

FOR LAW AND ORDER IN THE CHIEF CITY

BISHOP GUERRY MADE A PRESENTATION OF CASE

IS NON POLITICAL But Will Use Its Influence to Stamp Out Corruption in Politics

(Tuesday's Daily.) Rt. Rev. Walter A. Guerry, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, diocese of South Carolina, was the guest of honor last evening at the Churchman's club of Grace Episcopal church, Anderson, and delivered a talk to the members of "The Work of the Law and Order League" of Charleston.

The meeting was held at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Godfrey, 121 Webb street, and the splendid hospitality shown to the guests by that household made the evening pass quickly. Music and refreshments were features that were highly enjoyed by all present. Porter A. Whaley, was chairman of the meeting.

The bishop was formally presented to the club by Rector J. H. Giboney, of Grace church, or rather the club was presented to the bishop, the visiting prelate already having recognized most of the members and called them by their first names. Bishop Guerry said that he had made no special preparation to deliver a formal address on the subject, but would just talk in general way on the work of the Charleston organization as he had observed it.

Non-Political Organization. "I am going to talk," said the bishop, "about Charleston, but I am not going to condemn Charleston, because I never had any use for a man who went about criticizing the town where he lives himself. I may criticize some things about the city, but if I do so shall make the criticism to a Charleston audience and it will be for the benefit of the city, as I see it."

"I may state that the law and order league of Charleston is not political, but is an organization of the church people mostly so that they may the better work out the civic betterment program for their city—a city, historically great and whose very flagstones have been baptized with the blood of her patriots time and again. Her past is so great that we are confident that she will rise Phoenix like from it to a matchless grandeur that will make her the pride of the South, of the state and of the nation."

The bishop told about some of the obstacles met in getting the organization to work and how some of the rebuffs to the workers came from unexpected sources. "But we feel that we are working along the right lines and that we shall win our battles for the right though it may take time. I said that the Law and Order League was not political, but I may as well add that its members will take a hand at the polls in Charleston when the time comes and they will elect the best man or men to govern the citizens of Charleston."

Speaking again of the obstacles, or rather reverting to that subject the bishop said that many high class citizens quibbled over signing the card of membership, which read that the signer would endeavor to be honest and to make his neighbor honest. He said the interlocking of interests of those "higher up" with those on a lower strata was startling to most people, it reminded him, he said, of what a notable magazine writer had said about the evil conditions of a certain strata of society being governed by those higher up.

"The work in Charleston, however is coming on, and we are not prone to complain so far. I have been told by many of the best people of the city that the program for civic righteousness will ultimately win and I feel that they are predicting correctly."

NEGRO TO FACE SERIOUS CHARGE

Wanted in Anderson For Insulting Young Lady, Arrested in Jacksonville, Fla.

John Thomas, a young negro of about 20 years, is being held by the police officials of Jacksonville, Fla., and Sheriff Joe M. H. Ashley of Anderson is now enroute to Florida to secure the prisoner. Thomas is wanted here for offering an insult to a young white woman late Saturday morning. According to information obtainable, Thomas was hidden in some bushes on one side of the road, between Hones Path and Donalds, in Abbeville county and when the young lady came by he beckoned to her. She was frightened and screamed several times, attracting attention from nearby people, but the negro at that time made good his escape.

GRANT LOW RATES FOR THE REUNION

Railroads Preparing To Bring Tremendous Crowds To Anderson on May 27-28

The seven principal railroads operating through this section of the county have granted very low round-trip rates from all points in South Carolina and some North Carolina points to Anderson, May 27-28 for the Confederate Veterans' Reunion. The rates in most instances are remarkably low and will enable many to come here for the event whereas they could not otherwise do so. Those railroads publishing the reduced rates are: Atlantic Coast Line, Blue Ridge, Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio, Charleston & Western Carolina, Columbia, Newberry & Laurens, Seaboard Air Line and the Southern.

These tickets will be placed on sale at all South Carolina points on May 25, 26 and 27. Special tickets are also provided for in the published tariff for children under 12 years of age.

ODD INCIDENTS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY

After three minutes of deliberation a New York jury decided against Mrs. Lena Israel who sued her ex-husband, Isaac Goldman, to recover $5,000 damages for spanking her four years ago. W. F. Cox, Jr., was the next speaker for the affirmative. He stated that the matter was resolved into three questions: 1. Are the demands of the closed shop just and reasonable? 2. Can the open shop satisfy the demands? 3. Can the closed shop satisfy the demands? He contended with telling force that the demands of the labor unions are just and reasonable and that the closed shop and not the open shop can meet them. Labor, he argued is in competition with capital, which may be divided into two classes competitive and non-competitive capital.

