MEXICANS WILL FIGHT IT OUT

All Hope For Peace Gone—War-like Nation At Swords Point Again

(By Associated Press.)

Mexico City, August 7.—The day's developments in the capital resulted in a triumph for the war party. All hope for peace between the federalists and the constitutionalists now is apparently gone. The war party is in control and is being backed up by provisional President Carranza. Unless Carranza is made General Carranza, it seems, must fight his way into the capital and to power.

General Modina Barron was appointed commander-in-chief of the federal forces in the capital today.

We have 25,000 men, 65 field pieces, 100 machine guns and plenty of ammunition," said a prominent army officer today, "and are prepared to resist to the end unless ample guarantees are given us. If we must fight, it will be one of the greatest battles of the revolution. Every officer in the federal army is prepared to die in defense of the capital."

It is believed it will be on the plains in the vicinity of Tlalapatlan, eight miles north of the capital. The federal advance guard of 7,000 men is facing the constitutionalists at Tlalapatlan, 15 miles north of Tlalapatlan.

ELISA ANN CALDWELL

She was a good Christian woman and will be greatly missed by her relatives and friends, as her whole life was spent in serving those who needed help. She became a member of the old Andersonville Baptist church in her early girlhood, of which church she was a member until her death. She is survived by one sister and one brother, Mrs. B. F. Wright, of Andersonville, and J. H. Caldwell, of Andersonville, and two half sisters, Mrs. Alice Wright, of Andersonville, and Mrs. R. V. Dyer, of Alabama, and quite a number of nephews and nieces. The funeral services were held Tuesday evening at Oak Dale church, at which place the body was buried. Services were conducted by Rev. L. F. Weldon, pastor of that church, and Rev. W. B. Hawkins, a former pastor.

TREASURE SHIP IS MADE OF CRUISER

Millions in Gold Is Sent To Tourists—South Carolina Boy Is Paymaster

(By Associated Press.)

New York, August 6.—The armored cruiser Tennessee, converted for the time into a treasure ship, left port at 9:45 o'clock tonight to carry millions in gold to the many thousand Americans who are in want in European countries.

When the Tennessee nosed out toward sea in darkness she had on board $6,000,000 in gold, $3,000,000 from the Bankers Trust Company, $2,500,000 appropriated by congress and about $500,000 entrusted to the paymaster's care by personal friends of individuals abroad.

More private funds are expected to be placed with the treasury authorities here and it is likely that a second shipment of gold will be sent, probably on the cruiser North Carolina. The Tennessee's gold goes as a bulk lot of government money. The individual depositors' names are not mentioned, but the delivery of the money to individual drawers who have orders from their American shippers will be made. This plan, directed by the war department, it was believed, in financial circles here, is to prevent any question of American neutrality. The gold was insured against marine risks. The rate was not announced.

The paymaster of the Tennessee is Richard C. Reed, of Columbia, son of Rev. Dr. R. C. Reed, of the Columbia Theological Seminary. The paymaster general of the navy is Samuel McGowan of Laurens.

DIRECTORS HAD SHORT MEETING

Anderson County Willing To Aid Farmer In Fight In Any Manner Possible—On to Washington

(From Friday's Daily.)

A meeting of several members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held last evening, all the members of the board who were in the city being present.

The call issued by Commissioner E. J. Watson of Columbia and representative of the Agricultural Department at Washington for a joint Southern States conference at Washington, to map out plans to finance any existing plan that may be decided upon in the Southern cotton ordinarily exported, was read to the Board. It was stated by Director Rufus Fant that since the banks of the city had decided to send a representative to Washington in the matter that such representative or representatives be asked to represent the chamber of commerce also, and to pledge the cooperation and affiliation of Anderson county in any move made for the protection of cotton farmers.

Those present look with no degree of fear upon the prosperity of the South as of Anderson county because of the European war, and believe that it will be a help to cotton manufacturers of the entire country, and especially of the South.

The matter of endorsing the South Carolina commission plan for a state building at San Francisco in accordance with the wishes of Hon. E. W. Robertson of Columbia, Commission chairman, was passed up until a full meeting of the board, the meeting on yesterday being unofficial, a quorum not being present, since five of the nine directors were out of the city.

