SWAMP MUD. - Were the farmars to pay more attention to draining their low lands they would find it much to their interest. Separate from the advantages of rendering their low lands dry and productive, much manure of the first quality might be taken from the ditches, and when spread upon fallows and other uplands under til- Kershaw district at the ensuing election. lage, would repay all the expense of ditching. Many seem to entertain the idea, that nothing is worth carting or spreading as manure, unless it has been collected in the barn yard, or is the excrement of animals.

All vegetable matter undergoing decomand may be applied as manures. In short possession. any thing, whether vegetable or animal substance, which on being mixed with a soil under cultivation, and which increases the growth of plants cultivated in such soil, is termed manure. Different soils apply to require different substances to be applied, in order to facilitate the growth of plants; thus, light and sandy soils, which are too fitted by the application of clay; and such earths as are comparatively too retentive of moisture, are greatly altered ed for the better, by mixing with the n a portion of saud, so that whatever be the HOSE indebted to the subscriber for 1836 are soil which requires ditching, the earth removed may be carted to a different soil, and be applied as a manure. There is on some farms small swamps or depressions, in which vegetable matter collects, and which cannot without considerable expense be drained; these frequently become dry during summer, when large quantities of manure might be taken out of them. Good farmers will look carefully to these things; but some that are of the importance of such deposites, and settle the same, and execute legal discharges.

PATENT COTTON GIV. HIS Gin can be made double, or single. made double, they reduce labor, and gin just double, the quantity of cotton over the single cylinder Gin, no other knd having been in use previous to this patent; and whether single or double, they are found to improve the quality of the cotton, by more perfectly cleaning it. They can be made to contain from 20 to 160 saws in a stand, and whether small or large, one hand will be sufficient to attend them. The Gins have made in a stand. them. The Gins have mechanical feeders and hoppers attached to them, which free the cotton from leaves, trash, dirt, &c. before it can reach the saws, and by the thorough hackling operation it receives from the feeders, which make two revolutions to one of the saws, it is almost in a half gined state, before it descends to the saw By a very simple arrangement of a screw to each set of gaates, on which the hoppers rest, and through which the teeth of the feeders pass, they can be made to feed slow or fast to suit the condition of the cotton at the time. When made double, the saws are placed on two sets of cylinders and turn upon each other in opposite directions, and are cleansed by two sets of brushes that have four revolutions to one of twe saw. The two cylinders can be detached so as to enable the planter to run one or both at pleasure, although embraced with feeders, &c. in one stand The whole is put in operation with a d um and band, as in the ordinary Gin, and may be propelled by horse, steam, or water power. It may also be propelled by iron running gear. The force required to work it, is about the same as that necessary to move an equal number of saws in the common Gin. cox county; signed also by Dr. David J. Means, a planter of Green county, and Mr. Wm. C Clifton, a planter of Dallas county, all of Ala. Dr. Jones-Dear Sir, In reply to your inquiry concerning your inquiry concerning your new Pattent Cotton Gin, we deem it no less a pleasure than a duty to say to you, emphatically, that we consider it a most decided and valuable improvement. We have examined it carefully and seen it in successful operation, and we feel no hesitatancy

From Mr. H. F. M. Kenna, of the house of Brander, M. Kenna & Wright, of New Orleans.

Dr. A. Jones—Dear Sir, in reply to your note, accompanied by a specimen of the cotton, ginned by your Patent Gin, I beg leave to observe, that it exhibits a decid d improvement on the usual process of ginning; delivering the staple uninjured and free from han or trash, clean and of good color; thereby giving the article an additional value These favorable impressions of the advantages of your Patent Gin, have been confirmed by subsequently witnessing it in operation. The utility of the double cylinders and saving of labor, will be readily perceived and properly appreciated by the intelligent planter. t eeling a deep interest in the success of all improvements tending to benefit the important staples of our country, I trust that yours will meet with the encouragement it justly merits.

Dr. A Jo es-Dear Sir, in answer to your inqui-Dr. A Jo es—Dear Sir, in answer te your inquirry of my opinion of your Patent Cotton Gin, I beg leave to state, that I was fifteen years engaged in the cotton factories of Manchester, England, and during four years of that time, I was foremen in the house of Messrs. Lewis, Williams & Co., and dear five years spinner in the house of Messrs. Sandford & Grene. I have seen your Cotton, Gin in overation and have examined the Cotton Gin in operation, and have examined the cotton ginned by i., and pronounce it better clean-sed, and the staple less injured, than any cotton that ever came under my observation. It is completely reasy for the breaker without the aid of the blower, and would, therefore, save the first process in manufacturing the article I consider cotton cleansed by your Gin, would command from one to two cents on the pound more than the average crops brought into the Manchester market, and N. Orleans, March 9, GEORGE SENIOR.

Dr. Jones-Dear Sir, in answer to your is quiry respecting my opinion of your Patent Cotton Gin, I have to state, that I have been engaged in putting up the Carver Gins for planters on Red River. and that I have seen your Gin in operation, and have examined the quality of the cotton produced by it; I consider it equal if not superior to the Carver Gins: in addition to which, I think your feeders a decided improvement, and by the aid of which, the quality of the cotton clearsed appears much improved, over that produced by the common Gins. Yours &c. S. BENNETT. S. BENNETT.

New Orleans, March 10 1837. In addition to the above, the Patentee will refer planters to the following gentlemen, who have either seen the Gin in operation, or have examined samples cleansed by it: Messrs. N. & J.
