Niles' Prospector's Register Revived.

PROSPECTOR'S REGISTER OF THE COUNTRYMAN

NILES' REGISTER, the most useful journal ever issued in America, has been revived in the publication of THE COUNTRYMAN.

This journal is a facsimile of its original in the number and size of pages, its typography, and all the features which gave value to the standard publications issued by Mr. Niles.

Besides the features of Niles' Register, The Countryman has others which shall render it still more attractive, to wit: department of elegant literature, rejecting the style of Yankee literary journals, and following itself after the best English miscellaneous weeklies, but at the same time being stamped with an independent, southern tone, original with and peculiar to itself.

An altogether novel feature with it, that it is published in the country on the plan of a plantation, nine miles from any town or village, and devotes much attention to agriculture, rural sports, and everything that interests the country gentleman.

The Countryman is a handsome quarto, of sixteen pages, published weekly in the editor's plantation, near Eatonton, Ga., to which all communications should be addressed.

Our terms are $5 for three months, or $2.00 per annum. Send all remittances by express.

Prospectus of "The Age."

THE undersigned has commenced, in the City of Richmond, the publication of a Monthly Magazine, under the above title.

It presents to its readers selections from the best European Periodicals, of literary and scientific articles, of Novels and Sketches, which, having already received the imprimatur of an enlightened taste, cannot but prove acceptable to the Southern public.

The effort will be made to keep the readers of the Magazine as nearly as possible abreast of the literary progress of the age. Arrangements have been made which, it is hoped, will enable the proprietors to secure this end.

The Magazine also presents original articles from our best writers, in all departments, and a special aim of the proprietors of this periodical will be to foster Southern authorship by offering an adequate and remunerative field for its exercise.

The Industrial Resources and the Educational Interest of the Confederacy—the twin foundations of true independence—will receive the important share of attention they deserve. In the development of these questions, its object will be to make a practical application of the doctrine of States Rights to the policy of the country.

The various departments of literature to which the Magazine is devoted, may be named as follows: 1. Essays, original and selected, political, literary and scientific, and biographical sketches.

2. Novels, Tales and Sketches, original and selected. 3. Reviews of Books.

4. Educational Essays and News. 5. Notices of the progress of Science and Art.

In the fourth section, it is the design to afford to Teachers information needed in their profession, and a field for the interchange of ideas on that subject, to which end, their assistance and collaboration is invited.

Southern School Books will be noticed and reviewed; and the Southern system of Education as opposed to New England empiricism and practicalism, upheld, developed and defended.

Trans.—Each number $1.50 For three months $4. For six months $8. The trade will be supplied by GEO. L. BIRDGOODS, 161 Main Street.

The Southern Confederacy.

A DAILY JOURNAL. FOR THE ARMY AND THE PEOPLE. DEVOTED TO THE INTEREST OF THE SOLDIERS of the Army of Tennessee and the people of the Confederate States, being a National Newspaper of news, Political, Military, and Miscellaneous, Foreign and Domestic, prepared by ready writers and correspondents.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA. The Editorial Department of the Southern Confederacy includes a combination of political, literary and industrial talent, systematized in the several departments of enlarged journalism, whose chief duty it will be to present the public a daily mirror of popular thought, action and event, after its own fashion and from a purely independent point of view.

The News Department of the Southern Confederacy will embrace a careful compilation from all the Southern papers, and from late Northern and Foreign sheets—arrangements having been effected for the reception of these.

A large and capable circle of correspondents from every section of the country will contribute no little to the prompt collection of transpiring events. Especially will be our care to note the affairs of the Army in our front, upon which hangs the destiny and in a great part the entire South.

A very large share of attention will be paid to matters of a local interest, for which purpose a competent Local Editor with an efficient staff of reporters, have been employed.

All communications should be addressed to the EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS. feb 12/65 Southern Confederacy.

Southern Literary Messenger.

THIS long established and well-known journal of literature having been recently purchased by the subscribers, will, in future, be conducted exclusively under their control.

In all its departments, both business and editorial, the Messenger will be under the management of an entirely new regime, and the Proprietors are sanguine of success in the future which the Magazine has never yet realized, if their friends and the public shall yield them a support worthy of so important an enterprise, looking to the advancement of the highest literary interest of the Confederacy.

Argument or appeal in behalf of the importance of an elevated literature to our country, the absence of which has hitherto made us a by-word of reproaches among the other nations, and even now militates against our interests abroad, need not be addressed to those whom this circular is designed to reach.

But to the attainment of this great end, something more is necessary than mere verbal expressions of sympathy and encouragement. The friends of Southern literature must foster the efforts of our literary men to secure for us a worthy position in the world of letters.

We design the Messenger to be an enterprise worthy of support of all classes of our people. We shall aim chiefly to secure for our pages, the productions of the highest order of genius and scholarship, and at the same time such articles as will contribute to the instruction and amusement of the public at large. To this end we shall give our attention to and solicit contributions from Southern writers in all the departments of literature. Poetry, Romance, Review, Criticism, in short, every subject whose prominence is sufficient to entitle it to notice, will have its due share of attention.