WILLIAMSTON HELD FINE CHAUTAUQUA

INTERESTING AND HELPFUL TALKS WERE MADE THURSDAY

EXTRAVAGANCES

Col. Watson Pointed Out Trouble With the South—Cotton Conference Explained

Williamston, August 6.—The second day of the Williamston Farmers' Chautauqua was a greater success than the first day. And it is expected that the interest will keep up even through Friday, the last day. It is estimated that there were not less than 2,000 visitors on the chautauqua grounds Thursday. There were some very interesting addresses, and the audiences were patient, attentive and pleased.

One of the features of this chautauqua has been the offer of cash prizes to the victor from the country bringing in the largest wagon load of picknickers. Also prizes for the wagons coming the longest distance. There were many wagons Thursday loaded with visitors, and a lot of them were decorated with prize cotton stalks and corn stalks and other choice products of the farm.

The prize for the largest number in one wagon was awarded to H. C. Campbell. The chautauqua census man found that there were 81 persons in his wagon and they came more than two miles, singing and waving flags. A. F. Burgess got the distance prize. He brought 57 people in his wagon for a distance of 8 1/2 miles, or 10 1/2 miles. Mahaffey of Cheddar received the consolation prize for bringing 73 persons from Cheddar at one time behind no music.

Excellent Talks.

There were some excellent addresses Thursday. The first was by H. A. Tripp, of Atlanta, market agent of the Southern Railway. Mr. Tripp is one of the best posted railway men in the south. His father was Col. A. Tripp, for a long time superintendent of the 3 C's road.

He was followed by Clarence W. Momaw, from the office of markets in the department of agriculture at Washington. He made a carefully prepared address in which he showed not only the need for markets, but gave the working plans for an organization. His subject was "Co-Operative Marketing." Mr. Momaw paid a glowing compliment to the work of Congressman Eyer, who was to have spoken, but was detained at Washington by a serious illness. He explained some recent legislation along the line of standardizing crop products, under laws instituted by Senator E. D. Smith.

It will be the pleasure of The Intelligencer to publish this address at a later day, as there is in it much of value for the thoughtful farmers who might wish to organize co-operative plans for marketing their crop products.

After dinner the first speaker was J. C. Williams of Washington, assistant to the president of the Southern Railway. Mr. Williams made a very interesting and earnest talk, explaining the relations of the Southern Railway and the farmer. He talked of the cotton boll weevil and declared that while he is not much alarmed over the approach of the dangerous pest, yet he urges diversification of farming so that the south may be prepared for any emergency.

The Cotton Conference.

The last speaker of the afternoon was Col. E. J. Watson of Columbia, state commissioner of agriculture. Col. Watson made a strong plea for purity in food stuffs and paid a tribute to Anderson a splendid senator, Capt. Geo. W. Sullivan, the author of the law which is entering wedge for an even greater campaign against the adulteration of foodstuffs. Col. Watson held the close attention of the audience for over an hour as he denounced bad goods, too much commercial fertilizer and other extravagances and appealed for the home-made kind of everything.

He used this occasion to make a plea for the diversification of crops and called attention to the crisis which is now confronting this country with reference to the world wide war. He stated that he and Senator Anderson will go from this state to the conference to be held in Washington, at the call of Col. Watson, for the purpose of deciding upon some way of financing the crop to the profit and advantage of the producer. Col. Watson's remarks on this line made a profound impression. He declared that what the south needs is to make enough to eat first, and then put the balance in cotton.

The dinner hour was a happy occasion, being a great picnic in the spring park. This was also the day for the annual putting of the Odd Fellows' orphan home of Greenville, and there were visitors from several counties. The first regiment band discoursed sweet music all through the day. In the evening there was a moving picture exhibition for the public demonstrating the work of the boys and girls canning clubs.

Also at the dinner recess, there was an interesting feature, out on the grounds when the ladies especially were entertained by Prof. Garberry and Mrs. Grabel, who showed the housekeepers how to prepare fruit for preserving and also warned them against the improper ways of preparation.

Today will be live stock day and it is expected that there will be some very fine live stock exhibited. The stock will be exhibited on the chautauqua stage where the lecturers can point out the facts which they wish to illustrate.

