

Watch For Sherlock Holmes

Look out! He's on the way. The Man of Mystery is coming. Before long Sherlock Holmes, Jr. will be doing stunts, and fun, frolic and amusement will come in bundles good and plenty.

A letter was received from him this morning and this is what he said: "Please see that the exact time of my arrival is not announced in print, or anywhere else, for that matter. Do not let it be known where I am coming from or upon what train I will arrive, but do not forget that my photograph will be placed somewhere (preferably in a bank) and that after I am caught it will be on display in some prominent place for everyone to see. I do this for my own protection, as well as for the protection of the public. By comparison—the photograph and myself—it can be seen that I am the same man who has operated throughout."

"I got feeling fine as a fiddle, thank you; expect to have a lively time. Good luck and lots of it."

Lest You Forget.

Remember now you are liable to run across the elusive Mr. Holmes in the most unexpected places. There is never any telling just when this gentleman will bob up. Some of the leading places in the city will be selected as his headquarters at which place he may be found from time to time, and all in all, you will be given a great many chances to locate him. Understand, please, this proposition of location is one that you will have to figure out for yourself and you will find before the contest is over that you are up against the game of your life. Easy? Well, hardly; but just the same Sherlock Holmes, Jr. comes to Anderson to be caught before he leaves the city.

It might not be amiss to say right here that when Sherlock Holmes, Jr. comes he will write all the stories appearing in The Anderson Intelligencer and they will be over his signature.

Sherlock Holmes, Jr. has a style of saying things in his own way and writes an interesting story and one that is well worth reading.

You will be told through these columns exactly when the bridge will be taken off or when you can have a run for your money, and as the bridge comes off at different times each day, there is but one way to keep up with the contest and that is by keeping close watch upon The Anderson Intelligencer.

A great many people were overheard talking about Sherlock and several were talking of an immediate capture, but the time is not ripe. It will be however, in a short time, as he will be walking the streets of "My Town" defying his captors.

Look out for the Man of Mystery for he may be among you almost before you know it.

"HOLMES."

The question has been asked if The Man of Mystery will wear disguises and that is exactly what cannot be told.

It would hardly be fair to expect The Anderson Intelligencer to have Sherlock Holmes, Jr. visit here, offer a prize for his capture and then give information that would lead to it. This paper can tell absolutely nothing except as previously stated, that he is a perfect stranger in Anderson, the same mysterious man who has successfully impersonated the part in many cities and that he comes here solely for this contest. Any other questions will be useless as they most positively will not be answered.

Also, it is well to say that the money will positively be given away to some one even should Sherlock Holmes, Jr. find it necessary to de-

No Extra Session Of General Assembly

Governor Blease Imposes Conditions That Will Make It Impossible To Get Special Legislation at This Time

Columbia, Sept. 3.—Blease has just issued the following statement: "If the white democrats of the state forsook the resolutions offered by Maj. Richards in a conference held in the governor's office on yesterday and which are published in the morning papers, and so signify in casting their votes for him in the primary next Tuesday, I shall at once issue a call for the general assembly to convene in extra session for the passage of such laws as are called attention to in the resolution."

"If the white voters of the state do not agree with Major Richards in his position in this matter, I think I will be absolutely justified in concluding that they do not want an extra session of the general assembly at this time."

"I shall therefore wait before passing judgment in the matter upon the returns of the primary on next Tuesday."

from which real relief can come is the general assembly of our state, and that said general assembly can only be placed in a position to render such relief, by action of the governor of the state; be it.

"Resolved, That the governor of South Carolina be, and he is hereby requested to call a special session of the general assembly, to be convened at such date as in his judgment will bring forth the needed relief through legislation, and that said legislature, when it convenes, be requested to pass, regardless of factional politics: "First, A bill, such as in their judgment is wise and expedient, for the extension of all indebtedness for such period as may be calculated to insure such relief to the debtors of this state.

"Second, A Bill, under the police powers of the constitution, restricting the acreage in cotton throughout the state for the year 1915.