We earnestly solicit the assistance of our friends throughout the Confederacy in the enlargement of our subscription list, which must be increased to enable us to meet the heavy pecuniary outlay to which we shall be subjected.

For the present the price of subscription will be $10 for twelve months, $6 for six months, if the order is received previous to March 1, 1865. After that date the subscription will be $12 for twelve months, $8 for six months. This increase will not affect those who subscribe before the first of March next. Orders must be accompanied with the cash.

Mr. George C. Wedderburn, formerly of New Orleans, now of this city, will control the business interests of the Messenger, and Mr. Frank H. Alfriend, of this city, will direct its editorial management. Communications connected with the literary conduct of the Messenger will be directed to the editor; other communications should be directed to the Proprietors.

WEDDERBURN & ALFRIEND, feb 12/65 Richmond, Va.

A New Paper in Richmond.

THE undersigned propose to publish a Daily Paper, under the title of "The Richmond Herald," on or about the 15th of January ult.

It will be entirely independent in politics, but will nevertheless accord to the Administration a just support in all measures which, in the opinion of its conductors, may be deemed promotive of the good of the cause in which we are engaged. A proper criticism of such acts as will be deemed adverse to this object, will be, of course, consistent with the independent character under which the paper is to be inaugurated.

In the matter of General News it will be found to keep pace with the leading journals of the day, while it will have added to it, in the matter of financial intelligence a feature such as we venture to say, no paper in the Confederacy can boast of. Editorials from the pen of one of the ablest financial writers in this or any other country will be presented in each number.

For reasons not now proper to be mentioned, we forbear to give the names of those who shall compose the regular editorial staff; but we flatter ourselves that when they shall appear, they will be found to constitute such an array of talent as cannot be excelled on this continent.

The well known character of the individual whose name appears below, as a stenographic reporter, furnishes, we presume, a guarantee that, in all that relates to important political speeches and debates, whether in legislative assemblies or out of them, the "Herald" will present advantages certainly not to be excelled by any paper in the Confederacy.

The farming interests will be faithfully vindicated, and care taken to disseminate the earliest intelligence which a proper regard for the welfare of that great element of national wealth and power shall demand.

In the matter of correct commercial intelligence, equal zeal shall be manifested, our object being to assign to each of these departments an editor of known experience and ability.

Arrangements are on foot by which to secure the earliest foreign news, and the paper will contain such editorial talent as will fully elucidate the bearing of foreign diplomacy upon Southern interests.

In short, "The Richmond Herald" will be found to combine every feature of interest which the requirements of the present crisis demand.

The enterprise is respectfully commended to the favor and patronage of the citizens of the Southern Confederacy.

ANOTHER WAR MEETING.

FAVETTEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 15.—A large and enthusiastic war meeting was held here to-day. A large number of ladies were present. Patriotic speeches were made by a number of gentlemen.

After setting forth, in the preamble, the failure of the peace conference, and the terms it which Lincoln proposes peace, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the terms offered to the people of the Confederate States are such as cannot be accepted; and we regard the conditions, which are insolent and malignant, to conquer, might impose upon a down-trodden and subjected nation.

Resolved, That with the contemptuous reply of the Federal Government to the effort and offers of the Government of the Confederate States, to treat for peace upon terms compatible with the honor and dignity of the latter, there is no alternative now left but a universal and unanimous submission on the one side, or a struggle to the death, if need be, for honor and independence on the other.

Resolved, That with this alternative presented, the citizens who are here assembled do not hesitate to declare their choice and now enfold of greater sacrifices yet to be made, of heavy burdens yet to be borne, they will bear all with patience and steady endurance, to vindicate their high principles involved in this struggle; and feeling that their cause is right, and that success, to our cause is connected with best hope and with highest happiness to themselves and their posterity, they pledge to each their life, fortune and sacred honor in this holy cause.

State Record of Names of Deceased Soldiers.

SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE, COLUMBIA, JANUARY 16, 1865.

UNDER appointment by the Legislature to prepare this Record, I earnestly appeal to the families or friends of our deceased soldiers to send me at once their names &c., while there is an opportunity to secure accurate information. Hospital registers and reports of casualties from the army are deficient in the information required; it must be obtained at home.

The Record will date back to the beginning of the war, and include all who have been killed in battle or died of wounds received in battle, or from disease or accident. If you have been so fortunate as not to lose a friend or relative, yet remember that it is noble to rescue from oblivion the name of but one friendless youth who had gone from your neighborhood to die in our cause.

Give—1. Name in full. 2. From what District, 3. Rank, 4. Company, 5. Regiment and arm of service, 6. Died, year, month, day, 7. Cause of death, and remarks (as where he died, age, previously wounded, &c.)

Circulars and blanks to be filled will be sent to such as desire them. No fee or expense is incurred by any one for having the record made. The State is endeavoring to fulfill a sacred obligation in securing now, and recording for posterity, the names of all her sons who have fallen in this war. In 1862, the Convention unanimously resolved that this should be done, "as a token of respect to their memories, and a legacy of inestimable value to their friends;" and the resolution was sent forth, by their order, to be read to our regiments, battalions and companies everywhere. Many a brave soldier may have died in solitude or rushed upon the foe, with the thought in his heart that his name would be honorably preserved at home.