Competitive capital is fighting the labor unions with money, biased publicity and imported foreign labor. True freedom of contract exists only when combined labor is pitted against capital. Mr. Cox said that the closed shop benefits alike the employer, the employee and the public. The employer gets more skilled labor, the employee higher wages and more men employed, and the public a better grade of products.

Mr. Cox was quite humorously applauded and was presented with a beautiful bunch of flowers from the audience. He is a forceful speaker and held the attention of the audience from start to finish.

L. A. Moyer, The last speaker was L. A. Moyer, of Wofford. Mr. Moyer at once waded into his argument contending that the improvement of labor conditions was not due to the work of the unions but to the advancement of the times. He had nothing to say against labor organizations, but objected to the closed shop feature which denied the right of membership to 80 per cent of the workmen. Laborers who arrayed against each other by the closed shop policy, and the world stands against the crime and bloodshed caused and committed in the name of organized labor.

FURMAN DEBATERS DEFEAT WOFFORD

POINT DEBATE LAST EVE AT ANDERSON COLLEGE

LOCAL BOY SPOKE

W. F. Cox, Jr., Spoke on the Winning Side—Favoring "Closed Shops"—Speeches Good

The day of the orator is not past in South Carolina, for as long as the educational institutions of the State continue to turn out young men who can speak with the fluency and ease of the debaters who entertained an Anderson audience at the College auditorium, there will continue to be oratory.

The occasion was a joint debate between Furman university and Wofford college, the subject being one of the latest that could have been selected, except perhaps that of primary reform in South Carolina. It was "Resolved, That the Labor Unions of the United States are justified in demanding 'Closed Shops.'"

The affirmative, represented by Furman, won by the unanimous decision of the judges. The speakers were: Furman, W. F. Cox, Jr., and J. H. Simpson; Wofford P. D. Huff and L. A. Moyer. Prof. C. M. Faithful presided over the exercises which were opened with prayer by Mr. R. S. Ligon. Hon. T. Allen and Hon. John K. Hood, of Anderson, and Prof. A. B. Bryan, of Clemson College acted as judges.

Each speaker was allotted twenty minutes for his speech. The subject was handled with signal ability and the speeches showed careful preparation. Liberal applause was accorded each speaker, and especially marked was that given Mr. Cox, who is an Anderson boy, the son of Judge W. F. Cox, J. H. Simpson.

The first speaker on the affirmative was J. H. Simpson. He began by depicting conditions which existed before the organization of labor unions and showed wherein their organization had improved the condition of the laboring man, and that modern industrial conditions made the labor organizations essential. Their claims, he contended, are just and reasonable, and though they have short comings they should not be condemned therefor. As educators the labor unions are worth much to the great number of foreign laborers who came to America every year.

There is a constant warfare between labor and capital, and employers favor the non union labor in their endeavor to destroy the union. Better conditions are had through collective selling of labor through the union—the non-union laborers having no freedom of contract.

P. D. Huff, The first negative speaker was P. D. Huff, of Wofford college. He conceded that men had the right to do those things best for themselves, and they could even join the unions if they wished. But the fact remains that only 15 per cent of the laboring men of the country belong to the unions, which from a fraternal point of view are all right, but all wrong from a militant point of view.

It is a militant force, they are responsible for the conflicts between capital and labor. "Labor unions," said the speaker, "have walking delegates who go round with a double barreled weapon, one barrel being labeled 'hoycott,' the other 'strike.'" Mr. Huff made a very logical speech which was well received.

W. F. Cox, Jr., The next speaker for the affirmative, He stated that the matter was resolved into three questions: 1. Are the demands of the closed shop just and reasonable? 2. Can the open shop satisfy the demands? 3. Can the closed shop satisfy the demands? He contended with telling force that the demands of the labor unions are just and reasonable and that the closed shop and not the open shop can meet them. Labor, he argued is in competition with capital, which may be divided into two classes competitive and non-competitive capital.

Competitive capital is fighting the labor unions with money, biased publicity and imported foreign labor. True freedom of contract exists only when combined labor is pitted against capital. Mr. Cox said that the closed shop benefits alike the employer, the employee and the public. The employer gets more skilled labor, the employee higher wages and more men employed, and the public a better grade of products.

