NEGRO ATTEMPTED TO KILL WHITE FOREMAN

ERNEST SHAW IN A CRITICAL CONDITION

SKULL FRACTURED

Marvin Howard, a Negro Plantation Hand, Struck Overseer Behind Ear With Rock

(From Sunday's Daily.)
Following closely upon the killing of a negro by a white foreman Friday afternoon, negro plantation hand attempted to kill Ernest Shaw, foreman of the John Pruitt plantation. Mr. Shaw was struck behind the ear and his skull was fractured. He was at once rushed to the Anderson county hospital and at an early hour this morning the hospital authorities said that while Mr. Shaw's condition was very serious, it was reasonable to believe that he might recover.
The Pruitt plantation is in the Starr neighborhood and from the information available it seems that the foreman and the negro had a dispute, during the progress of which Mr. Shaw turned to one side and the negro waiting for his chance, let fly with a rock, inflicting the injury.
It was said last night that the blow from the rock was so severe that it fractured the skull the width of the hand and the wound is very dangerous indeed. Shaw is a man of splendid build and it is believed that his constitution will permit him to recover.

THREW A LEMON AT GOV. BLEASE

One of the Incidents of the Meeting at Greenwood—Jennings in Good Form

An Anderson man who attended the meeting at Greenwood says that Senator Smith made a fine and telling speech. He went into detail over the things that he has done to aid the farmer in the five and a half years that he has been in Washington. His voice was not at its best, but he made a strong impression.
Governor Blease was in fine condition and was well received. He had among his friends a number of visitors from other sections of the state. He made a bitter attack on Senator Smith, stating that the latter had done nothing and is considered a joke in the senate. He claimed that J. L. Sims, of Orangeburg, United States marshal, had worked as a printer on a republican paper, working with negroes to defeat Wade Hampton for governor.
During the governor's speech some one pitched a lemon at him from the window of the court house. The governor stopped and called for the "coward" who had thrown the lemon to show himself. It was learned afterwards that the lemon was thrown by a girl, and that she is not from Greenwood.
He then made his usual speech about not having no apologies to make to any man for any of his during his career as governor and that none but Bleasesites need apply for jobs in his holding a commission signed by Cole L. Blease, he tried to get it. He denounced the primary enrollment as a plan to rob the poor man of his vote. He closed amid applause and was given a basket of fruit.
The third speaker was W. P. Pollock of Cheraw, who at first had some difficulty to get the attention of the followers of the governor, but in a short time he had the crowd with him. He told of his reasons for entering the race and gave a short history of his life, as a farmer and as a lawyer. He had served his county in the legislature and challenged any man to put his finger on any black mark in his record. He tackled Senator Smith's speech and he returned to Washington. He then ripped it up. Pollock made the usual charges against Blease and got a vociferous encouragement from the other things he gave the lie to the allegation that he is a Jew. Mr. Pollock stated that he is Scotch-Irish and he had proved the Irish part in the campaign. He paid a compliment to the Jews and said that were one he would not be ashamed of it.
Mr. Jennings made a powerful speech and was given rapt attention. He concluded amid a kind of ovation. He made a strong plea, backing up the reform rules in the democratic primary, and when he had concluded it seemed that everybody in the big crowd understood and approved his explanation. He then got on Blease's pardon record and gave it all to shreds in certain particulars. He said that a white man in Laurens county had shot another who has since recovered, although he had a petition signed by 1,200 citizens, including many ladies and preachers, the governor had turned the petition down. On the other hand, there is the Gus Ritchey case where the governor had pardoned a white man from Abbeville, who had been mean enough to seduce a little girl whom he had seduced into his own home and whom he had taught to call him "Papa."
Mr. Jennings made a fine impression and the people begged him to go on.
And seen nothing better.
"Say, did you ever know a woman to buy what she wanted at the first store she came to?" "Yes, my wife frequently does—that is, she returns to it after she's been to all the other stores."

NEW RECORD ON WRECKED CARS

Machine Said To Have Been Entirely Ruined Repaired Yesterday and Is Running Again

When Robert (Punkin) McCully and two companions ran into a ditch on Welch avenue Friday night, it was said that their Ford automobile was entirely wrecked and bystanders at the place expressed the opinion that the machine would hardly be worth carting up town as it seemed to be just about ruined. However, Mr. McCully did not concur in this opinion and he went out on a search for the Ford doctor.

Archie Todd was found and yesterday morning the mechanics from Todd's shops lit onto the job of repairing the car. As a result the car was as good as new yesterday afternoon and the car left at a late hour for Highlands, N. C., for a replacement trip.
This is almost a record in the matter of repairing cars in Anderson and it was quite a feat to put the machine back into shape in such a short length of time.

