

OUR FOOD PROBLEMS CAUSED BY THE WAR

Handled by Department of Agriculture in Four Page Leaflet

CANNOT FURNISH EXCEPT TO LEADERS

But the Press Will Publish Some Information From Time to Time.

Uncle Sam's food advice to his people at war, condensed in four-page "United States Food Leaflets," and aimed to stimulate food saving without slighting body needs, are now ready.

Beginning with the day's first meal the experts take up the daily food problems of the average home.

In four-page nutshells and in big, readable type, the problem of foods and diets are presented in a way which should make them "strike home" every home in America.

A Dinner in One Dish. Confident that "A Whole Dinner in One Dish," presented in Food Leaflet No. 3, will make good its name, the Government's food specialists guarantee that:

"Youngsters will like it." "Father will like it." "You will like it."

Here is another brief lesson in food economy taught in one pointed paragraph: "Use cereals--corn-meal mush, oatmeal, rice, hominy grits. These are much cheaper than some 'ready-to-eat' breakfast foods."

Diets for the children, one leaflet says in big type, should not be skimpy, but a wise selection will enable food saving even in their meals.

"Sweets are good for them--the right ones at the right time. Dates, raisins, stewed, simple puddings, and sugar cookies are better than candy."

A New Method of Distribution. The United States food leaflets are intended to supplement rather than replace the Department's publications on food and other home problems.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU DEATHLY SICK

Stop using dangerous drug before it salivates you! It's horrible!

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee. Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great.

SUBMARINES FAR AHEAD IN RACE

Washington.--Ship tonnage sunk by submarines in 1917 was nearly three times as great as the total production in the United States and Great Britain during the year.

This was disclosed by the announcement of Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, in the British House of Commons, that Great Britain produced only 1,163,474 tons of shipping last year.

While complete figures on construction in Japan, Italy, France and other nations in 1917 are not yet available, officials here do not believe their aggregate equalled that of the United States.

Both American and British officials expect a very different story in 1918, however. The United States and Great Britain are speeding up their building programs and naval officials of both countries have confidently predicted that the submarine will be curbed this summer.

The output of ship tonnage in the United States in 1918 has been variously estimated at from 2,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons. No estimate of Great Britain's output has been received.

Deaths and not arguments is the thing which decides wars after they have been started and caused by arguments.

LEGISLATURE ENDS NEAR MIDNIGHT

Columbia.--Final adjournment of the General Assembly was taken at 12:13 o'clock. Little business remained to engage the attention of the two houses throughout the evening, but to await the engrossing of the county supply bill and to ratify a number of other measures.

Just when the city clock was striking the midnight hour, committees were appointed from the two houses to notify the Governor that the desks were clear of the work of the session and asked to receive any communications.

The session began January 11, thus terminating before the full 40-day period had elapsed. The session just closed was characterized by other features than brevity, one of these being the complete absence of fractional politics. Fewer legislatures, more democratic in character and temperament, have ever been assembled in the State.

Early in the evening session, Governor Manning signed many of the important bills, among the first of these being that creating an institution for the feeble-minded, the State industrial school for girls and the federal prohibition amendment. The general appropriation bill was signed at 9:45 o'clock.

"I respectfully inform your honorable body that I have signed the appropriation bill and the school and county supply bill and have no further communication or message.

"With this session coming to a close, permit me to say that you have passed many of the measures which are particularly important in this national emergency. I regret very much the failure of your honorable body to give your official sanction to certain measures, but I believe that your favorable action will come at a subsequent session.

"In bidding you good-bye, I extend my best wishes for your future welfare and feel certain that you will carry deep in your hearts the messages that have come from the President of the United States and others in authority. I urge you, now that you are returning to your people, to see that the people of South Carolina are prepared and will make every sacrifice necessary to the preservation of our national and State institutions, our liberties and the maintenance of right and justice of mankind, which are now threatened by the grasping clutch of the German military autocracy.

"May God's blessing rest upon you and yours."

Several brief speeches were made at the closing hours of the session last night in tribute to Harry R. Hughes, of Oconee, who has volunteered his services and has been accepted in the aviation signal corps. Since the opening of the General Assembly he went to Atlanta and upon examination qualified for this exacting branch of the war service. He will report for duty at Austin, Texas, about April 1. The course of training will continue about 18 weeks.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect the Head Because of its tonic and laxative effect. LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness nor ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE, 30c.

