

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

T. L. Smart spent a day here recently.

W. B. Woodward was here on business last week.

Arnold Bell was in Conway last week on business.

George J. Holliday spent a day here last week on business.

J. Hampton Dusenbury of Toddville visited Conway last Friday.

E. W. Prince of Loris was here on business one day last week.

Miss Hazel Faircloth is visiting Miss E. Elliott in North Conway.

Mrs. S. P. Hawes spent last Thursday in Conway from Myrtle Beach.

I. A. Bell was among the farmers visiting Conway last week on business.

J. R. Thompson of Bucksville, S. C., was in Conway on business one day last week.

Mrs. H. L. Scarborough and Mrs. R. B. Scarborough spent last Wednesday in Florence.

For highest prices bring your tobacco to P. R. Casey & Son at Loris. We will satisfy you.

Allan and Arthur Johnson of Horry attended the tobacco sales in Conway last Wednesday.

James C. Hooks, of Mullins, S. C., spent some time in Conway last week. Mr. Hooks is located in Mullins in the practice of law.

The Pastime had a big crowd last week to see the seven reel production based on the book entitled The Transformation of a Savage.

Bring your next load of tobacco to P. R. Casey & Son, at Loris, S. C., all companies represented, and we will personally look after every pile.

Miss Laura Jenkins and Hubert Jenkins spent a day in Florence last week visiting their brother, J. D. Jenkins, who is in the Florence Infirmary for treatment.

Mr. Tobacco Grower: Look well to the selection of the right men to handle and sell your tobacco this year. Bring it to P. R. Casey & Son, Loris, S. C.

News reached Conway last Saturday morning of a raid made by rural policeman, J. K. King, at the store of J. L. Butler, and where eleven quarts of moonshine whiskey was found and destroyed.

B. I. Livingston has not been accused of violation of the whiskey laws as was erroneously stated in a news item published in our issue of last week. It was S. P. Livingston who was fined up in Dogwood Neck.

There were light showers almost every day of last week. It was fine on crops in some sections of the county, while in other neighborhoods, there was already plenty of rain and these new showers were not needed so much.

Your success here depends on having the right amount of printing that will best answer your business purposes. Printing is the partner of achievement, ever has been, and will continue to be for always. Remember that the Herald office is fitted with the right materials, machinery, and type to give you what you need in the way of fine work.

"I Wouldn't Go Camping Without Rat-Snap," Says Ray White.

"Wife and I spent our vacation camping last summer, smell of cooking brought rats. We went to town, got some RAT-SNAP, broke up cakes, put it outside our tent. We got the rats all right—big fellows." Farmers, storekeepers, housewives, should use RAT-SNAP. Three sizes: 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Platt's Pharmacy, Conway, S. C.—Adv.

W. J. Hall was a visitor in Conway last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Goldfinch visited Myrtle Beach last week.

B. H. Woodward of Evergreen was a visitor in Conway last Thursday.

Misses Mary and Bessie Dusenbury spent a short time in Aynor last week.

W. E. Dusenbury of Toddville attended the tobacco sales last Thursday.

Mrs. Alva Hardee and children, visited her mother, Mrs. Cox, in the country last week.

Boyd and Grier Johnson of Horry visited their aunt, Mrs. J. M. Dusenbury last Wednesday.

Mrs. Paul Quattlebaum is on a visit to the mountains at Montreat, N. C., where she went as a delegate.

Mrs. McQueen Quattlebaum and children and Mrs. Sam Singleton visited Galivants Ferry one day recently.

P. R. Casey & Son at Loris, S. C., are warehousemen of long experience and will strive to give the grower satisfaction every time.

Misses Irma Lewis, Mildred Collins, Ernestine Little and Bessie Dusenbury spent several days last week at Myrtle Beach, the guests of Miss Gene Wood Norton.

The Service Class of the Methodist Sunday school held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. B. T. Hyman on last Monday afternoon. After the business was finished, refreshments were served.

Wilson Edge, prominent farmer of the Aynor and Cool Spring section, was taken suddenly ill while here last week attending tobacco sales and his death was reported soon after his return home. He was a tobacco grower for several years.

Some tobacco growers said last week that they had already gathered and cured the bulk of their crops; that only the tips remained to be picked and cured. Some of them will be entirely through with the curing barns by the end of this week, if not before.

B. R. Gasque brought a total of 105 watermelons here for sale one day last week. These melons averaged about thirty-five pounds each and were sold by the grower to B. T. Hyman, the groceryman on 3rd Avenue. It took two two-horse wagons and four mules to haul this fine lot of melons to the market.

