THINGS FOR VOTERS TO BEAR IN MIND

NEXT FEW DAYS MAY KEEP AWAY VOTES

CITY AND COUNTY

Register For Coming City Election, Enroll for Approaching State Primary

Anderson county voters have a number of things to bear in mind for the next few days and the voters in the city have even one more problem confronting them that have the voters in the county. There are several things which the citizens of Anderson and the county of Anderson should attend to within the next few days.

The general municipal election is to be held in Anderson on August 4 and before that time every voter desiring to cast a vote must call at the office of T. P. Dickson city supervisor of registration, and secure a registration certificate. The books will be closed after Friday of this week.

Every voter should enroll his full name on the club roll and there can be no excuse for any voter in the county not knowing where his club roll is located. The location of these club rolls have been printed time and time again.

The county registration board is to start out next week for the canvass over the county, to make up the new registration books for the general election to be held in the fall.

Leon L. Rice, secretary and treasurer of the county executive committee stated Wednesday that the following candidates have filed their pledges and paid their assessments: J. M. Holliday, Harrison A. Foster, R. A. Mullikin and R. A. Fulton candidates for commissioners; T. P. Nelson candidate for the house of representatives and H. Clint Summers, candidate for state senate.

The North Anderson club roll can be found from now until the 28th at the North Anderson grocery store.

A question has been asked as when the club rolls shall be closed on the 28th and it would seem from reading the rules that they will close with that day, to-wit 12 o'clock on the night of July 28, 1914.

If you have already enrolled and did not sign your full name, go back and fill in your name even though you might be of the opinion that your initials constitute your full name. You do not want some one to come along to challenge your vote and cause it to be placed in an envelope and perhaps to make this a ground of contest. Be on the safe side and see that your name is on the roll so that no man can challenge your vote.

MR. COOK ANNOUNCES

Will Enter the Race for Treasurer of the County.

As has been discussed for several days, Mr. J. A. Cook has decided to enter the race for county treasurer and his formal announcement appears in this issue of the Intelligencer. Mr. Cook is a native of Anderson county and needs no introduction to the people, but to those who have moved here in the last few years something about him may be of interest.

Mr. Cook is a native of Iowa but has lived in this city for a number of years. For 13-14 years he was in the harness business and for the last 3-4 years he has been selling harness to the trade. He says his reason for entering the race is that he "wants the job."

Mr. Cook has been a prominent secret order man in Anderson and has been national representative of the W. O. W. He was a candidate for mayor two years ago and even against such a popular man as Leo Holliman, received a very complimentary vote.

MRS. S. BLECKLEY PASSES AWAY

After a Lingerin Illness, Sainted Woman, Crosses Over the Last River

Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond Bleckley, widow of the late Sylvester Bleckley, died at her home on North Main street shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. She had been in declining health for several months and her death has been momentarily expected by members of the family and friends for several days.

Mrs. Bleckley is survived by three brothers, Messrs. W. A. Hammond and G. E. Hammond, of Williston, Fla., O. F. Hammond, of Greenville, and one sister, Mrs. L. L. Gallard, who resides on West Franklin street, this city. Five daughters, all of Anderson, survive her. They are Mrs. S. J. Peoples, Mrs. J. J. Fretwell, Mrs. William Laughlin, Mrs. A. G. Means and Mrs. F. B. Maxwell.

Sketch of Her Life.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hammond Bleckley, the daughter of the late Frank Hammond, was born on her father's country estate a few miles north of this city in the year of 1837. She received her early education at a country schoolhouse, and even during those childhood days began to show a taste for literature. Later she became a student at the Johnson university of this city, and during her college life her brilliant essays, humorous or grave, gave zest to the pages of a monthly magazine, "Le Bas Bleu," which was published by the senior class of the university. She was graduated with distinction in 1863—receiving her badge and diploma from the hands of Dr. William Bullen Johnson, the distinguished divine, who was chancellor of this institution at this time.

She was married to Mr. Sylvester Bleckley, and in all her duties of life as churchwoman, wife, mother, friend, she retained her same lovable, beautiful character of her earlier years.

She was president of the Woman's Temperance Union ever since its organization, and was ever ready with tongue or pen to fight the great foe of mankind—intemperance.

