U. S. CONSUL IN MEXICAN JAIL

REPORTS THAT SILLIMAN WAS SET FREE PROVEN TO BE FALSE

BRYAN GETS BUSY

Alarming Reports Filter In From Stormy Republic and Keep the Envoys Guessing

(By Associated Press.) Secretary Bryan called at the Argentine legation late in the day and spent two hours in conference with the South American envoys, discussing the continued detention of John R. Silliman, American vice consul at Santiago by Mexican federalists, the Leboas Island incident and the case of the five South Americans under arrest at Vera Cruz for firing upon United States sailors and marines.

Asks Consul's Release.

Mr. Bryan insisted that the release of Silliman must be brought about at once. When asked about the matter later, he would not say what would happen if the vice consul were kept in prison, but he was gravely emphatic in announcing the government's determination to have him freed.

General Carranza and the Mexican rebels who seek Huerta's overthrow will not be represented at the conference at Niagara Falls according to latest advices.

Disturbing elements continued to arouse interest throughout the day. General Funston at Vera Cruz was appealed to by the Brazilian minister at Mexico City to release some South Americans including three Brazilians, who had been arrested and are awaiting trial for "snapping" American soldiers in Vera Cruz harbor. An appeal was made to Secretary Bryan by the mediating envoys on behalf of General Huerta because of reports that Carranza had ordered the Mexican legation at Tampico, an act which Huerta's agents maintained was aggressive and in violation of the armistice.

Rhetoric Violates Armistice.

The government maintained that Huerta had violated the armistice in ordering lighthouses closed on the Pacific coast to the ports of shipping. From Tampico, where Mexican federalists and rebels have been preparing for a sanguinary struggle, came rumblings of battle, while reports that Huerta's strength was waning in Mexico City and that the bandit leaders Zapata was about to attack the capital from the south served to arouse diplomatic agents of foreign nations lest their people in Mexico City might be in immediate danger of persecution or death.

Another American Murdered.

Details of the killing of C. B. Hoadley, American at G. E. Williams, British, by Mexicans at El Favor mine near Guadalajara, were given in a dispatch from the British vice consul at Guadalajara transmitted to the state department today.

The dispatch said that Hoadley and Williams were stabbed to death and horribly mutilated by enraged Mexicans, after the foreign staff for the charge of El Favor mines had endeavored to search native laborers to employ.

The foreigners were attacked while tracing silver bars to the mine, the search was in progress and Hoadley and Williams gave up their weapons, believing they would be spared. Both were immediately stabbed to death. The vice consul said that all the other foreigners were placed in jail but later were released.

Mob Seeks American.

Vera Cruz, May 11.—At Mexico City large number of men and boys are drilling in the streets. A few nights ago a mob of 500 before the Brazilian legation demanded that Luis D'Antin, an attaché of the American embassy, who had taken refuge there, be delivered over. Threats were made to kill him.

The Brazilian minister notified the state department, and added that he would only surrender D'Antin if he was overpowered by the mob. The anti-path to the attaché is due to the fact that he is the only American official left in the capital and because of his activity in relieving the distress of American non-combatants.

So far as is known no measures have been taken to certify the capital. The city there are no signs of fortifications. The federalists, however, are taking steps to provision Puebla, about midway between Vera Cruz and the capital, on the lines of the latter is said to be building outposts east of Oaxaca railroad. General Navarrete Puebla watching American lines.

Federalists Watch Funston.

A rumor has been current in the capital that in case Villa drives the federalists out, Huerta is planning to make a stand at Puebla, which has military advantages for defense.

TWO MALICIOUS MEN DID DAMAGE

Woman and Her Blind Husband Were Injured When Horse Ran Away Last Sunday

It is hard to imagine that men could be so malicious as to cause a woman and her blind husband serious injury but such is the case, according to the story told by Mrs. Sturgeon Tucker at the Anderson County Hospital, Mrs. Tucker is in the hospital, suffering with a broken shoulder bone, and her blind husband is badly bruised as the result of a run away Sunday. The animal driven by Mrs. Tucker took fright at two motor cycles and Mrs. Tucker was too weak to regain control of the panic-stricken horse.

According to Mrs. Tucker's version of the affair she and her husband left their home at Fair Play to drive through this city to relatives living in the lower part of the county. Her husband is totally blind and she was driving the horse. They came from a by-road near J. S. Fowler's residence where two motor cycles came into view. Mrs. Tucker says that both of the men steered their machines in the direction of the buggy and seemed to be trying to come as close as possible without striking the buggy. The horse took fright and she was unable to hold him and when he ran she and her husband were thrown from the buggy. She says that neither of the riders stopped their machines or made any effort to assist her after she was injured.