Jack Watts spent some time here last Saturday and stated that he had a fine tobacco crop but had not yet placed any of the product on the markets either here or elsewhere. He is giving his crop close attention and expects to produce a fine grade after the first pickings. He had cured four barns up to the day that he was here.

Homer Dew, son of Mrs. A. R. Watts of Willow Branch, left here for his position that he is holding with the Navassa Fertilizer Works, near Wilmington, N. C., last Saturday morning, after spending several days with his mother in the country. His children arrived here the same day to spend some time with their grandmother.

The Conway-Marion bus has not been run on the line for some time. Owing to a break down of the machine about one month ago, it has been laid off the service ever since and at last accounts the machine had not been repaired. The travel between Conway and Marion has been taken care of, however, by Jessie Anderson, with a Dodge touring car and Dave Bruton with a Buick six. These cars have been making the trips for some time and the travel has been handled in what appears to be an efficient manner.

Stanley Allen was in Conway last week and stated that he had sold his first curings of tobacco for eighteen cents. He has several acres which he hopes will turn him out a fair average price when his entire crop is sold.

The result of the biggest tobacco crop this section has ever seen will be a big increase in business and general prosperity from now until the spring of 1924. Good luck at that time with the strawberry crop will mean a continuation of good times throughout this section.

Conway was alive at an early hour last Wednesday morning. The occasion was the opening sales at all of the independent warehouses of Conway. The farmers had been advised to bring only parts of their crop, and not overload the warehouses to begin with, and in the mean time to keep their product in good condition and place it on the floors after the market had gotten steady.

Tobacco began coming in at an early hour last Wednesday morning for the Conway warehouses. Some of it came in on motor trucks, most of it in wagons drawn by mules. Most of it, from the very first, showed better condition than in former years. It was nicely arranged in graded handfuls of leaves. The teachings of those who would have better attention paid to the preparation for the markets have had their effect and it will result in getting better prices for what the growers sell.

Our hat is in the ring and we mean to give you the satisfaction of good prices. P. R. Casey & Son, Loris, S. C. Adv.

SAVE MONEY BY SELLING YOUR TOBACCO IN CONWAY AND TRADING AT CONWAY DRUG CO.

Hon. R. B. Scarborough returned from a business trip to Columbia last week.

N. B. Johnson of Horry was in Conway last week and sold some tobacco.

Misses Ruthie Tompkins and Florie Ray of Homewood were in town one day last week.

Mrs. L. H. Burroughs attended the funeral of Mrs. M. F. Sarvis at Bucksville last Thursday.

J. F. Spivey arrived in Conway last week to spend several days visiting relatives and friends.

J. R. Thompson who is running a ground saw mill in lower Bucks township, spent last Saturday here on business.

Mrs. John Emory Watson spent several days in Marion last week and while there attended the funeral of her uncle.

Try us out and we will give you good prices for your next load of tobacco. Yours for service, P. R. Casey & Son, Loris, S. C.

Mrs. A. B. McCoy received a telegram on last Sunday morning stating that her mother was critically ill. Mrs. McCoy left at once to go to her bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Dusenbury and Mrs. Flora Clark of Florence passed through town one day last week and attended the funeral of Mrs. M. F. Sarvis at Bucksville.

The rains of last week had their effect upon the new surface of parts of roads near Conway and this lasted for a few days until the road hands and mechanics could take care of the situation.

Stanley Allen was in Conway last week and stated that he had sold his first curings of tobacco for eighteen cents. He has several acres which he hopes will turn him out a fair average price when his entire crop is sold.

The result of the biggest tobacco crop this section has ever seen will be a big increase in business and general prosperity from now until the spring of 1924. Good luck at that time with the strawberry crop will mean a continuation of good times throughout this section.

Conway was alive at an early hour last Wednesday morning. The occasion was the opening sales at all of the independent warehouses of Conway. The farmers had been advised to bring only parts of their crop, and not overload the warehouses to begin with, and in the mean time to keep their product in good condition and place it on the floors after the market had gotten steady.

Tobacco began coming in at an early hour last Wednesday morning for the Conway warehouses. Some of it came in on motor trucks, most of it in wagons drawn by mules. Most of it, from the very first, showed better condition than in former years. It was nicely arranged in graded handfuls of leaves. The teachings of those who would have better attention paid to the preparation for the markets have had their effect and it will result in getting better prices for what the growers sell.

Our hat is in the ring and we mean to give you the satisfaction of good prices. P. R. Casey & Son, Loris, S. C. Adv.

