

CHAUTAUQUA IS PLEASING

EXCELLENT PROGRAM WAS RENDERED YESTERDAY; 3 ENTERTAINMENTS

BEN GREET TODAY

Dr. Ott's Superb Lecture Last Night Made a Telling Effect On Large Audience

(From Thursday's Daily.)

The second day of the Chautauqua added to the good impression formed on account of the excellent program on the first day. For the morning lecture Dr. Leslie W. Sprague was substituted for Byron W. Long, who is ill. Dr. Sprague will continue these morning lectures through the week. His subject yesterday morning was "The Universe and You and Me." Dr. Sprague has been a prominent preacher in New York city and was secretary of the social welfare work of the federated churches of New York city.

His address yesterday was along sociological lines and was very helpful. He will speak again at 11:30 Thursday morning.

The afternoon program yesterday was very much enjoyed. There was a half hour of varied musical offerings by the Harmony concert company, in which the harp, guitar, violin, piano, bells, saxophone, castanets, xylophone, and other instruments were introduced. Aside from the reception accorded little Miss Leota Nemery, aged 5, who gave a very effective touch to several of the selections with her intelligent handling of the bells, cymbals and other traps, the feature of the afternoon was the harp solo, an old Welsh air introduced to this country by Evan Williams. "All through the night." The variations were beautifully rendered.

"That Printer of Uddell's." Following this came Everett Kemp in his monologue, "That Printer of Uddell's." This great book which had quite a vogue some ten years ago, had been boiled down for dramatization, and Mr. Kemp's reading of the lines was interesting, dramatically effective and profoundly impressive. It is the story of a young man thrown out of work who finds the church unprepared to take up a case such as his, and his about to starve. But the church comes out at the last triumphant because having seen what was to be done in cases of destitution it proceeds at once to take care of the destitute. It is a powerful argument for the Y. M. C. A. and other such welfare agencies.

Mr. Kemp felt his subject and his message was received with the greatest appreciation.

A feature of the afternoon was the children's hour. While Mr. Kemp was delivering his powerful monologue, so called, Miss Pike gathered the children, some 300 in number and carried them over to the old Reed homestead where they enjoyed games and she related stories to the little ones. This was a happy occasion, in a beautiful surrounding. The interest manifested in this part of the program was so much greater than was at first anticipated that it has become necessary to devote this part of the afternoon, and Miss Pike will take the children in two sections.

Last night there was a good bill of fare. The Harmony Concert company gave a better program than in the afternoon. Among the charming selections played was the lovely barcarolle from Tales from Hoffman, "Radiant Night," played on harp, saxophone, flute and violin. Another noticeable number was Anita's Dance from the "Peer Gint" suite, by Grieg. There was a beautiful piccolo solo "The Nightingale Polka," greatly enjoyed.

The musical prelude was concluded by a selection "An Equivocal Wedding," which was followed by "Moonlight" or "Laces and Graces."

Then came an intellectual treat, a classic, the address by Edward Amherst Ott on the subject "Sour Grapes." Dr. Ott is a man of striking personality and his lecture was filled with common sense. He treats of parentage, the home and the proper rearing of children. His address created a profound impression, and no doubt will have great and lasting good for this community. He carried the audience along in a homely and yet strikingly impressive way with his humor in illuminating principles which he laid down. He took parents to task for not making more of a success of home life, and told them that their duty ended not in reading books did church-goers and elegant school boys things. Dr. Ott has lectured to 2,000 audiences in his Chautauqua career and Anderson voted unanimously for his return next year.

PENDLETON MAN MUCH ALARMED

Fears for the Safety of His Brother, Captured by the Mexican Forces

W. B. Wofford of near Pendleton is much concerned over the news that his brother, W. E. Wofford, has been seized and thrown in jail in Mexico, according to the reports received by the newspapers from Vera Cruz, stating that he seems that there is some danger of the prisoners being executed.

Immediately after hearing the news Mr. Wofford telegraphed to Mr. Allen, congressman from this district, and Mr. Allen is said to have visited the

SUICIDE HAD NUMBER OF ANDERSON FRIENDS

GIRL KILLED HERSELF IN ATLANTA, GA.

Father and Mother of Miss Helene Eberhardt Once Made Their Home in Anderson

(Tuesday's Daily.)

Many Anderson people were horrified Sunday when the news was received that Helene Eberhardt had taken her own life in Atlanta, Georgia. Anderson people knew Miss Eberhardt and they knew her parents and such a report was hardly credited. However, press dispatches later supplied all the details of how the act was committed.

Miss Eberhardt's mother was a Miss Cater, an Anderson county woman and her father was also an Anderson man. He was born in the building which is now known as the Imperial hotel, just next door to The Intelligencer office. Many of the Cater family in Anderson county now were related to the Eberhardt family, among these being: Miss Helene Cater, Mrs. J. M. Hubbard, Mrs. W. Frank Ashmore and Leland Cater.

The following article from the Atlanta Journal of Saturday tells of how the young lady, melancholy over ill-health finally accomplished the deed:

"Miss Helene Eberhardt, 17 years old, drank a solution of carbolic acid Friday evening about 10 o'clock at the Winnie Davis ice cream parlor, 217 Peachtree street, where she had been employed as cashier for about two weeks, and died in an ambulance between there and Grady hospital.

"It was not known until she was on her way to the hospital that Miss Eberhardt had taken poison. She was thought to be suffering from nervous collapse. After the ambulance left, C. E. Robertson, manager of the shop, discovered an empty acid bottle behind the cashier's counter, and detected the odor of acid in the glass from which she had taken her last drink. Then he telephoned the hospital, but learned she had arrived there dead.