"Third, That said legislature be further requested to pass said extra session, only such legislation as will give immediate relief to the cotton producers of this state, and that said extra session of the legislature is particularly requested to deal only with such questions as are of vital importance to the people of this state at this time.

selves sufficient compensation to pay themselves for the actual expenses incident to their attending said session, and that they be requested not to claim as pay for said session the regular salary as provided for regular sessions of the general assembly under the constitution and statute laws of our state.

"Fourth, That the attorney general be requested to call to his assistance in said extra session, not more than three of the solicitors of this state, and that he employ not exceeding six clerks for the engineering department during said session."

The resolutions, a copy of which was sent to The Intelligencer but did not reach this paper until Thursday, were proposed by Major Richards himself at a meeting in the office of Governor Blease the same night that the state cotton congress met in Columbia for the same purposes. The Richards resolutions are as follows.

"Whereas, it is admitted and realized among the money-borrowing element of our state and the farmers who are entirely dependent for the support of themselves, their wives and children, upon their cotton crop, and

"Whereas, it has been admitted by those high in authority that no relief can be expected from the national government in the present crisis, and

"Whereas, it is realized by all citizens of our state, of whatever class or profession, that the only source of relief is to be found in the action of the general assembly, when they meet in said special session, to be requested to pass a bill, giving to them-

EUROPEAN WAR BULLETINS

(Continued From Page One.)

tological religious shrine in St. Rombold's had been taken to Wavre.

"Fortunately many of the works of art were saved. The his-while Reuben's paintings 'The decorations of the Kings' and the 'Crucifixion' in the church of St. Jean had been removed to Antwerp.

"The gateway and the chimes of St. Rombold's were totally ruined."

Forced to Retire.

London, Sept. 3.—3.01 p. m.—An undated French dispatch to The Times says: "The valley of the Somme has been abandoned. A Fere has been taken after a bloody combat. We were obliged to retire Saturday evening.

"The right wing of the Germans," says the correspondent, "is too far advanced and there is a chance that it will be cut and caught between two fires if the British should be found in force. Our center is resting very well and the right wing of our army appears to be taking the offensive."

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

All person holding claims against the estate of Peter G. Acker, deceased, are hereby notified to present them at once, duly attested, and also all person indebted to said estate will also please settle same immediately with the undersigned.

Notice is also given that we will on October 1st, 1914 at 11 o'clock a. m., apply to the probate judge of Anderson county for a final settlement of said estate and a discharge from our office as executors.

Edna Jane Acker, W. B. Acker, and E. H. Acker, Exors.

IT'S GREAT FOR BALKY BOWELS AND STOMACHS.

We want all people who have chronic stomach trouble or constipation, no matter how long standing, to try one dose of Mays' Wonderful Stomach Remedy—one dose will convince you. This is the medicine so many of our local people have been taking with surprising results. The most thorough system cleanser we ever sold. Mays' Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by

SOLD BY EVANS' PHARMACY, Anderson, S. C.

NOTICE

The minutes of the Saluda Baptist Association are printed and may be found at Cox's book store. Clerks of the various churches are requested to call or send and get them.

W. W. Leathers, Clerk.

ELECTRIC CITY SPARKLETS

Items of Interest and Personal Mention Caught Over the Wireless on the Streets of Anderson

Farmers Union Meets Sept. 15.

The regular monthly meeting of the Anderson county farmers union will be held in this city on September 15 according to a letter received here today from J. M. Broyles of Townville, secretary of the local union. Naturally, the most important question to be brought up at this meeting will be that of selling cotton and in all probability the attendance will be much larger at this meeting than is usually the case. If anyone in Anderson county can devise some plan for relieving the situation he will be a benefactor to the entire South. Owing to the fact that court will be in session when this meeting is held, it is probable that the city hall will be chosen as the place of meeting.

Large Number On Excursion

A larger number left the city yesterday morning for Atlanta and Birmingham on the two excursions than any one had anticipated. It is said that the Blue Ridge train leaving yesterday morning carried about 65 passengers from this city to Atlanta and about 10 for Birmingham, while the Piedmont and Northern line excursion train carried about one dozen tourists from Anderson. The low round trip rate and the fact that this is a dull season caused more to make the trip than the railroads had expected.

