A meeting of the white and black Federal courts.

On Wednesday last in the Court of Common Pleas, at Charleston, before Judge Reed, in the case of Daniel Hand vs. the Savannah and Charleston Railroad Company, and the other cases concerning this railroad. the report of C. T. Mitchell, Esq., the Receiver of the road, was read by Mr. H. E. Young, together with a report from C. S. Gadsden Esq., the Engineer and Superintendent, recommending that the present track from John's Island Ferry station to the Ashley river terminus be taken up, and that a new track from John's Island Ferry station to and across the Ashley river at Bee's ferry be built, to connect with the Ashley River Railroad Company, and by its track and that of the Northeastern Railroad to run into the city of Charleston, what they were under the Mackey House levy and they are ready to give their allegiance to the party which gives them such visible proof of its benefits. About two hundred colored tax payers have so far paid up against only fifty whites. The amount collected is over $3,000 and Mr. Gooding has forwarded $1,500 to Col umbre on account of the State tax.

Mr. B. B. Sams, auditor, complains that the books prepared by Mr. Langley his prelecessor, are in such a muddle as to be almost useless and if he had time he should prepare a new duplicate. After he got possession of the office, although the books had been completed and abstracts taken, he found 1,200 returns of tax payers that had not been entered. Many large estates are uot on the books and others differ so greatly from the returns made that they will have to be submitted to the Comptroller General for correction, making troublesome and annoying delays. A new list of appointments is advertised today, and it is the wish of the Auditor that tax payers will not neglect to make their returns promptly so he can get to work at the tax books for next year in time to en sure a careful and correct duplicate.

The Secretary of the Treasury has instructed Mr. Gage, collector of customs, to double his bond. This is not surprising as Mr. Gage has often had three times as much money in his hands as his loid called for, and it shows the confidence the department has had in his honesty that an increase of his bonds has not been called for before. The new order is in compliance with the new system of civil service reform.

The present troubles in Idaho and those which have recently occurred, with more or less disaster, are nothing new to the Government, and we suppose are yet to continue for years to come. The process seems to be the same everywhere. While the Indians possess or claim a territory, they are subject to encroachments on all sides from the whites; if they dispose of their territory and find themselves in narrow boundaries, then they complain that they have been cheated or wronged in some way, and commence depredations upon the settlers. In 1855 an immense reservation, chiefly in Idaho, was laid out for the Indians; the whites made encroachments upon it, the Indians roved beyond its boundahave followed. In one of the terrible battles in Virginia a Union officer fell wounded in front of the Confederate breastworks, and while he was lying on the ground and crying piteously for water, James Moore of Burke County, N. C., a Confeddrate sol dier, leapt over the fortifications, canteen in hand, and crept to the poor fellow and gave him a drink. The wounded man took out his gold watch and offered it to his benefactor, but it was refused. He then asked for the Confederate soldier's name and the two men parted. Moore subsequently lost a limb in one of the Virginia battles and returned a cripple to his home. The Raleigh News now tells the sequel to this strange adventure. A few days ago Moore received a letter from the Union soldier to whom he had given the cup of water announcing that the sum of ten thousand
