HORRY HERALDING

France may have bitten off more than she can chew.

History will repeat itself. While it is peace it is time to prepare for war.

Fortunes are never picked up in a day, no more than Rome was built that way.

Advertising is not the proper thing for the man who does not want to do more business.

Family troubles are the worst of all. We do not need any of these regarding the tobacco market.

There is no credit in refraining from wicked acts just because of fear of the law. Obey the law because it is right to do it.

Working and resting each day is the better plan. It beats working one to death in order to gain a few weeks in the summer time.

France had a whole lot to do in the early history of our country. The present attitude of that country regarding Germany may have a whole lot to do with us now.

The farmers are the ones who must decide whether they will sell tobacco on the auction plan or place it in the association and get the most that it will bring under that plan.

Modern methods are recommended in all cases where they are an improvement over the old ways of doing things. Some modern methods are too costly to be considered. They save in one way only to lose it all in another way.

No matter how much any machine has been improved, in nearly every case, the old style as invented and used at first, is still useful in many ways. The progress of man is slow and his achievements at any time in past history seem to continue to bless those who follow although new men grow up with new ideas and new machines. The old Washington hand press is still to be found doing duty in big shops.

There is not a very heavy cotton crop in this county. The condition of the crop, however, is much better than it was at this time last year. The crop is not suffering from continued and heavy rains. The boll weevils are not as thick as they were last year. Whether the lack of boll weevil damage is due to the season which may not have produced as many, or to the efforts of the cotton growers in fighting the species, we do not know. The tobacco crop is one of the largest and best matured this section ever had, and with good seasons for a little time yet, the growers will gather and market the best crop they have had in years.

WOMEN AND WHISKEY

The women of this country, as a rule, are opposed to strong drink. They know that strong drink is one of their worst rivals and that it can break up homes when nothing could.

In this country only about five women have been tried for violation of the prohibition laws within the last ten years, while the charges against men for this variety of transgression has run more than a hundred. We are counting all of the courts, State and Municipal.

Have we had on trial any woman for running a still? We have, but it has been only one or two within the last ten years. Have we had up any men for stilling? Yes, a hundred.

A woman believes in thrift and economy and in making headway at the useful occupations. Some men are lazy and good for nothing in the world except to aid in the violation of the laws, the prohibition laws especially. Some men have planted a crop and then only gave this enough attention to form a cloak for their larger operations at a whiskey still located in the depths of the swamp adjacent to the rented farm.

There is some consolation though in the thought that now woman has the right to vote. Judging by this record of men and women in the violation of whiskey laws, we believe that the women will keep prohibition laws forever of force in this country and that the wet element composed mostly of men will never be able to change the status of this country in regard to the policy on whiskey. We have gone into prohibition to stay. The violator, in the form of lazy man, has come to stay and it is the job of woman to provide for the violator by helping to pass stricter laws for control of the illicit sale of whiskey.

The future of this country in the prohibition game depends more upon these women than upon anything else. They are opposed to the use of whiskey, or strong drink in any form. They are just as much opposed to light wines and beer as they are to bonded Scotch or white mule. They will never stand for the coming back of wines and beer. They feel that these only lead their boys on to acquire a taste for something with more alcohol.

The future of this country is therefore brighter than it would otherwise be. There is some discouragement regarding the enforcement of prohibition. The time will come when this problem will be solved for all time, and the solution lies in the hands of the women.

Let the time come when there will be no chance for the strong and able bodied man, to quit the fields where he belongs, and

OLD JAKE SEZ:

Ever nation on earth has babies, an all babies have a natchul language. Tha all laugh an cry alike. When tha laugh tha are all rite, but when tha cry something is rong. So get to work, an relive their distress.

That this season of the year calls for fruits and vegetables in the daily diet is only a conclusion of common sense. Too much meat and dried cereals, especially the white and polished flour and rice products will make the heat of summer very hard to stand.

FRAIL CHILDREN

BUILD STRENGTH RAPIDLY ON

Scott's Emulsion

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., B.A. 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere. establish down in the swamp a place where devil juice comes forth. If the little women will only watch their step and give their time and study to the matter we believe that they can solve the problem and enforce prohibition in much better ways than it is being done now.

HOW TO STOP COLDS AND COUGHS

Combination of Old Well-known Family Medicines; Horehound, Mullein, and Tar Most Reliable

Do what we may it is very difficult to improve on our grandmothers when it comes to relieving Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, La Grippe, Pneumonia and similar bronchial and pulmonary troubles. They seem to have the secret of success.

Horehound, Mullein and Tar so popular in the old days for such troubles have been scientifically compounded to do the same effective work it has always done. Murray's Horehound Mullein and Tar, composed of the same ingredients used constantly by our grandmothers breaks up the phlegm, eals the soreness, soothes the inflammation and clears the air passages giving quick relief. It is pleasant and does not constipate. Ask your druggist for a 35c bottle or write Murray Drug Co., Columbia, S. C. today.—Adv.