Conference Had To Be Postponed.

On account of the absence of Chairman John Davis, who was to preside over the conference called yesterday for the livestock dealers of the city, the meeting was postponed until a later date. Mr. Davis is in Tennessee but it is expected that he will probably return to the city today and then the meeting will take place and the date for the exhibit will be chosen. Meanwhile all preparations are going on apace and those behind the affair are more than pleased with the prospects each day. They say that it will be the biggest event of the year for Anderson county people interested in livestock.

Lumber Bought For the Theatre

J. S. Fowler, president of the Anderson Development Company yesterday let the contract for the lumber to be used in the construction of the theatre. The contract was let to the Harris Lumber Company of Johnson, S. C. It calls for 90,000 feet of framing alone and the flooring and sheathing will run the whole up to something like 100,000 feet.

Mr. Harris stated that the lumber would be shipped beginning in about 10 days. This is the very best grade of lumber taken from the virgin timber.

New Flooring To Be Tried Out Here

It is very likely that a new kind of sanitary flooring called acmetyle, will be used for the arcade floor in the new theatre building, which is now under way. It was said yesterday by those interested in the building that this flooring meets with the approval of all those connected with the theatre and that it will probably be chosen. It is used in constructing the new theatre building it will be the first to be seen in this state and it is expected to make a "hit" here. It is sanitary, noiseless, dustless and is grease, oil, water, and fireproof. It is a composition flooring, containing paper, slate and tar and is said to be very durable and very satisfactory.

Bondholders Will Have To Come Across.

Anderson's bonded bondholders and all those in this city liable for an income tax, have received notice from Winston Smith, county auditor, which says that they must make their returns on or before September 15, in accordance with the acts of the general assembly. Mr. Smith says if the income tax payers don't like this law they can petition the general assembly to have it changed but he proposes to enforce it as long as it is a law.

Major Richards To Have Good Audience

Local supporters of Major Richards say that they are not daunted by the overwhelming array of Manning supporters and they say that they believe that he has a good chance of being the next governor of South Carolina. They say that they expect a good crowd to be in the city Saturday afternoon to hear Major Richards when he speaks from the court house steps at 3 o'clock and they believe that he may poll a good vote in Anderson county.

Showed Damage Of Cotton Worm

Bob Norrie, one of the best known farmers in the county, was in the city yesterday with some stalks of cotton from his place, showing in a very marked manner the ravages of the cotton worm. He says that this is a different worm from the army worm and that it is especially destructive to the young cotton. He states that quite a large area of his place is covered with them and they are doing a lot of damage.

Carolina Man In Good Architect

When he was in the city a few days ago, Mr. C. K. Bryant, architect for the Anderson theatre stated that his chief draughtsman is a South Carolina boy and a graduate of Clemson. He is from Beaufort county and his name is Richardson. Mr. Bryant is much pleased with Anderson and he says the city is sure to come. As soon as the country becomes accustomed to the war conditions will surely improve. And the South will come to be the most independent country in the world.

Another Bale Sold Yesterday

Another bale of new cotton was brought to Anderson yesterday and placed on the local market and was finally sold after some difficulty on the part of the owner. The truth is that the Anderson cotton buyers are not exactly clamoring for cotton just now at any price and it is a difficult matter to get offers from them. The bale yesterday was sold for 73-4 cents per pound.

Young Ladies To Conduct Olympics

The young ladies of the Junior Philathea Class of the First Presbyterian church are expecting to have quite a little fun Saturday afternoon and at the same time they expect to realize a considerable sum for their class fund. They have arranged with the proprietors of the Olympia Ice Cream Parlor and Candy store that the class will have entire charge of the popular place for the afternoon and will conduct the candy sales and also the soda fountain. The Olympics will doubtless be the most popular place in the city next Saturday afternoon between the hours of noon and 7 o'clock in the evening.

Changed Place For The Meeting.

It has been announced that the meeting of the Anderson county executive committee, to be held after the second election and on next Thursday will take place in the court room. The change was made necessary because of the fact that court will be in session Thursday and it will be impossible for the executive committee to meet there.

