TYPHOID FEVER

Some facts about Typhoid Fever. It is caused by a definite well recognized germ, and it is never caused by anything else. This germ never causes the disease unless it gains entrance into the digestive tract of people. There is only one method of entrance into the digestive tract—the mouth. Therefore the only method of contracting Typhoid Fever is by swallowing the Typhoid germ. Where does this germ come from, and why do we ever swallow it? This all important question is easily answered—the only source of supply is the body discharges of those who have or had had the disease, and they are swallowed because proper care is not taken in the disposal of these discharges. Therefore a person with Typhoid Fever has swallowed the discharges from another person who at the time is suffering with the disease, or from a Typhoid carrier—a person who has had the disease at some previous time, but still manufactures the germ in his digestive tract. Investigation has shown that four per cent of all those having the disease become carriers. These carriers are the greatest source of danger to others because they are not aware of the fact—hence they take no precautions.

The average death rate from Typhoid is ten per cent. The average cost of typhoid cases is more than fifty dollars each, counting the care for the sick, it costs many times more for a person to be sick with typhoid than the burial of a person. Four per cent of those recovered are typhoid carriers and act as constant danger to their family and community, thus the urgent need for sanitation.

METHODS OF SPREADING TYPHOID.

There are three agencies—the hand, the house fly, and drinking water. The hands of those coming in contact with the excreta, bed clothes and dishes of a Typhoid patient can easily carry the germs to their own mouths, or contaminate the food of others. In a similar way the Typhoid carrier is a constant source of danger to those about her. There is upon record a case where an epidemic of twenty cases of Typhoid with three deaths was traced directly to ice cream served at a picnic. All those who ate cream from a certain churn contracted the disease except the woman who made it and her daughter. Investigation showed that this woman had had the disease seventeen years before and that three out of five school teachers who had boarded in her home since then had likewise contracted it, besides almost every member of her own family. Examination of the bowel movement of this woman showed the presence of the germ—conclusive proof that she was the source of infection.

Water to be a source of infection must become contaminated with human excreta. This is usually brought about by surface contamination—that is excreta is carried by animals, fowls, or persons to the well from the back of the unsanitary privy and washed into the well. At times it is carried by underground drainage from the privy to the well.

The most usual method of contracting Typhoid Fever is by means of the house fly. This apparently harmless creature is a most dangerous foe to our health. The most common breeding place of the fly is the horse stable, but they are found in swarms about the nsanitary privy and it is from here that they bring the germs of Typhoid Fever and other diseases to the food upon our tables.

METHODS TO USE TO PREVENT TYPHOID.

In a family in which there is a case of Typhoid the patient's room should be thoroughly screened. If there is a trained nurse present she will take the necessary precautions; if a member of the family is acting as nurse, she should never prepare any food for any other member of the family. Be sure to keep flies from the discharges of the patient. The fact that we would have you remember is that is not necessary to have this disease. The easiest method of prevention is to have fly proof sanitary closets for each family on your premises, and see that they are used.

If you do not know what type of closet will be the best for you get the State Board of Health's bulletin on "Safe Disposal of Human Excreta" or the leaflet on "What Kind of Closet Shall I Build?" We shall be glad to furnish you either or both of these upon application.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS PROCEEDINGS

When The Dispatch-News went to press last week the Court of Common Pleas was engaged in the trial of the famous Spire's will case which was concluded on Saturday. The question before the jury was: "Did Jas. H. Spire, deceased, sign and execute the paper in question purporting to be his last will and testament? The jury answered the question by saying "yes."

The estate involves a large amount of real estate as well as cash, and was one of the hardest fought cases ever tried here. Timmerman Graham & Callison, T. C. Sturkie and E. L. Asbill represented the will, and Judge C. M. Efrid of the local bar and Col. D. S. Henderson, of Aiken, appeared for the contestants.

At the conclusion of the Spire's case the court took a recess until Monday of this week, when the Court met promptly at 10 o'clock, under Uncle Sam's new time; and the first case called was that of Meetze vs. Barre. This was a case growing out of the alleged illegal service of a distress warrant on the public highway to collect rent alleged to have been due the defendants by the plaintiff. The jury found for the plaintiff the sum of $30.00 actual damages and $150.00 punitive damages. Judge Bowman reduced the amount of punitive damages to $100.00.

The plaintiff was represented by John T. Duncan of Columbia, and the defendant by Judge Efrid.

In the case of Cleopatra Westrainger, Administratrix, vs. Southern Railway Co., a consent verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $2,000 was recorded.

