CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.—There will be no day trains on Sundays hereafter, but the night trains will be substituted instead.

An unsuccessful effort was made, as it is supposed, to burn the new dwelling house of Mr. J. W. Patrick on Thursday night, as a fire was built by some one under the house, which fortunately went out without setting fire to the building.

A debating club was organized at Fort Motte on Oct. 16th. The question, "Be it resolved that women should have the right to vote," was ably discussed by S. L. Duncan, chief on the affirmative, and Geo. W. Brown, chief on the negative.

A boy about sixteen years old, who was stealing a ride on the cars, was severely injured on Thursday night at the depot. He was riding upon the bumper between the freight cars and fell upon the track.

An old employee of the S. C. R. R., named Robert Winter, was killed by the cars at Jamison's last Monday night. A bottle of whiskey near where the body was found, indicated that Winter had been drinking and probably had l. d down on the truck to sleep off his drunken stupor.

THE FAIR.—It was very generally known that the present week was to be the great exhibition of our county Agricultural and Mechanical Association. This, with other exhibitions too numerous to mention, has made the present week one of unusual interest in our thriving burg.

on attending this exhibition that our county had been subject to a disastrous drought during the past summer. We never saw finer potatoes, corn, wheat, rice and cotton than were the specimens here shown. The ladies, especially, presented a grand display. Busy hands guided by skill and care, gave us a fine showing of the useful and ornamental. Life's necessities, comforts and luxuries had all been duly considered, and wonderfully supplied by woman's taste and woman's work.

We were glad to notice the great improvement in stock, compared with the exhibition of last year. There was such a showing of swine, sheep and cattle as to indicate that the improvements in blooded stock had not been entirely overlooked.

We hope this valuable association will take courage from the success they have already achieved in this good work. Skilled labor is what is greatly needed to develop our ample resources. Such innocent competition as is here encouraged will have a tendency to produce this. Our agricultural products and cherished industries must be thrown out of the old ruts in which they have so long been suffered to wear the beaten track.