DESPERATE NEGRO WAGED A BATTLE

Was Shot Twice By Anderson County Authorities At Iva Before He Would Surrender

GREENVILLE PEOPLE ALSO WANT AUTO THIEF

Same Man Seen in Anderson Sunday With Stolen Automobile Repeated Performance

(From Wednesday's Daily) Ned Harris, one of the worst "gun-fighters" in the county and known all over Anderson as a bad negro was arrested late Monday evening by the special officers and Constable Cann at Iva, after the constable had shot the negro. Harris is wanted in this county on three warrants, one of these charging that he killed a mule, another for violating a contract and the third for disposing of property under lien.

About a year ago Harris killed a mule belonging to William Mooschak and then shipped out. Since that time the officers have been on the lookout for him but he was not seen until Sunday afternoon when Constable J. H. Cann received word that the negro was in a house near Iva. The constable, together with five other men, set out for the house but when they surrounded the place the negro knocked a sash out of the window and jumped over the heads of the officers, making a get-away.

Monday night the officers again discovered his whereabouts and when they approached the house in which he was hiding the negro ran. As he ran he drew a pistol from his pocket and prepared for battle. Mr. Cann then took a shot at the fleeing man, striking him in the hip. Then getting turned and fired several times at Mr. Harris, continuing to shoot until the officers placed a bullet through his left arm. He then surrendered and was carried to Iva. During Monday night he was given attention by Iva physicians and yesterday he was brought to the Anderson county hospital and placed there for treatment. It is said that he will probably recover.

APPROPRIATING CARS HIS PARTICULAR LINE

GREENVILLE PEOPLE ALSO WANT AUTO THIEF

Same Man Seen in Anderson Sunday With Stolen Automobile Repeated Performance

(From Wednesday's Daily) Telegrams and messages received in Anderson yesterday from Greenville which said that a man claiming to have left a splendid touring car in Anderson had "borrowed" an automobile in Greenville on Monday and had not been seen or heard of since. The message asked that Anderson people keep a sharp look-out for the thief but it is hardly likely that he will be seen in these parts for some time to come, since he is wanted here for stealing an automobile from a Mrs. Bealle at Calhoun Falls on Sunday.

The message was received in Anderson from the Greenville parties about noon yesterday and said that a stranger, wearing a "light green suit of clothes and a black hat" had appeared Sunday at the residence of John M. Steele, a cattle dealer and proprietor of a barber shop and had borrowed Mr. Steele's five passenger car, saying that it would be returned in a few hours. The man asking for the loan of the car said he had a splendid car himself but that he had broken down at Anderson and had left it here at Todd's auto shop for repairs. Mr. Smith left him the car and since that time he has heard nothing from the auto "expert."

According to the story received here from Greenville, the man represented himself as being an automobile expert and told the owner of the Greenville car that his name was Smith. He appeared about 2 o'clock Monday and secured the car and left for parts unknown. The machine he made away with the last time is a Maxwell touring car, with the body painted black and the wheels painted yellow. When he left Greenville he was accompanied by an ex-convict, a negro named Cuffey, and he went out of town via the White Horse road. When out of the city he stopped at Cunningham's store where he succeeded in purchasing two-gallons of gasoline on the credit and he has not been seen since.

There can be little doubt but that this is the same man wanted here for stealing the car Sunday from Mrs. Granville Bealle at Calhoun Falls. He told almost the same story in both instances, he is of the same description, with the same clothes, and the man wanted here and since he broke down the automobile he stole here and left here late Sunday evening, there is no conclusion to reach other than that he is a notorious automobile thief.

Another fact in connection with the man's exploits here Sunday is that he stole a $50 gold watch from one of the men coming to Anderson from Calhoun Falls with him Sunday. One of the men in the party had in very expensive watch and the driver of the stolen car asked that he lend it to him until Anderson was reached. When they got here the Smith or Fuller, as he claimed his name to be while he was in Anderson, succeeded in "shaking" the man from whom he had borrowed the watch and as a result the man is minus the time-piece.

W. A. Swift of Elberton, Ga., arrived in the city yesterday to assist in the search for Mrs. Bealle's car and he spent the day here, endeavoring to find some trace of the mysterious stranger. Mr. Swift is a close friend of the lady from Calhoun Falls and he was very anxious to find her car. He made arrangements here for having Mrs. Bealle's car sent back to Calhoun Falls and said that he would lend every possible assistance in the search for the thief.

JENNINGS-SMITH

The many friends of Mr. J. Coke Smith and Miss Marie Jennings will be surprised to learn of their marriage, which took place at Eastay on Sunday, the 17th of May, at 3:30 P. M. Rev. B. W. Hoot officiating. Mr. Smith is a well-known and prosperous farmer of Brushy Creek township and son of the late Mr. M. Marie Smith. Miss Jennings is the youngest daughter of Prof. J. S. Jennings of Savannah, Ga., and has been serving as teacher at Three and Twenty school near Eastay for the past term, where she has made hosts of friends. Her many friends in Anderson and Greenville will be interested in her marriage as she was a student at the Greenville Female college for a number of years. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for their honeymoon.

