J. J. REGAN MAKES ANNUAL ADDRESS

Was the Feature of the Second Day's Meeting of Ancient Order of Hibernians

(By Associated Press.)
Norfolk, July 22. The body of delegates met in mass this afternoon when President James J. Regan, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians began to deliver his annual address and report, and cheered him to the echo. President Regan, smiling his pleasure at the demonstration, commenced the address in which he recalled the hearty and loyal action of the Chicago convention when without a discordant note it re-elected him president, not so much in self-interest, but to show loyalty to his post to demonstrate its commonness of purpose in the work which it was called upon to perform. The president then reviewed general conditions of the order, assuring the audience that it was becoming more and more powerful as a preserving agent for the safety of the republic. The speaker swayed from discussion of the local affairs and reviewed the situation in Ulster where a "few intemperate spirits have been waging a bitter campaign against home rule, accusing what ever possible racial prejudice and religious bigotry." The speaker also touched on the relations of the order to the church which he expressed in the sentence that "faith and the fatherland are synonymous with us."

Prayed the Women.
President Regan also touched on the ladies auxiliary. He said that it would indeed be a tame organization which tried to exist without the women to inspire its efforts and to set the pace for the slower-footed men to follow.

Mr. Regan's address was the feature of the second day's session of the biennial convention of the A. O. H.

Memorial mass at St. Paul's church, Portsmouth, opened today's session. A short business session followed, in which the credentials committee reported with no contests. This afternoon, in addition to the report of President Regan the convention heard reports from its secretary, from the juvenile committee, which reported membership of 4,800; from the military branch of the order, which recommended raising funds for the cause in Ireland and declared nine counties in Ireland were drilling for the conflict. Telegrams were sent to the Apostolic delegates at Washington and in Canada and to the Pope.

Every state in the union is represented in the convention, and delegates are present from the Canadian northwest.

GARLINGTON SUED FOR A LARGE AMOUNT

CAROLINA AGENCY COMPANY DEMANDS MONEY

AN ORDER ISSUED

Judge Prince Yesterday Decided That the Defendant Owes Company $25,000

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
John Y. Garlington and the Seminole Securities matter came up for review before Judge Prince yesterday. The case was started at the spring term of court in Richland county and was argued to a conclusion yesterday. Albert C. Todd of Laurens, represent ed Garlington and F. G. Tompkins, J. T. Gettys and G. P. Logan of Columbia represented the attorneys for the Carolina agency company which was suing for a return of $25,000. Judge Prince last night decided the case in favor of the plaintiffs and against Garlington.

Some years ago Garlington established in this state a general agency for the State Mutual Life of Rome, Ga. He wrote a lot of insurance and later capitalized his general agency under the name of the Carolina Agency Company. A year or so later he used his stock in the Carolina Agency Company to get a charter for the Seminole Securities company, the avowed intention of which company was to organize an accident insurance company.

The Seminole Securities company got into the hands of speculators who wrecked it and the Carolina agency company was also deeply involved, although it was a separate company. Subsequently the agency company was put into the hands of a receiver Wade Hampton Cobb of Columbia, being appointed to that position. Garlington, on the terms of his parole from the state prison, is living beyond the borders of the state, but is said to have property in this state.

Some time ago the case was brought before Judge Prince when arguments were made on the question whether or not a guardian ad litem should be appointed for Garlington while he was in the state penitentiary. Judge Prince ruled against Garlington's contention, that under the circumstances existing in this case, a guardian ad litem should not be appointed for him.

The case was then referred to A. D. McFadden, master of Richland county, to take testimony and submit same with his findings to the court. The master reported that Garlington is liable to the receiver of the company in the sum of $21,000. The arguments today are on the nullification of the master's report admitting evidence and as to his report that Garlington is indebted to the company in the sum named.

A reading of the case yesterday consumed over three hours. After the arguments had been made, Judge Prince decided that Garlington is indebted to the Carolina Agency company in the sum of $25,000.