PRICE OF COTTON NOT TO BE FIXED

Washington.--It became practically certain here today that there will be no price fixing of cotton prices by congress now. Today Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina was asked about the matter and said he was positive that no action of this kind would be taken for some time.

"I am satisfied that the senate committee on agriculture will not agree to the fixing of a price on cotton or any other farm product unless there is a general fixing of prices on all, and this is most unlikely," said Senator Smith. Senator Smith is a member of this committee.

AND NOW THEY ARE COOKING TOBACCO TO MAKE IT BETTER

For a good many years The American Tobacco Company have been conducting a series of experiments having as their object the improvement of smoking tobaccos.

And it is interesting to know that one of the greatest of their discoveries was one of the simplest, and that was, that cooking or toasting tobacco improved it in every way, just as cooking most foods improves them.

They took a real Burley tobacco, grown in this country; toasted it as you would toast bread; moistened it to replace the natural moisture driven off by toasting; made it into cigarettes, called them "LUCKY STRIKE, the toasted cigarette," and offered them to the public.

The result has been the greatest demand ever created for any tobacco product in a similar length of time.

The change produced by toasting is not only most wholesome, but the flavor is greatly improved, just as cooking improves meat, for example.

FLOUR SUPPLY CENSUS ORDERED BY ELLIOTT

The following statement relative to the proposed census of the flour supply in the State was issued last night by William Elliott, State Food Administrator:

Washington has authorized flour census on basis agreed upon at administrators' meeting, as follows:

All persons are invited to report to county food administrator amount of flour they have on hand in excess of 30 days' supply. It should be made entirely clear that they should keep flour, unless some disposition of it is ordered by food administration, and that it is a census and not a plan of confiscation. Also make clear that when these written reports are filed the person accurately making them will be relieved from charge of hoarding or other unpatriotic act; this will make plan popular.

"I have on hand blank pounds of flour in excess of 30 days' supply." Suggest that this census may result in great saving of transportation, since shortages can be thus equalized. I will be glad to have suggestions, in order that I may pass them on to others to make plan a success.

TO HOLD MEETINGS AT GREENWOOD AND SUMTER

The Food Administration, the Farm and Home Demonstration Departments, and the Council of Defense of South Carolina, who are closely cooperating, have determined to hold a meeting at Greenwood on February 18th and one at Sumter February 19th, to which the active working forces of the three organizations will be invited. The purpose of these meetings will be to give a thorough knowledge of the war situation, to present the program of the Food Administration, Farm Demonstration Bureau, and the Council of Defense, and to set forth plans for the combined spring campaign which will be launched shortly after these meetings. We expect to present several speakers of National prominence and can promise that those who attend will receive inspiration and valuable information.

The following are requested and expected to attend at Greenwood or at Sumter, whichever is most convenient. All county food administrators, and all other food administration representatives; all farm and home demonstration agents; all members of the State council of defense, all chairman of the county councils of defense, the chairmen of the township or school-district councils, and all members of the women's council of defense. We also request the presence of the speakers selected by the State Council of Defense who will carry the burden of the speaking campaign, and other patriotic citizens who wish to prepare themselves for volunteer service in the approaching campaign.

Each farm demonstration agent is asked to select two or three prominent farmers from his county who will attend one of these meetings and actively cooperate in the campaign.

Recent war developments, and especially the foodstuffs situation, make it absolutely necessary for every citizen of South Carolina to be informed of the very serious trend of affairs, and of the obligation that rests upon us for a much greater production and more perfect conservation of food supplies, as well as of a more vigorous and whole-hearted support of the government in every other way.

We earnestly hope that a full attendance may be had at both the Greenwood and the Sumter meetings, in order that the forces who must carry the brunt of the approaching campaigns may be thoroughly informed of the situation, and properly instructed as to the concrete program which will be presented at these meetings.

—William Elliott, Food Administrator for S. C. —W. W. Long, Director of Extension. —D. R. Coker, Chairman State Council of Defense.
