Beaufort, S. C., August 23, 1877.

A notice elsewhere from Col. Moore will be of interest to those having unlawful possession of State arms.

Any one desiring to buy a new Estey organ at a very low price can be accommodated by applying at this office.

The last steamer from New York to Port Royal brought freight enough for Savannah merchants to fill ten cars which was forwarded over the Port Royal Railroad.

The Dauntless Base Ball Club, Robert Barnes, Capt., will play a second game with the Chathams in Savannah to-day. They will go and return on the excursion steamer Cumberland which leaves at seven o'clock this (Thursday) morning with a large party for Savannah under the care of Rev. Mr. Bythewood.

Complaint being made that Caroline Smalls and Lizzie Robinson maintained a disorderly house, they were brought before the Intendant on Monday last and pleading guilty were sentenced to a fine or imprisonment. The sentence being suspended provided they left Town forthwith.

Some time ago a little boy lost his life on the Chisolm Place, St. Helena Island, by falling into a dangerous uncovered well, but still it was not regarded safe and last Saturday a woman fell into it and was drowned before assistance could be rendered her.

From calculations made it appears that the death rate among officers of the U. S. Navy is astonishingly high, being last year 25.45 per thousand. Assuming the average age of naval officers to be thirty, the death-rate is three times as high as that of civilians.

There is soon to be a change in our postal arrangements, the mail arriving here at 10 a. m. and closing at 3 p. m. This will give us an opportunity to answer our correspondence the same day it is received and besides give us our mail several hours earlier.

The Steamship Mexican, captain Whitburn, bound from West Indies to Liverpool with a cargo of sugar, mahogany, tobacco, &c. arrived in our harbor last Tuesday for coal and may take in freight if any offers. Superintendent Fleming and Mr. Rundle were in conference with Capt. Whitburn and we learn that freight enough can be supplied if the ship can wait a few days.

In the course of a week or two there is a prospect of a portion of the State school appropriation being disbursed. Trustees should make haste to send in a complete list of all certificates issued in order that the Commissioner may know what proportion of the amount can be paid. Any delay in paying teachers will be due to the neglect of Trustees in furnishing the information. It is also required that all school accounts be sworn to.

Chance Robbery of Bluffton has lately been playing upon the credulity of a Savannah merchant. It seems that a chance went into the store of Mr. O'Byrne and asked the proprietor to take care of a package which he said contained his bank book and ready cash. After this had been placed in the safe he obtained credit for a quantity of groceries and departed. Mr. O'Byrne subsequently began to entertain doubts as to the soundness of the Bluffton darkey's bank account and proceeded to open the package, which he found to contain nothing but a well thumbed spelling book. He then had Chance arrested.

More than a brief mention is due Mr. Melan, the efficient deputy of Sheriff Wilson. The suppression of crime and ferreting out of criminals, not only in Beaufort but in the adjacent counties, has largely been due to his untiring zeal. In these undertakings he has exposed himself to the risk of suffering violence at the hands of the ruffians whom he has sought to arrest and to attacks of malarial fever from nights passed in the open air and in swamps while on duty. We hope that some means will be found to recompense Mr. Melan for the recent arrest of "Double Quick" and his gang, but unless promises of reward are more faithfully kept than they have been in the past, his exertions will be paid for only in words.

THE TEMPERANCE UNION EXHIBITION.

A very fair audience greeted the first exhibition given by the Beaufort Temperance Union at the Methodist Church last Friday evening. A stage had been erected in the east of the church on which were seated several excellent singers, who treated the audience to some choice selections of music that was duly appreciated and enjoyed. The exercises consisted of recitations and declamations by members of the Union and, notwithstanding the intense heat, every one seemed pleased. The only suggestion we can offer would be that a greater variety of subjects should be chosen, as on this occasion only two of the pieces did not have Temperance for their motto. The youthful members did well and at their next entertainment, which will be given shortly they promise to do better. This organization which was started under the direction of Mrs. Goff has extended far and wide, and its good effects are seen in the reformation of many who were thought to be past salvation, and it is to the credit of our colored citizens that to their efforts the Union has been such a success, as but few whites have taken the pains either with their labor or presence to give encouragement to the cause. At the next exhibition we hope to see a large turnout of the people who by attending these entertainments can give material assistance and at the same time enjoy a treat worthy of their attention. Mr. Bamfield stated that the proceeds of the exhibition would be used to purchase tracts on temperance for distribution.

A score of our citizens including a "nine" of the once famed Cosmopolitan B. B. Club visited Savannah on Monday last to witness the great match game between the Carolinas of Charleston and the Dixies of Savannah. Mr. Davant, general ticket agent of the Port Royal Railroad furnished round trip tickets for $2.50, and Superintendent Fleming kindly provided a special coach for the exclusive use of the excursionists. A delightfully pleasant day and an abundance of good things in the satchels of the travellers left nothing to be desired. Arriving at Yemassee we found the Charleston train with three cars crowded with the followers of the Carolinas, which made the ample accommodations of our own car more apparent and caused steps to be taken to secure rooms at the Marshall House as we learned the Charleston boys were to be guests of the Pulaski. The trip to Savannah was enlivened by the indiscriminate firing of revolvers at stray pigs and other objects in range, but it became manifest that the pigs were safer when in front of the pistols, though how it would have fared with them had Winchester rifles been in the hands of our target marksmen was an open question. A bountiful dinner awaited our arrival at the hotel, to which justice was done and then followed a stroll in the park and to other points of interest which whied away the hours until bed time, when the party was escorted up all the stairs in the house and were only precluded from going higher by arriving at the roof, being taken for countrymen it was supposed that they were ignorant of the fact that many more desirable rooms remained vacant on stories nearer the ground.

Monday morning all was excitement over the impending contest. The hall of the Pulaskia House was filled with a crowd of men and boys interested in the sale of pools, in which the Dixies were favorites at about five to two. The immense gathering at the grounds a few hours before the game drew near showed how much interest was taken in the contest and its result. Before the second inning was over the confidence of Savannahians in their pet club was seen to be well founded and the Carolinians felt that they had more than their match although in the following innings they seemed to comprehend better the game of their opponents, and howed that they were not to be trifled with, contesting every inch stubbornly to the end, eliciting frequent applause by excellent plays. The result was a score of 8 to 3 in favor of the Dixies. After the close of the game the Carolinians issued a challenge to the Dixies to play them a game in Augusta within thirty days for $1000 a side, and it was understood that if the amount was paid the Dixies would accept the challenge. It was suggested that the same be played in Beaufort and there is a prospect that if played at all it may come off here.

Among the pleasures of the trip was a visit to the attractive and commodious establishment of the Morning News where can be seen one of the most complete offices in the South, and where the visiting stranger is show every courtesy by those in charge.