"Deliberate intent to kill herself is said to have been manifested by her during several hours before she committed the deed.

"Melancholy brought on by continued poor health is believed to have been the cause of the suicide. Mrs. J. B. Eberhardt, her mother, said physicians ordered her daughter to the country, and they spent some time in Hartwell, Ga., coming back to Atlanta about a month ago.

"The immediate cause may have been worry over her brother's presence in the expedition against Vera Cruz, Mexico. George Eberhardt, the brother, is a petty officer of the United States navy assigned to the battleship South Carolina, and has been taking part in the seizure of Vera Cruz. Miss Eberhardt had been reading newspaper extras a little too intently, says her mother.

"Miss Eberhardt was the daughter of the late Dr. J. B. Eberhardt, at one time a prominent physician in Atlanta. For some time past she and her mother were being boarded at 61 East Cain street. Mrs. Eberhardt was informed of her daughter's deed and hurried to the hospital to find her dead.

"In addition to the mother and the brother two sisters survive the deceased young woman. They are Mrs. J. H. Beresford and Miss Willie Eberhardt, of Brooklyn.

"Coroner Doneho held an inquest at Patterson's chapel Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon in Hartwell.

"According to N. C. McDowell, soda dispenser on night duty at the Winnie Davis fountain, Miss Eberhardt took the poison in a soft drink which he mixed for her. The first he knew of it was when she came out from behind her counter and sat at a table, complaining that she was ill. A moment or two later she writhed with pain and asked that he call help. A physician and the Grady hospital ambulance were summoned. McDowell said that during the evening she had asked and received several soft drinks, and that she inquired of him whether he would come to her funeral if she were to die.

"The same inquiry was reported by Dewitt Johnson, soda dispenser on duty earlier in the day. He said Miss Eberhardt, relieving the day cashier, during the lunch hour from 1 to 2 o'clock, asked for several soft drinks and he reconstrated with her against the excess. She asked if he would come to her funeral, he said.

"Miss Eberhardt returned to night duty at 6:30 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later she sent a small boy employed as waiter at the fountain to a drug store for a 10 cent bottle of carbolic acid solution. The empty bottle was found in a waste basket behind the cashier's counter after she had been stricken."

TO WIDEN STREET ON THE SQUARE

Work Will Be Begun By the City This Morning On East Side Of the Square

(Tuesday's Daily.)

A force of the city's hands will go to work this morning to widen the street on the east side of the square. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, so that the installation of the white way on that side of the court house need not be interfered with for any great length of time.

Some weeks ago a delegation of the business men and property owners of the east side of the court house square appeared before city council and requested that the street be widened. They pointed out that already traffic was very much congested when the cotton wagons begin to arrive in the autumn. Council at that time appointed a special committee to act with the street committee and the Mayor, and the meeting yesterday was composed of those gentlemen. They carefully considered the matter and found that they could remove 10 feet from the east side of the square and then leave a 5 foot wide walk. This was the step determined upon and this will be the work started today.

It has also been proposed that half of the unpaved space on the sidewalk on the east side, abutting the stores, be taken off if the property owners will agree to pave the remaining half. If this is done it will give a wide paved walk on the east side and at the same time it will add approximately 15 feet to the street there.

One reason for council taking immediate action on the question was that the white way work had already started on that side and the holes for the post were being dug. It was to be done at all it had to be done before the white way was in place.

DAMAGE DONE BY DAM GIVING AWAY

Riverside Mill Forced to Close Down Yesterday Until Damage Was Repaired

(Tuesday's Daily.)

The Riverside Mill lost a day's time yesterday and suffered some slight damage when its dam gave away. All the water in the mill pond escaped and consequently the looms or ribbing mill were idle through out the day.

Officials of the mill said that the trouble was due to the recent hard rains and when the machinery was not running Sunday the pressure upon the dam became very heavy from the great volume of water. The dam went out some time Sunday night.

A large force of workmen went to work on the job yesterday morning and by night the dam had been replaced.

Senate Canal Committee Indicates Amendments May Be Tacked On the Measure

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 28.—After a two hour discussion today on the house bill repeal the Panama free tolls provision, the senate canal committee prepared to vote tomorrow on these four proposals:

"To report the bill without recommendation;

"To report it with an amendment proposed by Senator Simmons which would declare that by passing the repeal bill, the United States would waive no rights possessed under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty or otherwise;

"To report it with another amendment proposed by Senator Shields, declaring that the bill's passage should not be held to be a concession by the United States that it has not the right to exempt its coastwise shipping from toll payment.

"To report a substitute proposed by Senator Walter, which would afford any foreign nation an opportunity to try the matter before the United States supreme court.

At the conclusion of the session today it seemed very certain that some sort of a report would be ordered at tomorrow's session.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Run Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter the acid from the blood and pass it into the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination, is due to the uric acid which is really one of the most simple elements to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so that it is no longer a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is a non-toxic, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia in a natural way. It is not a medicine and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders, caused by uric acid irritating. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant effective little water drink which quickly relieves bladder trouble. Evans' Pharmacy, Belton.

FROM SEPTUS.

In the school bond election at Lebanon on the 1st inst., the bond issue was defeated by the small majority of five votes; however, the poll-tax act still survives and in the mean time we will continue to give money to help build good schools for the African Hottentots while our own dear children build a school that is hardly fit for a buzzard roost. The only thing that some men will save when it comes to doing something for the upbuilding of their community is their pocketbook. They by no means save their good name as a progressive citizen and surely the "stumbling blocks" got all that was coming to them in Rev. O. L. Martin's sermon at Lebanon on the third Sunday.

Health a Factor in Success.

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated.