S. M. Paul was in Conway recently on business.

Harmon Dusenbury spent a few days in Georgetown last week.

Misses Rosa and Agnes Jollie of the Maple section were in town recently.

L. L. Johnson of the Pee Dee section visited Conway one day last week.

Miss Josephine Scurry of Mullins visited Miss Sadie Long in North Conway recently.

Prof. Brown of the Horry Industrial School visited at the home of Rev. J. C. Atkinson last week.

G. G. Hardee, saw mill man and timber buyer, spent some time in Conway last week on business.

Mrs. Hattie Dusenbury and Miss Jessie Dusenbury of Toddville were shopping in Conway recently.

We have the experience and you have the weed. Let's meet at Casey's warehouse, Loris, S. C.

Who can say that Casey does not give personal attention to every pile. Come to Casey's at Loris, next time.

J. W. Taylor, Misses Edna and Hazel Taylor and Master James Taylor spent several days in Florence last week.

Mrs. H. T. Harlee arrived in town last Friday and is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. McQueen Quattlebaum on Laurel Street.

Casey's warehouse at Loris is one of the old and well established auction warehouses in this part of the country. Give them the next load.

While waiting to bring the tobacco on the markets for sale, watch it carefully and keep it in good condition. Try to learn how to grade the tobacco. Make the leaves look well when they arrive here for sale.

A. Bell was in Conway last Monday.

H. E. Thompson was here from Little River last Monday.

Alex Johnson of Horry spent a few days in Hemingway recently.

Hamp Hendrix of the Pee Dee section visited Conway last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt McMillan and family have returned from Myrtle Beach.

George J. Holliday and John H. Atkinson were in Conway last Monday on business.

P. R. Casey & Son have had the experience that is needed in selling tobacco. They are at Loris and will serve you.

Chester King, who was recently awarded the scholarship to West Point, New York, left last Saturday to begin his training there.

Mrs. Archie Lewis left for her home in Andrews last Saturday after spending a week in town visiting Sheriff and Mrs. J. A. Lewis.

Misses Christine Stalvey and Elise Currie of Mullins were visitors in Conway recently and were the guests while here of Miss Vivian Cox.

We have the interest of the grower at heart and will try to move it on your next load. Bring it along. P. R. Casey & Son, Loris, S. C.

D. Corbet Anderson, formerly with the Horry Herald, who is taking a course in journalism at Columbia, Missouri, is expected to arrive here about August 15 to spend a part of his vacation. While here he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Graham.

666
Cures Malaria, Chills and Fever, Dengue or Bilious Fever. It destroys the germs.

W. L. Alford of Allsbrook, S. C., was in Conway on business the first of this week.

Mrs. W. H. Davis and children of Columbia, S. C., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. G. R. Sessions.

Miss Marguerite Sessions of the Saunders Memorial hospital in Florence, S. C., is spending her vacation at home.

Get your neighbor to come with you to P. R. Casey & Son at Loris. They will give you the best of satisfaction.

Dr. Clifton, specialist, diseases, eye, ear, nose and throat at Conway Drug Co., after Tuesday, 24th. Glasses fitted. No charges to the poor.

WRIGLEYS
After Every Meal
Have a packet in your pocket for ever-ready refreshment.
Aids digestion. Allays thirst. Soothes the throat.
For Quality, Flavor and the Sealed Package, get
WRIGLEYS SPEARMINT
THE PERFECT GUM
THE FLAVOR LASTS

To The Growers of Tobacco, Horry County:

Sell your tobacco with Hardwick & Barnes, Proprietors of the Standard Warehouse at Loris, South Carolina, where each and every pile of tobacco will have our careful attention. We guarantee as high prices as any market in or out of the state. All the companies are fully represented and anxious for the weed. Prices on all grades, good. Farmers who have sold with us express themselves as being well pleased with sales.

Come to see us and we will make your stay both pleasant and profitable.

Yours for business,
C. H. Hardwick & Barnes.

N. B.—The Standard Warehouse will be open night and day. Come the overnight or early in the morning and avoid the rush.
H. and B.

Merchants:

Our Stock Consists of
CANDIES, CIGARS, CIGARETTES, TOBACCOS, SNUFF,
COAT'S COTTON, HEAVY AND FANCY GROCERIES
AT WHOLESALE ONLY

Buy from a WHOLESALE that does not sell your CUSTOMERS, thereby protecting YOUR interest

Mullins Wholesale Grocery Co.

We Sell to Merchants only

W. E. EDWARDS, Pres., Sec. and Treas.