Mrs. Tucker was brought to the city and she and her husband were given medical attention by Dr. C. F. Ross. The injured woman was then carried to the Anderson hospital and the broken bone was set while the husband returned to his home at Fair Play.

The officers are attempting to find some trace of the motor cycle riders.

HUNDREDS OF ELKS COMING NEXT MONTH

"HELLO BILLS" WILL TAKE THE TOWN

B. P. O. E. HERE THEN

Every Town Of Importance In State Will Send Large Delegation to Convention

The principal event to be expected in Anderson after the Confederate reunion is over is the State Convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. In other words, the "Hello Bills" are coming to Anderson in June and this city will then entertain the "Best People on Earth." Anderson is planning to take care of its visitors in fine fashion.

Capt. R. J. Ramer, exalted ruler of Anderson lodge, 1206, announced last night that he had appointed a finance committee to arrange for securing necessary funds to take care of the entertainment during the two days here as follows: Porter A. Whitely, chairman; A. S. Farmer, William Banks, C. P. Ross and W. F. Marshall. This committee will go to work today and by the end of the week enough money will have been secured from the various members of the order to defray all the expense connected with the meeting.

The days of June 17 and 18 will be looked forward to from now until they roll around and they will be remembered long after the convention has passed. It is expected that there will be more Elks in Anderson for the convention this year than ever before, since this year there will be four more lodges than attended the convention in Greenville last year. When the Greenville lodge entertained the State Association neither Orangeburg or Charleston held membership in the State Association and both these lodges will be represented this year. Also, there was no lodge at Gaffney nor was there one at Spartanburg. This year Spartanburg lodge No. 1310 will send over 50 delegates, according to a statement received from there yesterday and Gaffney lodge, 1305, will have almost as many.

The Greenville lodge members say that they will have well over 100 delegates here and they are expecting a big time.

Another decided feature of the Anderson meeting will be the appearance of the drum and bugle corps of Columbia lodge, 1199. This is the first organization of its kind to be perfected by an Elks lodge in the state and the appearance of this musical aggregation will be welcomed.

The new home being erected by the Anderson lodge is coming along in fine shape and in all probability will be finished several weeks before the State Association convenes.

With everything in fine shape for the convention and all plans completed Anderson expects to score a bit with every Elk in South Carolina.

NATION PAYS HONOR TO DEAD

WILSON VOICES TRIBUTE TO THOSE WHO FELL AT VERA CRUZ

MANY EYES DIMMED

Great Crowds Turn Out at New York and Follow Coffins to Navy Yard

(By Associated Press.) New York, May 11.—New York joined the nation today in memorializing, with simple dignity, the heroism of the unfortunates blue-jackets and marines, who gave their lives at Vera Cruz. As the most impressive funeral pageant since the Spanish war started, from the Battery to the Brooklyn navy yard, it was as if the whole population of the city was there.

Great Crowds Attend.

The people were still, standing shoulder to shoulder in a community of grief. It was a spectacle of a city strangely transfigured and lifted out of itself.

In the line of mourners that followed the artillery caissons bearing the dead were the chiefs of state and city government and many more distinguished men of nearly every calling; and every eye in the throngs that lined the way, turned first to the carriage where President Wilson rode close behind the last funeral car. The president came from Washington during the night and stood as the marines fired their parting volleys, at the Brooklyn navy yard, and the navy bugler sounded "taps," that proclaimed the end of the ceremony.

Relatives of Dead Present.

On the stand with the president at the navy yard were relatives of the dead sailors and marines, mothers, sisters and wives, but in all the throngs of mourners, none seemed more deeply touched by the spirit of the day than the relatives of the dead.

And to the president was left the privilege of voicing the nation's grief and the nation's belief that those who died in the performance of duty had done for their country a service not to be measured by their individual deeds.

"The feeling that is uppermost," he said, "is one of profound grief, and yet, there is mixed with that grief a profound pride that they should have gone as they did, and if I may say it out of my heart, a touch of envy of those who were permitted so quickly, so nobly, to do their duty."

Wilson Shows Emotion.

The head of the nation, looked out over the thousands massed about the caisson on the parade ground and his voice shook with emotion as he declared his grief.

"We have gone down to Mexico," he said, "to serve mankind if we can find a way. We do not want to fight the Mexicans; we want to serve the Mexicans."