A GOOD WOMAN DIED YESTERDAY

Mrs. Sallie Hall of Flat Rock Section Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at 2:30 O'clock

(From Sunday's Daily.)
People in different sections of Anderson county will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Sallie Hall, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hall was 67 years of age and had been in feeble health for some time but her death was directly due to paralysis. She had been ill for only a few days but after the attack but little hope was held out for her recovery.
Mrs. Hall is survived by her husband, P. C. Hall, and three children, L. W. and O. L. Hall and Mrs. P. T. Haynie.
The funeral services will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Flat Rock Presbyterian church and will be conducted by the Rev. D. W. Witherston Dodge, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Anderson.

LOSES A FINGER BUT SAVES HAND

Mr. J. C. Nalley Was Operated Upon Saturday at Anderson County Hospital

(From Sunday's Daily.)
J. C. Nalley, proprietor of the High Shoals mills, and residing two miles east of the city, underwent an operation yesterday at the Anderson Hospital.
It will be remembered that Mr. Nalley some months ago met with a painful accident at his mills by having his right hand badly mangled in the cogs of the wheels and septic poison set in but was brought under control, and he has recovered. The middle finger, however, was so impaired that it became necessary to amputate by removing it entirely up into the hand. Mr. Nalley's many friends will be glad to learn that the operation was able to be carried home last evening. Early in the spring his life was in great danger, but he is now much better. Dr. J. C. Harris operated Saturday very successfully.

TREWOLLA TAKEN TO THE ASYLUM

Man Who Tried to Commit Suicide Carried To Columbia By Anderson Officers

(From Sunday's Daily.)
Lawrence Trewolla, a carpenter well known around town, was taken to Columbia yesterday afternoon by Constable LaBoon and will be placed in the state hospital for the insane.
The interesting fact in connection with Mr. Trewolla being taken away is that he tried to commit suicide in this city on July 4th by throwing himself from a second story window at his boarding house on O'Connell street. The facts in connection with this case are well remembered by Anderson people. When Trewolla entered the house he called his wife and went up stairs and as soon as they entered the room the man threw himself from the window. For a time it was feared that his neck was broken but he was recovered.
It is presumed that he will be benefited by the treatment in Columbia and it is hoped that he may be entirely cured of his malady.

ONE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Driven by Robert McCully Was Wrecked in a Ditch Last Night About 10 O'clock

(From Saturday's Daily.)
A car driven by Robert E. McCully and owned by him, ran into a ditch on Welch avenue last night about 10 o'clock. The machine was completely wrecked. Mr. McCully was badly injured, and Joe Farmer, an occupant of the car, also sustained a number of painful injuries. Sam Caldwell was the third passenger in the machine but he escaped without a scratch.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

It is said that the steering gear of the machine went wrong and the driver lost control, the car plunging into the ditch. The machine is a complete wreck and it is hardly probable that the auto shops can do much to it.

NEW POSTALS ARE TO BE SOLD HERE

Government Will Put New Portrait On All Postal Cards At An Early Date

Official notice of a new issue of a postal card series, with the portrait of Jefferson instead of McKinley, has been received by postmaster Cochran of the local postoffice together with a complete description of the card and instructions as to securing a supply. Some days ago requisition for a large quantity of the series was forwarded from the local postoffice, but owing to the fact that the printing capacity of the department is limited, it is uncertain as to when it will be received. The Jefferson postal card is known as the No. 8 card. It is the same size as the present card, with the face of McKinley, this being officially designated the No. 4 card. The paper of the recently authorized issue is cream in color and is printed in green ink. The subject of the stamp is a profile portrait of Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States, looking to the left. The background of the portrait is green and is surrounded with a circular border bearing in capital letters the words, "U. S. Postal Card, One Cent." This border rests upon a curved base containing a ribbon in which appears the name "Jefferson," with the numeral "1" in an ellipse on either end. To the left of the stamp is a horizontal line of Gothic capitals in the inscription, "This side for address," with a frame of plate lines having concave corners.
Undamaged No. 4 cards now held in stock in the various postoffices of the country, will be valid for postage indefinitely or until the present supply is exhausted. They will not be accepted by the department in exchange for the Jefferson issue.
The Jefferson cards will be issued in sheets of 48, (4 wide and 12 long), when desired for printing purposes, provided they are bought in quantities of 10,000.

Telephone to Glazier

"I WISH you would get a glazier to come up and set that pane of glass the child broke yesterday. The house is as cold as a barn," said the suburban housewife, as her husband was about to go to business.
"Haven't time this morning," replied her husband. "Just look in the Telephone Directory—you'll find several there. Give the order to the one who says he will send a man right up."
It's the man with the telephone who gets the hurry orders every time.
