the Hayes and Wheeler electors were fairly elected in this State, will put a stop to any further claims by the Democratic electors. In Florida the canvassing board under a mandate of the Supreme Court, has just reconvened the vote and by admitting some of the votes thrown out at the first count have given the State to the Democrats, but still return the Republican electors. In Louisiana both the Senate and Congressional committees are hard at work, not only examining witnesses but visiting the parishes where fraud and intimidation was charged. The men composing the Congressional committee are men whose word will carry great weight, and their report when made will go far towards convincing men of both political parties that their conclusions are just. As yet there are no indications as to their conclusions.

W. W. Sellers Esq., Solicitor of the fourth circuit, has given an opinion that the election of county officers, whose election is claimed by some as having been invalid as the law provides for their election in October, is good and lawful and that they are entitled to the offices to which they were elected on the 7th November. Col. McIver on the other hand gives his opinion that the election on that day was unlawful and that the incumbent of the clerk's office will be liable on his bond should he turn over his office to the candidate elected Nov. 7th. The question will have to be decided by the courts, but in the meantime the newly-elected clerks and Judges of Probate are daily losing their fees, and can see in the actions of the incumbents in holding on to the office, a multitude of counsel in which there seems to be a lack of harmony if not of wisdom.

A German suggests that some neutral territory be set aside by the European Powers, not devoted entirely to bloodshed. No fighting is to undertake whatever, to take place out of this territory, which is to be fitted up for war in the most elaborate fashion. There is to be a training-school for nurses, a college for surgeons and large hospitals. Prisoners of war will be confined in suitable buildings specially prepared for their accommodation. There are also to be veterinarians and depots for artificial limbs, &c. These conveniences will be open to all nations wishing to fight, on fixed and reasonable charges. Weapons of every description—and in fact all the appliances for war—may be bought or hired; but credit is to be given, and charges for battle fields are to be paid before the first gun is fired. All expenses after payment of expenses will be paid to the maintenance of the widows and orphans of the fallen.

On the 4th of March the Senate of the Democratic Senators from Louisiana and South Carolina becom-ted, the body will stand equally divided. In any event the Republican majority will be much smaller than at any previous time since 1861.

Of those who perished, in the Brooklyn fire 31 left widows and small children, who had been entirely dependent on them for their support. Four left widows alone entirely destitute. Twenty-two left widowed mothers with children, who looked almost exclusively to the ones taken away for their subsistence. Eight left widowed mothers, whose last family was swept away by the flames, and who are now entirely dependent on the charity of strangers. Six left orphan sisters and brothers who depended on them, and 45 young men destroyed left parents who had learned to lean on them in their declining years, and on whose aid their families mainly depended for their existence. Eleven widows who are about to become mothers are numbered among the suffering survivors.

Mr. Corbin, counsel for the Hayes electors, declined last Friday to proceed further in the quo warranto case in the supreme court. He asserted that the case was transferred to the United States circuit court as soon as the petition was filed, and that he could no longer recognize the jurisdiction of the state court.

A special term of the United States circuit court will be held at an early day in Charleston, and the record will be carried to that court.

It is estimated that the crop of sugar, rice and cotton produced this year in Louisiana will aggregate a larger amount to the acreage cultivated than was ever before raised in the State. But despite this favorable condition of agriculture, the people were never, says the Democrat, so impoverished, nor was there ever so large a number of unemployed persons. This anomalous condition of affairs is due to the want of good government, of confidence among capitalists and the burdens of multimorf taxation.

An arrangement has been made under which Peter B. Sweeney is to return from Paris to New York as a witness in the $7,000,000 suit against Tweed. The condition is that no proceeding, civil or criminal, shall be begun against Sweeney during his stay in New York. It is also announced that A. E. Woodward, of the Tweed Ring, who was lately arrested in Chicago has been released from custody on his own recognizance. He has surrendered $150,000 to the prosecuting attorney, and his testimony is to be used in the Ring's suits.

The Carolina Teacher has been merged in the Electric Teacher and will be published, as heretofore, in Columbia at $1.00 per year. It is proposed to make the magazine the official organ of this and other states. Each state represented is to have its state department and state editor. The editor for South Carolina will be Mr. M. A. Warren who may be addressed at Columbia.

The Harvey Mills Fire.
On last Wednesday morning at about one o'clock the big ship Harvey Mills lying at anchor was discovered by the men on watch to be on fire. The ships bells were rung and in a short time the U. S. S. Sea Weed came alongside with a force of sailors from the fleet, and did everything possible to extinguish the fire. Extinguishers were used but all efforts were fruitless because of the difficulty to find the exact location. On Thursday at daylight, such assistance as could be had was sent from Port Royal to the ship, and telegrams to Beaufort caused the Steamer Agnes to proceed to the ship and upon her arrival began the work of pumping the burning ship full of water. At noon the Washington Steam Engine of this place was taken to Port Royal where it was expected the Harvey Mills would be brought, but owing to the bad weather the ship proved to be quite unmanageable. The Huntsville which arrived at Port Royal in the morning also went to the ship and remained until dark pumping water and endeavoring to pull the ship into deep water, but ending in failure, and at about six o'clock left the ship and came back to the dock at Port Royal.