SENECA SAW A PRETTY WEDDING

Mr. James Richardson and Miss Florence Burley Were Married in Quiet Fashion Tuesday

One of the surprise weddings of the last few days to occur in this section was that of Mr. James Richardson, of Anderson, and Miss Florence Burley, of Walhalla which occurred Wednesday morning at Seneca. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson arrived in the city yesterday shortly after the noon hour and are at the Chiquola Hotel, where they are receiving the best wishes of a host of friends.

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN NELMS MYSTERY

Brother of Missing Women Will Seek Federal Aid At An Early Date

(By Associated Press.)
Atlanta, Ga., July 21.—Attorney General McReynolds soon will be asked to investigate the mysterious disappearance of Miss Beatrice Nelms and Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis; from whom no authoritative information has been received, since they left the city early in June. Marshal Nelms, brother of the missing women, announced tonight that he would leave for Washington tomorrow to see the attorney general.

While Nelms would not say on just what basis he hoped to interest the federal authorities, he has previously asserted that he did not believe the mystery letter mailed in San Francisco and received here on July 8 by his mother, Mrs. Jno. W. Nelms, was written by Mrs. Dennis. The message was typewritten and signed in handwriting with Mrs. Dennis' initials. It indicated that she had killed her sister, was preparing to kill her brother, and would then commit suicide. It is also said that Nelms has evidence showing that Mrs. Dennis sent money by checks through the mails to be invested in Mexico and it is thought that the appeal to the federal authorities may be based on this phase of the case.

FARMERS UNION STATE MEETING

MANY ALREADY HERE AND MORE COMING

OPENING SESSION

Began Deliberations Last Night With Very Successful Meeting -Go To Clemson Today

(From Thursday's Daily.)
Anderson has entertained the politicians, Anderson has entertained the veterans and Anderson has entertained many bodies of much importance within the last year but no body more deserving of the hospitality of the community has ever been entertained here than that which is now gathered in Anderson—the State Farmers' Union. Delegates to the union began arriving in the city early yesterday morning and by last night there were about 60 delegates present. It was ascertained that this number would be materially increased by the hour for starting the trip to Clemson College and it is believed that at least 100 farmers will compose the party going to Clemson today.

Last night the first session of the union was held at 8:30 o'clock and was called to order in the court house by J. W. Rothrock, president of the Anderson county union. Mr. Rothrock introduced Mayor Lee G. Holloman, who delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the city and the mayor was followed by Porter A. Winley, who, on behalf of the chamber of commerce, made the farmers a hearty and cordial welcome. The response to these addresses was delivered by President E. W. Dabbs. Mr. Rothrock called attention to the fact that the first local union in this state was organized in the same room in 1906.

The union was then called to order and it was found that the following officers were present: President E. W. Dabbs of Mayesville; Secretary and Treasurer J. Whitner Reid of Columbia; Chaplain W. E. Bodie, of Wards; Conductor C. W. Suber, of Columbia; executive committee, R. M. Cooper of Wsackay, and B. Harris, of Piedmont.

The following committees were then appointed by the president: Creditables—J. W. P. Harmon, C. B. Yarborough, T. Y. Chalmers. Resolutions—R. M. Cooper, Hugh Witherspoon, E. A. Fudgers. Constitutional Amendments—J. F. Williams, J. W. Shenley, S. F. Crossley.

Education—Dr. W. M. Riggs, M. I. Sams, Hugh Witherspoon. President's Address and Report of State Officers—E. J. Watson, J. D. Whetsell, J. O. Harris.

Hours of Meeting—J. W. Rothrock, J. M. Broyles, J. Whitner Reid.

A committee made report that it had audited the books of the secretary-treasurer and found all there to be in splendid shape with correct balances and showing that the association was in good shape. The secretary-treasurer then made his financial statement relative to the disbursement of funds during the last year, the money received, and the money now on hand. The union is in good condition from a financial standpoint. The president's expense account was read and approved and then came the report of the field work of the secretary-treasurer. This report showed that Mr. Reid had been able to accomplish much along several lines during the last year and every member was well pleased.