The court is now engaged in the trial of the case of Mary E. Strickland, Administratrix, vs. Southern Railway Co., in which plaintiff is seeking to recover $50,000 for the alleged death of her husband, this being the third trial of the case. At the first hearing Special Judge McCullough granted a non-suit, and was reversed at higher court, at the second hearing a verdict for $4,000 was returned, and both sides asked for a new trial.

Every inch of ground is being hotly contested, W. Boyd Evans of Columbia leading counsel for plaintiff, being assisted by Judge Efrid, McElton & Sturkie and E. L. Asbill, while Dr. Geo. B. Cromer, of Newberry, is vision counsel of the Southern Railway, is being assisted by Hon. George Bell Timmerman. The case will probably last for two or three days.

COUNTY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION MET MONDAY.

The quarterly meeting of the county Medical Society Monday, was well attended by the profession of the county with visitors from other counties.

The main topic for discussion was gone over by Dr. Riser very thoroughly in regard to the county health campaign now under the direct management of our County Health officer, Dr. Folk, who is getting his work well in hand and is well equipped and prepared for this work, which should be fostered and aided by every human being inhabiting the entire county. This is one of the most important and far reaching efforts ever made in Lexington county for the betterment of sanitation and health of the public in any and every sphere of life. This campaign is for this year 1918 and during this year Dr. Folk is ready to aid, in the suppression, treatment and management of all contagious infections and epidemic outbreaks for the protection and benefit of the public and particularly tuberculosis in all forms and is prepared to make microscopical examinations for the medical profession of the county as well as the laity.

Dr. Folk hopes soon to have the aid of a trained nurse to aid him in carrying on his work; and she may probably visit the homes of the county and furnish free instruction as to the care of the homes for the better protection of the inmates against disease and the best sanitary effects and care of those sick in our homes. Dr. Folk and the trained nurse, when she arrives, may be found over The Home National Bank when needed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The Sunday schools of the fourth District which embraces Saluda, Broad River and Fork townships Lexington County will meet 10:30 A. M. Thursday April 11th, at St. Michael's Church, Rev. M. D. Huddle pastor.

All Sunday schools in the district will please see that their schools are represented and it would be well to attend to this next Sunday. Send at least three delegates from each school.

All ministers in the District are members and are earnestly requested to attend. A full and interesting program is prepared and among the expert workers is the general secretary, Prof. R. D. Webb. Dinner will be served on the ground. Let no school or church worker in the district fail to attend. So plan now to come and share in the feast that will be here for soul and body.

WAGES OF MALE FARM LABOR.

The BUREAU OF CROPS ESTIMATES OF THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE has recently made public through its office the following estimates pertaining to male farm labor. The estimates are for SOUTH CAROLINA as well as the UNITED STATES AS A WHOLE.

WAGES OF MALE FARM LABOR. South Carolina per month with board: 1918, $18.00; 1917, $12.00. UNITED STATES, per month with board: 1917, $18.00; 1916, $12.00. South Carolina per month without board, 1917, $25.00; 1916, $26.50. UNITED STATES per month without board 1917, $40.43; 1916, $27.10.

The average wage per month with board 1916 in SOUTH CAROLINA and the average per day other than for harvest work was $93 with board and $1.16 without board.

B. B. Hare,
Field Agent.

MRS. REBECCA LIPPARD.

Mrs. Rebecca Lippard died at her home near Ballentine Friday at the advanced age of 83 years, after having been an invalid for a number of years. She is survived by her husband, Thomas Lippard, who has a number of relatives and friends around the town of Lexington. Mrs. Lippard was a Miss Fuller of the Fork section. None of her brothers and sisters survive. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Spring Hill Lutheran Church.

ENROLLMENT OF SHIPBUILDERS.

Lexington County, has about 30 applications for positions in the shipbuilders work, our pro rata share is 80 men we are far short of our number. Any one wishing to apply in this work will let it be known to the Township Chairman, or address me at Leesville, S. C. and application cards will be furnished them.

D. M. CROSSON,
Enrollment Agent.

NOTICE.

I hereby request, that the merchants of Lexington close their stores on Monday 8th. During the hours of meeting of County Council of Defense, and attend to meeting, nothing will be lost by them and it will show a patriotic spirit besides. Rev. Hugh R. Harrison, Field Sec'y. Dr. Geo. B. Cromer, and Prof. E. M. Rucker of Columbia are expected to be here.

D. M. CROSSON,
Chairman County Council of Defense.