There was a wistful note in his voice, as he added: "I never was under fire but I fancy there are some things just as hard to do as to go under fire. I fancy it is just as hard to do your duty when men are sneering at you as when they are shooting at you. When they shoot at you, they can only take your life; when they sneer at you, they can wound your heart."

From a bird's eye view, the multitude along the route of the funeral cortege presented the picture of a vast human stream connecting two arms of the sea. Muffled voices, soft spoken commands by military officers, the melancholy tolling of the Trinity Church bell emphasized a hush that had fallen over a city of noise.

Dead Laid.

The dead were landed by the tug Trifido and lay in state on Battery Park Plaza for more than an hour before the procession started. There were seventeen caissons.

Each caisson was drawn by four horses, astride two of which rode members of the First and Second regiments of the field artillery. There was in addition one caisson containing four caissons for each caisson. Four sailors on each side acted as pall bearers. These men, drawn from recent service in Vera Cruz, had been called to New York, especially for the service in memory of their dead comrades.

Directly behind the caissons, which stretched out their single file, were the caissons of the President, Governor Allen, Secretary Daniels, Mayor Mitchell and other distinguished guests. The presence of the president in the procession came as a surprise for it had been announced that he would ride direct from the Pennsylvania station to the navy yard.

All along the route the street was black with spectators. Windows and roofs had been crowded with thousands of policemen on hand to hold the crowd back.

PLANS FINISHED FOR THE OUTING

Automobiles Secured for Textile Class to Use On Trip to Clemson Saturday

Practically all the automobiles necessary for carrying the textile class of the night school from Anderson to Clemson and back have been completed. Mr. Burnett said yesterday that he would have only a few more automobiles than he had secured, in order to comfortably accommodate every one making the trip and he says it is his intention to have the students of the school will never forget the class goes to Clemson college as guests of the college and there will be no expense connected with the trip. It is planned to give the mill workers one of the biggest afternoons that they have ever enjoyed.

The party will start from Anderson at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and after reaching the college will inspect the textile department of the college. The next feature will be the third and last game of the baseball series between Auburn and Clemson and then the party will take tea as guests of the college.

Returning it is probable that every automobile will be in by 5 o'clock and the members of the high school will have enjoyed a delightful afternoon from start to finish. They all appreciate the Mr. Burnett has been able to arrange this trip.

TOMMIE STOUCH WILL ORGANIZE A LEAGUE

FOUR-TOWN CIRCUIT HAS BEEN PROPOSED

STOUCH WAS HERE

Semi-Pro Baseball Proposed For Anderson, Greenwood, Greenville and Spartanburg

The venerable "Tommy" Stouch of Greenville spent yesterday in Anderson, according to the baseball fans, in an effort to perfect the organization of a four-town baseball league. The proposed league to consist of Anderson, Greenwood, Greenville and Spartanburg. It is said that Stouch is optimistic over the outlook and says that every town in the league will go into the venture. If Anderson will consent to put a team in the field, that the local fans will be willing to try the stunt again is almost certain.

Stouch proposes that a league be organized in which high class semi-professional baseball would be played. The majority of the players on every team would be college baseball men and there would be no professional on any team unless it might be the batteries.

Mr. Stouch has estimated that a league can be perfected and baseball played with an expense to any single town of $25 per day. Whether or not Anderson fans are willing to go into the game with the knowledge that they will have to put up this sum remains to be seen.

It is said that an active canvass will shortly be started among the fans in an effort to get the required guarantee and if this can be secured it will mean that Anderson will have baseball this summer and good baseball at that.

LABOR LEADERS WIN IN COURT

GOMPERS, ET AL, VICTORIOUS IN BUCKS BOYCOTT CONTEST

OPINION BY HOLMES

Justice Wright Had Sentenced Defendants on Charge of Contempt in 1907

(By Associated Press.) Washington, May 11.—Ending years of bitter legal fighting, the supreme court today set aside the sentence imposed by the District of Columbia supreme court upon Samuel Gompers, John Morrison and John Mitchell, for alleged contempt of court in 1907, for violating injunctions against alleged boycotting of the Bucks Stove and Range Company.

Holmes Delivers Opinion.

Justice Holmes announcing the decision, said that even if the statute did not cover contempt, the necessity for the speedy disposition of such cases was so great it would establish the rule that by analogy contempt proceedings must be begun within three years after the committing of the offense. Justices Vandewater and Pitney dissented.

Justice Holmes said the controversy turned upon the question of whether contempt of court is a crime barred by the statute of limitations which provides that no person shall be prosecuted for an offense unless by indictment or information brought within three years.

Argument Reviewed.

