Irish Drollery—An Entirely Cosmopolitan Hibernian.

A son of the Emerald Isle, but not himself green was taken up, not far from Manassas Junction. In a word Pat was taking a quiet nap in the shade; and was roused from his slumber by a scolding party. He wore no special uniform of either army, but looked more like a spy than an alligator, and on this was arrested.

"Who are you? What is your name?" and "Where are you from?" were the first questions put to him by the armed party.

Pat rubbed his eyes, scratched his head, and answered:

"Be me faith, gentlemen, them is ugly questions to answer, anyhow; an before I answer any of them, I'd be after axing y' by yer leave, the same thing."

"Well," said the leader, "we are of Scott's army and belong to Washington."

"All right," said Pat, "I know'd ye was a gentleman, for I am that same. Long life to General Scott!"

"Ah!" replied the scout, "now, you really are our prisoner," and seized him by the shoulder.

"How is that," inquired Pat, are we not friends?"

"No," was the answer; "we belong to General Beauregard's army."

"Then ye told me a lie, me boys, and thinking it might be so, I told you another. And now tell me the truth, so I'll tell the truth, too."

"Well, we belong to the State of South Carolina."

"So do I," promptly responded Pat, "and to all the other States in the country, too, and there, I'm thinking, I bade the whole uv ye. Do ye think I would come all the way from Ireland to belong to one State when I had a right to belong to the whole of 'em?"

This logic was rather a stumper; but they took him up, as before said, and carried him for further examination.

PICTURE OF LIFE.—In youth we seem to be climbing a hill on whose top eternal sunshine appears to rest. How eagerly we pant to attain its summit! But when we have gained it, how different is the prospect on the other side! We sigh as we contemplate the dreary waste before us, and look back with wistful eye upon the flowery path we have passed, but may never more retrace.

Life is like a portentous cloud, fraught with thunder, storm, and rain; but religion, like those streaming rays of sunshine, will clothe it with light as with a garment, and fringe its shadowy skirts with gold.

Our readers are cautioned against counterfeit fives and tens, altered and raised from the genuine $2 bills, of the Bank of the State of South Carolina. The deception can readily be detected in a good light and with careful observation.

State of South Carolina.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL CHAMBER,
COLUMBIA, April 24, 1862.

THE following resolutions were adopted by the Governor and Executive Council, and were ordered to be published:

The Congress of the Confederate States of America having passed an Act, entitled "An Act to further provide for the public defence," approved April 10, 1862, which authorizes the President to call out and place in the military service of the Confederate States for three years, unless they shall have been sooner ended, all white men who are residents of the Confederate States between the ages of eighteen (18) and thirty-five (35), except those exempt by law, the Governor and Council, as representing the authority of the State, are induced to wait, for the present, all objections to the measure, and to give it a cheerful and energetic support upon the ground of imperative public necessity. The operation of the Act aforesaid takes all the material of Armies between the ages mentioned, from the control of the State, whether for active duty in the field, or for internal police and defence. To meet this new condition of things, it becomes necessary that the State shall adopt further measures to organize its forces and provide for its defence.

Therefore, be it resolved: 1. That the State Reserve Force shall be organized as promptly as practicable, to consist of two corps:

2. That the first corps shall embrace all male citizens of this State, between the ages of thirty-five (35) and fifty (50) years, who shall be held for active service, whenever required by the State authorities, and shall be subject to the performance of patrol and police duty until called into active service.

3. That the second Corps shall embrace all those persons who are by law exempted from ordinary militia duty, all alien residents, and all male citizens between the ages of sixteen (16) and eighteen (18), and fifty (50) and sixty-five (65) years, who shall be held for the performance of Patrol and Police duty, and for the internal defence of the State when required.

4. That to effect the organization of the several Corps of Reserves, it shall be the duty of the Adjutant and Inspector-General to cause a prompt and accurate enrollment of all persons embraced within the two classes specified, as well as those embraced in the said Act of Congress, specifying in each case, the roll with the names, the exemptions, if any, and the causes and evidence thereof, the age, and the District, Parish, Regiment and Boat Company within which the persons respectively, may reside. And for this purpose, the Adjutant and Inspector-General shall employ the agencies provided in the first resolution passed by the Governor and Council on the 6th of March, 1862, to comply with the requisition made by the Secretary of War for five regiments from this State, and he will use every other instrumentality as he may deem proper.

By order of the Governor and Council.
B. F. ARTHUR, Secretary.

PROSPECTOR

THE "PORTFOLIO."

At this particular time, when we have covered every column of which bound in innumerable to an oppressive matter; when we have exhausted our store from the harvest and continuing through the season of famine, and when there is no prospect of a new harvest, we have decided to publish a new "Portfolio," to be issued as a people, to enlighten that people, to instruct them, to comfort them, to cheer them, and to extend a helping hand to those who are in distress.

We will spare no pains to make this "Portfolio" the most useful and interesting of its kind. It will be a source of information to the young, and a source of amusement to the old. It will be a source of instruction to the ignorant, and a source of comfort to the distressed. It will be a source of enlightenment to the people, and a source of cheer to the weary.