The president's address was one of the features of the evening and delighted the audience. Mr. Dabbs is wrapped up in the work of the farmers' union and he has labored early and late for the good of the organization. He told of what he had hoped and planned during year, gone by and he outlined plans to be followed during the years to come, by which the union could become a greater and stronger factor for helping the farmer.

Several amendments were proposed to the constitution and after these were read they were passed on to the committee on constitution. A number of resolutions were also referred to the committee on resolutions.

The most interesting feature of the evening was reached near the close of the meeting when the union took up the discussion of the activities of the local unions in different sections of the state. Almost every delegate had a report to make and had suggestions to offer for the work during the coming year. This was a feature of the evening as a number of bright ideas were advanced and several instances were reported of where the local unions had been enabled to do good work. This discussion will be resumed this evening when the body is called to order in the court house at 8 o'clock.

After explaining the program for today, which calls for an additional discussion this morning upon the subject of the local unions, and a trip to Clemson College for dinner, the meeting of the union was declared adjourned last night at 11 o'clock.

GRIEF STRICKEN AND HOPELESS

In Way People of York County Were Found in Hail Stricken Belt

The hail stricken section of York county is a scene of desolation, said W. W. King, of Clemson College, who was here yesterday. Mr. King states that he made an official visit there on behalf of the government, and that he wishes to witness another such moving spectacle. A strip 23 miles long and four miles in width on an average was absolutely ruined. Even the trees were stripped as bare of foliage as if it were mid-winter. Chickens, hogs and even calves were killed. John T. Fiddley, president of the local chamber of commerce, in 17 head of fat polo cattle, the big, strong beef cattle, and 11 of them were killed to death by the hail. One full-grown cow had taken refuge in a gully and when she was found dead she was completely covered with hail, with the exception of the tip of her nose.

One group of sloping land of several acres was covered to a depth of 4-12 feet with hail, and in one gulley, 13 feet deep, the hail had drifted to the very top of the gully. Nothing like it had ever been heard of in this country. There was no severe wind storm and as a result, the hail appeared in a peculiar manner, the wind even blew the grasses away, and indeed the furrows were filled even with the rows in the field. Mr. King stated that in all of this scene of desolation he and others went among the people trying to cheer them up to give them heart. And it was a most affecting situation. The people were absolutely broken, fazed and hopeless. They knew not what to do. In nearly every home the families were gathered to hear. The good people of that section have gone to the relief of their neighbors and it may not be long before industry will be started in the wake of destruction.

THREE NATIONS HAVE GRIEVANCES

France, England and Spain Demand Satisfaction From the Constitutionalists

Washington, July 21.—The United States through its consular representatives today appealed to General Carranza and General Villa in the interests of patriotism and permanent peace in Mexico to bury their personal differences and work in harmony for the establishment of a new government.

Secretary Bryan telegraphed both George C. Carother and John R. Silliman, representatives of the state department with General Villa and General Carranza, respectively, urging that they present in a most friendly, yet emphatic manner, the apprehension of collision in the constitutionalist forces.

While the recent conference at Torreon was declared to have resulted in healing the breach between Villa and Carranza, reports have come to the effect that Villa was preparing to concentrate his troops in Chihuahua and hold himself aloof from Carranza authority.

The general situation today did not seem as promising for peace to come diplomatically as it did to American officials. General Carranza has insisted that the surrender of the Carranza government be unconditional. Representative of Mr. Carranza guarantees and amnesty first must be granted.

France has now been added to Great Britain and Spain as nations having grievances against the constitutionalists which will be set aside for future reckoning but not forgotten. England will eventually demand satisfaction for the killing of Benton. Spain wants her subjects reimbursed for confiscated property and France is now making urgent representations concerning the death of two French citizens at Zacatecas.
