

THE ANDERSON INTELLIGENCER

Founded August 1, 1860.

204 North Main Street
ANDERSON, S. C.

WILLIAM BANKS, Editor
W. W. SMOAK, Business Manager

Entered as second-class matter April 28, 1914, at the post office at Anderson, South Carolina, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Semi-Weekly edition—$1.50 per Year.
Daily edition—$5.00 per annum;
$2.50 for Six Months; $1.25 for Three Months.

IN ADVANCE.

A larger circulation than any other newspaper in this Congressional District.

TELEPHONES:

Editorial 327
Business 321
Job Printing 683-L
Local News 327
Social News 321

The Intelligencer is delivered by carriers in the city. If you fail to get your paper regularly please notify us. On the first of the month your paper is printed date to which your paper is paid. All checks and drafts should be drawn to The Anderson Intelligencer.

The Weather.

Washington, July 29.—Forecast: South Carolina—Generally fair Thursday and Friday; light to moderate variable winds.

DAILY THOUGHT

Weigh not so much what men say as what they prove. Remember that truth is simple and naked and needs not inventive to apparel her. — Philip Sidney.

Riot at Mexican bull fight. Bull was too small. Oh, Today.

The danger of having good government may always be averted.

Mr. Huerta will get no more R. S. V. F. "notes" from this country.

When the small boy has his big sister's coat of tan, mother calls it dirt.

When President Wilson is interviewed about Mexico, the reporters talk very freely.

When a child writes or spells well, the poor little thing is regarded as eccentric these days.

Harry Thaw was for a long time Canada's most prosperous industry. Where is he now?

Another bad feature of these foreign wars is trying to pronounce some of the outlandish names.

Corn roasts and eam bakes are in season on the seashore. Also mosquitoes and stigmatares.

Reciprocity. If we have an exhibit at San Francisco, the money will come back to Carolina.

The delight of being president of Mexico consists in being able to amend the constitution at any time.

The colleges are not doing their work. There is a scarcity of good baseball pitchers this year.

West Virginia boy fitted by girl, eloped with her sister. He was determined to get the mother-in-law.

Blue lights on Mars. No, that's not a signal to us, but a celebration of a baseball victory.

It requires more sense to be a good farmer than it does to succeed in any other line of business.

A judge out in California has ruled that it is a wife's duty to tell her husband all she knows. Poor cnap.

"What is the State? Nothing. I am IT." The people be hanged. That is the way of some people.

Chickens for trying would be so much more delightful in union underwear than in the prevailing style of feathers.

The reason why women skip about so in the pages of their letters is because they wish to prolong the enjoyment of the recipient.

Zulu Prince says that football is too rough for his country. His people prefer light recreation—an elephant hunt followed by a stow of missionaries in season.

We call special attention to the Austro-Serbian war story and illustrations on other pages of this issue. We will endeavor to present to our readers constantly instructive views and maps and the Associated Press dispatches tell the rest.

Copenhagen will hold an automobile exposition open to manufacturers throughout the world, this month.

A FINE SENTIMENT

The editor of The Intelligencer is in receipt of a letter which is of a personal nature but is so filled with fine sentiment that he will take the liberty to publish it with the hope that it may be an inspiration to others in Anderson county. The letter is from J. Mack King, county supervisor of Anderson county, and reads as follows:

"Perhaps it will be of interest to you to know that I have concluded arrangements to place my daughter again with the institution which is the best asset that Anderson county possesses, namely Anderson college. Unfortunately for the young lady, as well as myself, she was left motherless five years ago, and knowing as I do the importance at this day and in this age of the greatest need, 'brain training,' commonly called 'education,' I determined to leave my mark on the face of time by giving an education as far as possible to the family with which God has endowed me.

"But I learned long ago about 'ways and means.' When I looked around I found through your good offices that we had the combination right here, 'made in Anderson.' My daughter has developed in many ways under the careful tutelage at Anderson College—physically, intellectually and all along the line, and I desire to say here and now to you through you to others, that Anderson college is the place for our girls and when we fall to cooperate with the good people who are at the head of this institution we are, perhaps innocently, neglecting that which in the future, means more for Anderson county than all other things combined. Let us go to work and help this great work by encouraging our people to send their girls to this great home institution and I feel that in the years to come we will see the fruits of our labors in the educated and refined womanhood that will praise their parents' good judgment for endowing them with an Anderson college education."

"I desire thus publicly to express my thanks to my friends and my lasting gratitude to the faculty and officers of Anderson college for the interest thus shown in my motherless daughter. Assuring them of my earnest desire to be of any service that I possibly can to the institution, I am, most sincerely,
"J. Mack King."