As a Daughter of the Revolution she was often chosen by the Catechesis chapter to represent them in the national conventions as well as this state. In the year 1913 she was appointed by the president general, Mrs. William Cummings Story, a member of the "Historical Research and Preservation of Records" committee, which is an important committee, and in which Mrs. Bleckley was fully capable of being, having a wonderful memory, and also was always on the lookout for anything of historical interest.

Nowhere will Mrs. Bleckley be missed more than in the United Daughters of the Confederacy, having been in these trying times, she knew how to sympathize with the "boys who wore the gray," and they never lacked this word of love from Mrs. Bleckley. At all Confederate reunions, or special days the program was not complete without Mrs. Bleckley, spoke a few words or gave one of her original and best stories, which were original, and the foundation of which she had gotten on her father's plantation. She was a member of the R. M. Lee chapter ever since its organization, which dates back about 20 years. Her current events always sparkled with fire, and she was always ready with a story which identified Mrs. Bleckley's presence in every place.

Mrs. Bleckley was one of the first to join the Civic association, and was ever ready to do anything that would beautify her town, and make it more attractive to residents, and strangers. In fact her hand was ever stretched to the letter and she welcomed them with a cordiality that gave them that good feeling of "make yourself at home," and which lasted as an enduring memory, which means so much to a stranger within your gates.

Thoroughly enjoying life in its most beautiful phases, the sunshine of her presence brought pleasure to all with whom she came in contact.

Not dead—Gone, but not beloved. "The pure white soul has crossed to the misty borderlands, where the living may not follow." We know that those art clothed in the garments of righteousness, and hath entered the palace of the Great King; a member of the white throne that is now, and forever singing.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church at 4 o'clock Thursday, July 23, 1914.

The active pall-bearers will be Leo G. Holliman, Rufus Park, Dr. W. H.

WILL MAKE TRIP ON THE GAS CAR

Plan to Carry Farmers in Automobiles to Clemson Had to Be Abandoned Yesterday

(From Thursday's Daily.)
For some time the local committee of the farmers' union has been engaged in making arrangements for the association which convened last night and the committee at one time believed that it would be a fairly simple matter to secure enough machines to take the entire convention to Clemson College today. However, several dis-appointments were met with and this plan was finally partially abandoned, it being decided that the trip would be made over the Blue Ridge railroad to Cherry, where the party will be met by Clemson College officials with conveyances.

It is said that a majority of the farmers will leave over the gas-electric car this morning at 7:30 o'clock. However, the majority of the party will take the early train.
Before the change was made in the program for the season today, it was contemplated that the party would not leave Anderson until 10 o'clock this morning and therefore the program called for a one hour session this morning, to begin at 9 o'clock and to continue until 10 o'clock. Since an earlier start will be made, this part of the program will be done away with altogether.

Thursday, July 23.

8:00 p. m.—Reports concluded and remainder of meeting devoted to questions.
9:15 a. m.—Is the Union worth while? 2. What is being done to increase its membership and enlarge its usefulness?

Discussions concluded.

12 M.—Election and installation of officers. Place of next meeting. Adjournment at 11.

ASKING FOR THE TYPHOID SERUM

Anderson People Believe That An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure

While there is but little typhoid fever in Anderson and not many cases in all the county, still local people realize that it is best to be on the safe side and therefore a number of them have applied to the Anderson physicians for inoculation with the typhoid vaccine. In each of these cases the physicians have had to order the vaccine from the state board of health at Columbia and the following communication from them, received by Anderson doctors yesterday, explains why local people will have to wait a few days:

"Columbia, S. C., July 21, 1914.
"Dear Doctor:
"Your request for typhoid vaccine has been received. Owing to the great demand for the vaccine and our limited producing and shipping facilities, it may be necessary to delay your shipment for a few days. Your request will be filed and filled as soon as possible. In order to avoid disappointment in the future, we suggest that immunizations be not begun except where a sufficient supply of vaccine for full immunization is in your possession."
"The State Board of Health."

