Three-Legged Goat Barred. With tearful eyes Antonio Maffeta yesterday stood on the dock of the Italia Line, and waved his hand to "Billy," his three-legged goat. "Billy," meanwhile munched an apple and a piece of paper which one of the crew of the Taormina, on which he was departing from country, had given him, says the Philadelphia North American.

At last, the goat vanished from eight, and rage mingled with grief in Maffeta's breast. It seems that the Italian had obtained the goat, which came from a part of Turkey where they grow three-legged gonts. He intended to exhibit it in this country as a freak. But when he got here, he found that the importation of goals from Turkey, Greece or France. is forbidden, and while Maffeta was admitted, Billy was kept out.

Maffeta protested to no avail. The deportation of his tripedal pet, he was convinced, was a retaliation by the Government, for the Turkish attacks upon American missionaries. Anyhow, if it was the law, it was a hard law, and ought not to be enforced against cripples. So. 22-'09.