Anderson county annually furnishes enough girls to colleges in other cities and other states to fill the dormitories of Anderson college to running over. We would not be a proselyter, but we would like to suggest timidly to the good people of this section that Anderson college is no experiment, but a fixture, a superb institution, at once the surprise and the joy of all who love advancement of education. At the head of this institution today is a man of christian character and courage, of high order of intellect and a teacher born. His great heart is throbbing with love for his splendid mission, and the young girls of the state who come under his care and under the teaching of himself and associates will be all the better in intellect, in development and in soul as in christian womanhood for having attended Anderson college.

THE ENROLLMENT HEAVY

S. Dean Pearman, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, stated yesterday that the club rolls are in coming in. He had received 18 yesterday, and each club roll shows nearly if not quite as many names as the polling list of two years ago.

In some clubs the enrollment exceeds the number of names on the polling list of 1912.

Friends of the members of the recent state democratic convention claimed that they needed no defense and that the enrollment would be their vindication. Mr. Pearman says that the indications are that the total enrollment will be considerably over 7,500, while the vote last primary was 3,000. In fact the difference may be smaller than that when all the lists are in. The above estimate is conservative.

Governor Blease charged at Greenwood that the floating gangs of non-resident employes on railroad construction work opposed him two years ago. The new rules cut them out.

The anti-administration people have claimed all the time that non-residents who moved into the state just before the last primary were permitted to vote for Gov. Blease. Any such possibility as that is eliminated, if anything of the kind ever did occur.

Therefore, it appears at present—we emphasize that—for the future may cause a revision of opinion—but at this time it appears that the rules adopted by the last state convention are in the aggregate safe and fair. They give the opportunity for an election for homefolks, by homefolks, and none but homefolks. We trust that the committee in checking up the lists will be liberal,

RATE DECISION WILL POINT WAY TO RAILROAD REFORM

Commerce Commission Will Demand That Lines Be Run on Business Basis—No General Advance to Be Granted

Washington, July 29.—It is so generally conceded that the decision of the interstate commerce commission on the proposed advance in freight rates will be adverse to the railroads that it is doubtful if the railroads themselves are setting any store by the prospects.

Unless all indications fail, it promises to be the most important ruling the commission has ever made—important in the fact that it will prevent any large increase in public burdens by the railroads, but principally important in that it is expected to cause far reaching reforms in railroad methods and operations. It is expected to tell the railroads that they must be run upon business principles, for business purposes, and not as adjuncts to the stock market, to be used for stock manipulation.

The roads, it is believed, will be severely censured for some of their practices, and will be told how they can obtain increased revenue by the elimination of special service performed for favored shippers.

The decision, in fact, will be largely a review of general railroad conditions throughout the eastern territory, combined with advice from the commission as to the best method of remedying bad conditions.

Would Scatter Industries. It is believed that one part of it will deal especially with the present concentration of industries in the larger cities, and will recommend that these industries be scattered along the lines in the smaller towns, thus enabling the railroads to handle their business without the congestion, delay and expense incidental to city terminals; aiding the industries in reducing their overhead charges and the cost of their properties, and assisting the employes of the industries to lower the cost of living and raising its standard by placing them in smaller communities, where living expenses are not so high, where fresh air can be had for them and their families, and where they can develop the higher instincts of life denied them in crowded city quarters.

Distribution of traffic and industry undoubtedly will be one of the main themes for discussion in the report, and the carriers and industries will be urged to co-operate in this distribution for their mutual advantage.

The railroads reached the conclusion weeks ago that the commission would not grant their request for a 5 per cent horizontal increase in rates, amounting to more than $50,000,000 a year.

Representatives of the carriers schooled by railroad attorneys, asserted that if the increase were not granted quickly, the roads would go on the rocks all over the country and one line after another would be forced into bankruptcy.

The hearings were concluded the fair and straightforward, and that no technicalities will be resorted to.

We are informed that Charleston, where there has been so much election scandal, is operating under a much more stringent law—passed by the legislature and not by the convention. And other states are reported to be operating under primary rules equally as exacting as ours.

All in all, it appears that the enrollment plan in this state, while just a little bit more cumbersome than the old slipshod way, and is not at all perfect, is yet a good thing for everybody and gives good protection to the honest vote.

Chemical fertilizer may be needed at times, and even so, will be found to take hold instantly and to sink down to the roots and not to leach and evaporate on top of the ground.

"WHAT CONSTITUTES SUCCESS?"

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his duty; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never 'lacked' appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory is a benediction." — Mrs. A. J. Stanley, Lincoln, Kan.

This definition won the $250 prize, offered some time ago by a Boston firm for the best answer to the above question. Can you beat it? We doubt it?

FAY LAST TRIBUTE

Immense Gathering at Funeral in Dublin, Ireland.

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, July 29.—More than 200,000 persons standing bareheaded and silent in the streets tonight, witnessed the funeral of the three persons killed last Sunday when the King's own Scottish borderers fired into a mob during a gun squabble exploit by the Irish nationalist volunteers. All shops were closed. The mayor, the city council and other public bodies and battalions of nationalist volunteers participated in the procession, which was a mile and a half long.