NEGROES CAUGHT BY FALLING DIRT

Two Workmen Were Buried Under Excavation on Ligon and Ledbetter Site Yesterday

(From Wednesday's Daily) Will Robinson and Sylvester Oliver, negroes employed in the work of excavating for the new Ligon and Ledbetter site next to the Blue Ridge railway on Main street, were caught under a cavern yesterday morning and almost lost their lives. The accident occurred about eight o'clock in the morning, soon after the squad had started to work. One of the negroes had a shovel and the other a pick and without warning a great portion of the earth on the wall came away entombing the two negroes. Other negroes at work near-by rushed to their assistance and the two men were soon extricated. Both suffered severe bruises and for a time it was feared that Robinson had also been hurt internally. He was taken in an automobile to the Anderson hospital where medical assistance was rendered and was said last night that his injuries would probably not be serious. The other negro was more frightened than hurt and he went back to work.

OFFICIAL DECORATOR

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Brush This Through Faded, Lifeless Locks and they become Dark, Glossy, Youthful

Hair that loses its color and lustre or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our Grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell that it has been applied. Besides, it takes out dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hairs disappear; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair, after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. Belton, May 21.—The health of our community is not so good. Among those who are indisposed are the following: Mrs. Elzira Kay, Mrs. Lettie Shirley and Mr. James Smith. Besides these, a number of others have colds—a result of variable weather. A good rain would doubtless ease many of our ailments, but a strong east wind and dust being very disagreeable.

Mrs. W. C. Burris had a delightful visit from her brother, Mr. H. Carpenter, who is stationed at Seattle, Wash. Miss Frances Shirley, who for three years has successfully taught the Williford school, returned home Saturday for her vacation, to the delight of her many friends.

School at this place closed about two weeks ago. Miss Thompson, who has had charge for two years, has done effective work, and made many friends. Mrs. Haskell Kay and Mrs. Maggie Kelly of Bolton spent Friday with Misses Lizzy and Iva Kay. Farmers in this section report poor stands of cotton, and some cannot plant corn until it rains. They report small grain crop prospects as discouraging on account of continued dry weather. But let us do our part, and trust that all things will be well, and who has promised "good time and harvest."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shilley of Bolton spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cobb. Miss Mamie Cobb is spending some time in Laurens with her sister Mrs. Queen. To see four sisters together, the youngest of whom is more than thirty years old, is no common sight; but that is what one could see last week at the home of Mr. R. C. Shirley when three sisters of his mother, Mrs. Lettie Shirley, visited her. They are Mrs. Jennie Heller of Greenville; Mrs. Lettie Heller of Seneca; and Mrs. Sarah Kay of Bolton.

Master Joe Kay of Bolton is spending the week with his uncle Mr. Eugene Kay. Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Mann, have returned from Lockhart, Union county, having assisted Rev. J. M. Cameron in a revival meeting of ten days duration. The meeting was delightful and several united with the church. On their return from there they visited the Spring Institute for the deaf and blind, where Mr. Mann was situated. They were present at the reunion given by the school to the State Federation of Women's Clubs. An excellent program was rendered showing some of the work being done there, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Jane Martin of Townville is visiting relatives here. Miss Ouida Major, who has been teaching near Smith Chapel, is at home for the summer. Let's see, what is represented in District No. 2, Saluda Association, lead delegates to the union which convenes with a May 29-31. The following churches comprise this district: Cross Roads, Mt. Rock, Clark Mill, Iva First, Iva Second, Long Branch, Neal's Creek, Poplar Spring, Rocky River and Ligon.

South Williamson May 20.—The revival meeting which has been conducted at the Methodist church here, under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. J. T. Mann, closed Sunday afternoon, May 17, with a large number of professions of faith. Those who were added to the church, the candidates were baptized Sunday night by the pastor. Mrs. E. S. Gossett of Calhoun Falls spent Sunday in the city with relatives. The mill school closed last Friday and the two teachers, Misses Lettie Stewart and Lettie Higgins, arranged a picnic for the children which was held in the spring park Saturday. The children and their parents were present and a very happy and a jolly good time. The first beneficiary had received some very appropriate selections for the orchestra.

Mr. W. M. Sherrard has gone to the State Democratic convention in Columbia. He is the son of the sponsor, a few days in Greenwood with his sister Mrs. B. A. Sherrard. Miss Carrie Rouse has returned after spending a few days in Laurens with relatives.