BURIAL OF MRS. BLECKLEY

First Baptist Church was Filled With a Sorrowing Congregation

The funeral of Mrs. Bleckley was held at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist church and was attended by an immense gathering that overflowed the body of the church and the Sunday school room. Among those who attended, even though the evening was very oppressive, were the Daughters of the Confederacy and the members of other clubs of the city, as well as a large number of friends from the distance and one corner of the church was set off for colored people. The services were conducted by Rev. J. F. Vines and a few words of benediction were expressed by a former pastor, Rev. O. L. Martin, who showed a great deal of emotion. He referred to the fact that Mrs. Bleckley's life had been one long round of bringing happiness into the world.

Never were there more or more beautiful floral tributes and remembrances for a funeral in this city, and Mr. Martin aptly said that this was an outpouring of love for the foremost woman in Anderson.

MRS McCULLOUGH WAS LAID TO REST

Funeral Services Took Place Tuesday Afternoon In Greenville; Were Largely Attended

The funeral services of Mrs. Maud McCullough, mother of Fred and James McCullough, two of Anderson's well known business men, was held in Greenville Tuesday afternoon. The following is from the Greenville News of yesterday:

The funeral services of Mrs. Maud D'Alvigny McCullough, wife of Judge J. A. McCullough, were held at the residence yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Mark L. Carlisle of the Duncombe Street Methodist church.

A very large concourse of relatives and sympathizing friends attended and the floral designs were very beautiful and in profusion.

Mrs. McCullough was one of the most loved of Greenville's many noble women and her death will create a sad void not only in her family circle, but among her multitude of friends.

The interment was in the family plot at Springwood.

The following gentlemen were the pall bearers: H. B. Carpenter, A. A. Bristow, B. F. Martin, C. O. Allen, Wm. Goldsmith, J. M. Crook, H. Endell, W. C. Beacham, G. F. Wrigley, J. F. Richardson, W. A. JAS. M. BAKER HERE

Stated Why He Is Opposing Congress- man Wyatt Alken.

Jas. M. Baker, secretary of the United States senate, was here yesterday in conference with Fred H. Dominick, candidate for congress from this congressional district. Mr. Baker stated that because he supported Col. I. H. McCalla of Abbeville for congress, Mr. Alken opposed Mr. Baker's election to the position he now holds, and Mr. Baker is therefore opposing Mr. Alken. Mr. Baker is from Lowndesville and has been in the government service a number of years. He defeated President Wilson's brother for the job he now holds.

CHANGES BEING MADE EVERY DAY

Reed Lot Has Been Sold Again— New Store Room Is Now Being Planned For Main Street

(From Thursday's Daily.)
It was announced yesterday that J. H. Anderson had purchased from R. C. McKinney a portion of the Reed property on Main street. The site purchased by Mr. Anderson yesterday is a strip between the Reed building and the Blue Ridge railroad, fronting 17 feet feet on Main street and it is understood that the consideration was $12,500. This is a valuable piece of property.

Another matter of general interest around town is that Mrs. Selgman is planning to erect a handsome two-story business building on that part of the old Garrison property recently purchased by her.

This will add still more to the appearance of South Main street and if the improvements in that direction continue that part of town will soon almost entirely outstrip the other sections of the city.

BRYAN IS PLEASED WITH ASSOCIATION

Anderson Man Says The "Great Commoner" Expressed Delight At Work Being Done

(From Thursday's Daily.)
D. H. Mims, the assistant secretary of the Anderson Y. M. C. A., returned yesterday from Black Mountain, N. C., where he has been spending a fortnight at the summer school for the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

While Mr. Mims was at the school it was visited by William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state of the United States, and so well pleased was Mr. Bryan with what he saw he wrote the following lines concerning the work, before he took his departure:

"The Blue Ridge Association has seized upon a great idea and given to it an appropriate development. The location could not be surpassed. The improvements are substantial and of a permanent character. The success that has characterized the effort is phenomenal. Basing prediction on what has already been accomplished, this must prove a potent factor in the religious development of lives touched is already large, and will, without doubt increase, and through these lives blessings beyond estimate will reach the whole section. I have greatly enjoyed the day; have and shall look forward with pleasant anticipation to the future visits. One gathers inspiration from such meetings as are held here."