A recently patented wood screw carries a sharp blade under the head to reach out a place to receive the head.

ANDERSON TO ANNEX SOME NEW TERRITORY

NOW AFTER A PART OF ABBEVILLE

DONALDS SECTION

People Living There Do Not Like Idea of Becoming Attached To County of Greenwood

Sometime ago an agitation was started to effect a change, by which the portion of Abbeville county known as Donalds township would become a part of Greenwood county. For sometime it seemed that this deal had gone through and that the split-up would occur, but a few days ago opposition to such a move was developed, people living in the northern half of the district refusing to agree to the proposition. The southern half of the district wanted to become a part of Greenwood and the northern half objected and there the matter stood until yesterday, when certain citizens living in the northern half telephoned to Anderson and asked if Anderson would assist in the undertaking to have them made into a part of Anderson county if they would state a proposition. They said that they were very ready to leave Abbeville county for Anderson county but it did not care to do so for Greenwood county. It naturally follows that Anderson will be glad of the opportunity to acquire the territory.

Following their conversation with the interested parties the Anderson chamber of commerce went to work on plans for making the scheme feasible. It was agreed that a meeting of all the interested parties would be held at Donalds on Friday at 3:30 o'clock, at which time Greenwood citizens will be present, citizens from both the northern section and southern section of the district under discussion will be present and people from Honea Path, who are also greatly interested in the deal will be present. The chamber of commerce announced yesterday afternoon that James D. Hammett, chairman of the executive committee, had appointed J. K. Hood, Jas. N. Pearman and T. Frank Watkins, as a committee to represent Anderson at the meeting. Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the Anderson chamber of commerce, will also be at the meeting and he will assure the people of the northern section of Donalds township that Anderson county will be very glad to have them become citizens.

Mr. Whaley said yesterday that this is one of the most fertile sections of Abbeville county and that if Anderson can obtain it it will be a great stroke of business for this county. He says that if convincing arguments will have any effect that the people will come across and agree to join Anderson because he and his committee will present irrefutable arguments when they appear at the meeting. The Anderson representatives will leave this city at 2:15 Friday afternoon.

People in all sections of the county trust that no hitch may occur in the plans and it would seem how that none can turn up and that the new territory will be acquired.

coming in almost every day the latest shipment being a car of

—COLUMBUS—

Come in and let us show them. They are 1914 Models.

We have a nice line of Pony buggies.

HAIL SUFFERERS ARE GIVEN ADVICE

Want Farmers in Hail District To Plant Cotton Land in Peas If Crop Has Been Ruined

"If those Anderson county farmers suffering the most loss from the recent severe hail storms will plant their land in peas they will be surprised to learn next year that they lost mighty little" said a well-known farmer yesterday.

J. W. Rothrock, county demonstration agent, said yesterday that he was urging every farmer, wherever he found a tract where the hail had completely ruined the cotton, to plant the land in early maturing peas, peas ready to cut within 60 to 90 days and he is sure that they will be in much better shape than they now even hope for.

An effort has been made to have the government furnish free to the farmers of the stricken district a quantity of peas for planting and a telegram was also sent to Congressman Aiken, asking that he lend his aid in getting some selected seed for the farmers of this section. Meanwhile, Anderson planters can get all the peas they want, right here at home, from a local seedman.

The agricultural committee of the chamber of commerce is trying to get the farmers to make experiment with growing Irish potatoes on a large scale which has been devastated by the hail. The committee realizes that growing Irish potatoes requires a certain amount of expert knowledge, but the committee also figures that even though the farmers made nothing from the potato crop this year, their experience would be valuable and would enable them to get a money-making crop for the next season. A number of the farmers seem to look on the proposition with favor and are thinking of trying the latter plan.

MR. VAN WYCK BACK IN TEXAS

O. Van Wyck, Jr., of the Staff of the Associated Press, will leave this morning to resume his duties with the Dallas office of this great newspaper.

Cider Presses
If you have a crop of Apples you should have a Cider Mill and Press
Our's are the good kind and the prices we are making on them will please you.
Sullivan Hardware Co.
Anderson, S. C. Belton, S. C.

Anderson City Is "My Town"
Anderson County Is "My County"
What About Anderson College?

We Have Buggies
coming in almost every day the latest shipment being a car of
—COLUMBUS—
Come in and let us show them. They are 1914 Models.
We have a nice line of Pony buggies.
J. S. FOWLER

Bank With a National Bank
Enjoy the security and prestige of being affiliated with an institution that
Has "Uncle Sam" For a Partner
We solicit your business and are prepared to fully take care of your interests.
Citizens National Bank
Capital $150,000 Surplus $35,000

institution. Mr. Van Wyck has been spending several days in the city with his parents and he has been receiving a cordial welcome from the people in Anderson county. Mr. Van Wyck is one of the reporters for the A. P. at Dallas and is an able young newspaper man.