A special train was obtained at dark which conveyed the Steam Fire Engine to Beaufort where it was put upon a large lighter and towed down to the ship by the Steamer Pilot Boy and immediately went to work, putting three large streams of water into the Harvey Mills which with the assistance of the Sea Weed and Agnes had been put into the channel and was under way for Port Royal when the Pilot Boy put on a hauser and assisted in towing the ship to the dock, after which the U. S. S. Huron came up and together the steamers were enabled to keep the fire under control. The Pilot Boy and Huntsville were kept busy until they were obliged to leave to make their regular trips leaving the Agnes and the Beaufort steam fire engine at work, and they are still engaged in pouring water on the fire which seems to be now under control, although the fire still exists in the cotton underneath the water. The ship is full of water and lies in a very dangerous position and there is danger of her back being broken. Some of the cotton has been taken out badly burned but as the fire seems to be confined to the stern of the vessel the greater portion will be damaged only by water. The ship is cut to pieces in the after part and the elegant cabin presents a sorry sight, filled with water and burned cotton. The underwriters have visited her and all further action is supposed to be under their direction. The vessel and cargo, as well as freightage is insured and will prove a serious loss to the insurance companies.

We are in receipt of the New York Family Story Paper, an eight page paper filled with entertaining tales, poetry, and a variety of interesting reading. The publishers offer a great inducement to subscribers in the shape of a weekly extra containing Shakespeare's plays which, alone, is worth the subscription price, three dollars a year. It is published by L. Munro & Co., 74 B'kman St. New York.

Governor Nichols, like Governor Hampton, proposes to "stick." In his address to the people of Louisiana, he says: "Peaceably, fairly, legally elected your Governor by over eight thousand majority of the votes of both races in the State, I announce to you that I am determined to assert and maintain my rights to that position, and I know that you are equally determined that I shall do so."

On Thursday afternoon two of the crew of the Harvey Mills were suffocated by the smoke a gas which engaged in the hold in overlaying the cable of the anchor. Several unsuccessful attempts were made to rescue them, in which two others came near meeting the same fate. The bodies were finally brought out by sailors from the fleet. The Coroner held an inquest on Friday and the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Gen. Hampton's Letter to Gov. Hayes
Judge Mackey visited Gov. Hayes, at Columbus, Ohio, last Friday and spent the evening in his company. He was the bearer of the following letter from Gen. Hampton to Gov. Hayes, a similar one having been sent to Gov. Tilden:

My Dear Sir: I have the honor to enclose a copy of my inaneual as the duly elected Governor of South Carolina. In view of the present events, and the official sanction given to gross misrepresentations of the acts and purposes of the majority of the good people of this Commonwealth, I deem it proper to declare that profound peace prevails throughout the State; that the course of judicial proceedings is obstructed by no combination of citizens thereof, and that the laws for the protection of the inhabitants, in all the rights of person, property and citizenship are being enforced in our courts.

While the people of this State are not wanting in either the spirit or the means to maintain their right of citizenship against the usurping power which now defies the supreme judicial authority of the State, they have such faith in the justice of their cause that they propose to leave its vindication to the proper legal tribunals, appealing, at the same time, to the patriotism and public sentiment of the whole country.

Frightful Disaster.
A terrible accident occurred on the Lake Star Railroad near Ashtabula, Ohio last Friday night about eight o'clock. The train was known as the Pacific express. It consisted of six coaches, two drawing room cars, with the usual express and baggage cars, and two engines. Daniel McGuire, engineer of the forward engine, relates that the train was running at slow rate, and just as they had fairly crossed the high bridge which is not more than forty rods distant from the depot, he felt a violent jar, and in an instant the coupling between the two engines had broken, and the whole train was precipitated with the bridge into the river below. McGuire says that his engine was pulled back nearly to the edge of the broken span before the coupling severed, and it regained its forward motion barely in time to save itself. The bridge over the River was an iron truss bridge, and had been in use about eleven years. The span is about one hundred feet long, and through the space between flows the river, about four or five feet deep, at this time thickly covered with ice. Into this space were the eleven cars and one engine and tender precipitated. The fall of sixty feet, of course breaking the icy covering, shattered the cars as if a magazine of nitro-glycerine had exploded beneath them. The seven passenger coaches altogether contained about 165 adults, besides a number of children. In the drawing room car, which was bound for Cleveland, were nine persons, all of whom are supposed to have perished by drowning or fire. In the two sleepers bound for Chicago, there were thirty-five passengers. Most of those in the forward car are saved, with injuries more or less severe. Within a very few moments after the crash the flames burst out simultaneously from nearly every car. The latest statement gives sixty wounded and one hundred killed.

Two Legislatures in Session in Louisiana.
NEW ORLEANS, January 1.—The Republicans assembled early to-day at the Statehouse, and the Democrats appeared at noon with contes ants, and demanded the removal of the police and barricades. The demand was refused and the Democrats protested and all withdrew to St. Patrick's Hall. The Republican body organized electing Michael Hahn speaker. The House has fifty-three members. Warmonth has sixteen adherents and the Senate has nineteen members making a full quorum. The Democratic House also organized and elected Louis Bush speaker. It has a working quorum. The Senate chose Mr. Ogden for president. The two Legislatures are now in good working order and there is no excitement.

THE SUN.
1877. NEW YORK 1877.
The present edition of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 66 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are familiar to our friends.
THE SUN will continue to be the foremost and most authoritative source of information for the substitution of steamship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will continue to supply the people with the most careful, complete and trustworthy accounts of current events and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents.