He reviewed the argument that the statute applied only to cases that could be proceeded against by indictment or information, and explained that the court had decided these words are controlled by the substantial portion of the statute that no person shall be prosecuted for an offense committed within three years.

The court rejected the argument that the offense continued until the end of the labor boycott against the company in 1910. The offense charged, Justice Holmes, said, was not one continuing conspiracy to boycott but specific acts.

The conduct of Justice Wright, who imposed the sentences in the lower court, are being investigated by the house committee under resolution for impeachment.

Mexican Hangs in Texas.

Pecos, Texas, May 11.—Leon Cardenas Martinez, a Mexican youth, was hanged here at noon today for the murder of Miss Emma Brown, a school teacher, three years ago. The Mexican government had the case carried to the United States supreme court in a vain effort to save Martinez.

(By Associated Press.) New York, May 11.—Colonel John C. Calhoun Mayo, democratic national committeeman from Kentucky, died today at a local hospital where he had been ill since April 25. Colonel Mayo was brought here for treatment after blood transfusion at Cincinnati had failed.

Clemson-Auburn Game.

Everything is in readiness for the big contest of the baseball season at Clemson. The Auburn-Clemson game will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. These games are the biggest games of the Clemson circuit and the rivalry between the two schools is intense. The admission for these games this year is lower than ever before, being 50c this time instead of the usual price of $1.00. A large crowd from Anderson is said to take in these games.

Marshall and recommends Mr. Marshall to the policy holders of the company.

ANDERSON AD MEN BANQUET TUESDAY

Will Select Representatives For National Club Meeting At Toronto, Canada

The annual meeting and buffet supper of the Anderson Ad Club will take place next Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock on the park grounds of North Anderson. A. S. Farmer, the president of the club, has given some suggestions as to the program to be followed and this event will be enjoyable and interesting. At this meeting a delegation will be selected to represent Anderson at the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, which is to meet at Toronto, Canada June 21-24.

W. L. Brissett has represented the Anderson Club at the last two meetings of the Association, first at Baltimore and last year at Dallas, and considerable interest surrounds the delegation to go from Anderson this year.

The supper which is to be served next Tuesday will be in charge of Andrew King and plans are being made to have this an elaborate affair. The officers of the local club plan to have the park lighted by electricity for the occasion and the scene will be a pretty one.

It is probable that every member of the club will attend next Tuesday.

ANDERSON WELCOMED HER CHARMING GUESTS

DUE WEST COLLEGE GIRLS HERE YESTERDAY MADE IMPRESSION

Student Body From Well Known Institution Delighted All Of Anderson's People

Anderson experienced a rare delight yesterday when a most charming body of young women from Due West were entertained here. Although there were 120 young lady students of the College for Women to visit the city and included in the party were all the instructors of the school with one exception.

This city never has the opportunity of entertaining a more cultured, refined and accomplished body of young women than those making up the party of visitors here yesterday and it was said on every side that the visitors made a better appearance than any other body of college students ever seen here.

Every one of the visitors made an impression upon Anderson people and every person meeting the young ladies yesterday will hope that they may come again to Anderson and spend another day here.

The special train bearing the visitors arrived over the Piedmont and Northern railway at 12:30 yesterday afternoon and while the train was standing on the square the entire student body gave a cheer for Anderson, followed by a cheer for the College for Women. Right then they won the hearts of Anderson people and from that moment on the town was theirs.

Special street cars had been provided for the young ladies by the chamber of commerce and they were carried free of charge to beautiful North Anderson where the Rose Hill club was thrown open to them. There a dance was held, beautiful music being rendered by some of the Due West people, following which a delightful lunch was spread near the spring. Fruits and candies were furnished, with the compliments of the Anderson chamber of commerce together with Coca-Cola and Chero-Cola, both furnished by the local bottling plants.

Following the conclusion of the lunch the young ladies returned to the city, the expense of the return trip on the street cars being defrayed by the North Anderson Development Co. When they reached the city the young ladies separated and almost every store in town was visited by some of the college girls. Numerous purchases were made every hand and then the visitors gave themselves up to the pleasures of a complete inspection trip. They went all over the city, they looked at everything in sight and they all said that they were very well pleased with Anderson, that they like "My Town" and that they were coming again.

They took their departure on another special at 6 o'clock and it is safe to say that every member of the party spent a pleasant day.

It was a genuine pleasure to entertain the young ladies and if the college authorities ever permit them to come to Anderson again their welcome upon the second visit will be even more enthusiastic than it was yesterday, if such a thing be possible.