The people of Williamston are congratulating Mayor Vance Cooley and President Jos. C. Ducworth upon the success of their first agricultural chautauqua, and it is assured as an annual event. It has required quite a lot of effort to get here the distinguished speakers who have come from a distance, as well as the exhibits.

Col. Watson's statistics as to the millions of cotton money wasted every year for impure food stuffs shipped in made a strong impression upon the audience. He had exhibits from his department showing exactly what he meant, and these exhibits as well as the roller mill of the International Harvester company and other features were given close attention after the speaking.

MAURETANIA MADE DRAMATIC VOYAGE

Crossed Atlantic In Four Days and Ten Hours—Passengers Are Alarmed at Her Speed

(By Associated Press.)

Halifax, N. S., August 6.—Completing in four days and ten hours her fastest and most dramatic voyage across the Atlantic, the mammoth Cunard liner Mauretania, from Liverpool for New York, arrived at Halifax today with 2,400 passengers, mostly Americans, fleeing from war-ravaged Europe.

Passengers and mails will be landed here.

At 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night while off Sable Island the Mauretania was warned by the British cruiser Essex to change her course without delay and head for Halifax. The helm was shifted so quickly many passengers, jolted by the shock as the ship heeled, believed the steamer was turning turtle.

Under the highest pressure of her turbine engines, with all ports blanketed and not a light showing, the vessel sped over the 110 miles that lay between her and safety from German cruisers. Behind her came the Essex, whose searchlights at night could be seen flashing across the horizon as she scanned the waters for the enemy.

The Mauretania passengers were not officially informed of what had occurred. They had received no intimation of the declaration of war.

The Mauretania sailed from Liverpool at 4:55 p. m. August 1, amid great excitement. From the moment the big liner left the officers were on the alert, and Halifax was held in mind as an alternative port.

When in the midst of a thick fog off Sable Island a wireless message from the Essex gave urgent warning to make full speed for Halifax, the Cunarder was 80 miles from New York and 140 from this port. Lurking somewhere in the fog was a German cruiser, but guarding the lanes of steamship travel were British warships.

The Mauretania made the marvelous run of 27 1/2 knots during the early hours of this morning. Her average speed was 26.06 knots.

When the purpose of the change of course was learned there was wild excitement among the passengers. Among the 2,400 first class passengers many are prominent in business, professional and church life of this continent.

A report that the roads of the ship that late last night a flash of light was seen over the stern of a cruiser, followed by the report of a gun. Many believe some warship had fired on the liner. Officers could not substantiate this report but several believed it was true.

Neither officers of the ship nor officials of the company would say what would be done with the Mauretania, but it was believed by the former that she would be taken to New York under escort and thence to Liverpool where she would be used for transport service within the lines.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., who was elected President of the congress this year said there was tremendous excitement all through the voyage. The Mauretania was escorted out of Queenstown by a British cruiser and there had been nothing but rumors of impending character ever since.

Commissioner Lamb, head of the Salvation Army Immigration Service, a passenger, said that when the liner headed around last night and started racing for Halifax, the vibrations of the ship convinced those on board that something unusual was taking place.

Nearly exhausted from three days spent nearly continuously on duty in the engine room, Chief Engineer J. Carruthers of the Mauretania, declared the ship could have done several knots better than she did had there been any real urgency.

Captain Gurnea kept constant vigil during almost the entire night. For three days he stuck to the bridge of his vessel, getting not a wink of sleep in the 72 hours. Twenty-three passengers will be held in Halifax as prisoners of war. They are Germans and Austrians who could not furnish sufficient proof of their being American citizens.

WAR CAUSES THRIFT

Washington, Aug. 6.—The European conflict has been exerting an impetus to the postal savings system, according to reports to Postmaster General Burleson. Scores of foreign born wage earners are taking their savings to the post office.

Third assistant Postmaster-General Dockery received a telegram from a small city in Illinois saying that the Greek war has caused construction gangs there wanted to deposit $50,000.

A WAVE OF PATRIOTISM

Russians Making Every Effort to Meet Demands of Crisis.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—via London.—A wave of enthusiasm swept Russia and every effort is being made to meet the demands of the crisis.

Families of the reservists are being allowed to remain in their homes without paying rent. Private houses have been placed at the disposal of the government for hospitals, and justice has been formed to distribute food to the needy. The daughters of the emperor are supervising the relief work from the hospital.