Mr. Faithful Is At The College.

Prof. C. M. Faithful of the faculty of Anderson college, returned to the city yesterday after spending the summer at Columbia University in New York where he has been taking a special course of study. Prof. Faithful says that he enjoyed his stay in New York and feels that he is much benefited as the result of the work there. He believes that this will be a banner year for Anderson college and that the institution will accomplish much work of which the entire city will be proud.

Can Be Taken Care of in South Carolina Cotton Warehouses

Columbia, Sept. 3.—In 35 counties in the state, exclusive of cotton mills, 481,000 bales of cotton can be cared for in the warehouses at the present time, allowing 76,000 bales for Charleston. With special effort in Charleston it is thought that 900,000 bales can be cared for in the entire state. These figures were given out today by Commissioner E. J. Watson, who has received reports from many of the county chairmen of the South Carolina division of the Southern cotton congress.

Belton To Build Cotton Warehouse.

It is understood that a meeting of the farmers and planters living in and near Belton has been called for an early date, at which time plans looking toward the building of a cotton warehouse will be discussed. It is proposed to raise money among the merchants and farmers with which to build a large warehouse with which the farmers living near that town can store their cotton. Certain Belton business men spending yesterday in Anderson, said that all indications are that the warehouse will be built and will soon be in use.

FOR SALE—125 acres of land belonging to the late Emilie Parker. Known as the W. R. Parker plantation. Located in Fork Township, Anderson County. For further information see or write W. R. Parker, Seneca, S. C. Box 21A. The church deed given to W. R. Parker and his heirs and his wife has a 125 acres in that deed. Before the sale was completed with, they gave a bond for $275. This was done in 1873.

HEALTH, WEALTH and WISDOM

"Early to bed and early to rise"—is all very well but WHAT'LL WE DO WHEN WE'RE UP?

It's the hours of "up and doing" on which we count for Health, Wealth and Wisdom.

Let's start young to use them right.

There's a new Suit in our Boy's department that besides being splendidly made and fine fitting, is a HEALTH BUILDER.

Sewn in the back of the coat is a patent elastic band that prevents and cures the stoop habit—a habit easily formed, but mighty hard to break.

Many's the man who wishes he had had such a suit in his youth. Right posture is the name of this habit breaker. The elastic webbing lays across the back of the shoulder and only when the spine is crooked does it let you know it's there.

YOU BOYS—who seek Health, Wealth and Wisdom—start right—slip into a Right Posture Fall Suit today.

Boys' Suits from $3.50 to $12.50

And the New Fall Suits are Here

PARKER & BOLT

The One-Price Clothiers

ANDERSON GIRL ENDS HER LIFE

(Continued From Page One.)

stated that death must have been instantaneous, as there was no sign that she had struggled any, and no part of her clothing was disarranged.

A Note Was Found

Coroner Hardin and Dr. Whitte were summoned from Anderson and when they arrived the body was then brought to the house, where investigation revealed a note pinned to the right side of the girl's clothing. The note said: "I am sorry I had to do this thing, but there is nothing to me. I know it is better for me to die than to live. I mean cease breathing, for I have never lived. Do not shed many tears over me when you see that the breath has left me, but think that I am better off for I am miserable beyond endurance. It will not be hard for you to forget me, for there is nothing I have done to make you remember. You know what I have said before, that I am out of life, which is true, just about. This trouble has taken my heart until it fairly hurts. Do not think that I have not prayed to be something. All that has kept me up in the life of other people, and you know there is little I can get out of their life. Do not let me cast a shadow over you but enjoy life and do enough good to make up for my loss. Do not weep for me."

The note was unsigned the words "Margaret" and "do not weep for me" were heavily underlined.

When the members of the family saw the note and were asked by a reporter for The Intelligencer as to what reference to trouble she meant, they said they had no idea. They said that she always seemed to be in good spirits and recently she seemed to be especially happy and elated over the fact that she was to enter Limestone college at Gagey on the 23rd of this month.

Her Father Died Last Year.

She and members of her family were preparing her clothes and she was much interested in this. She had never been morose and despondent until the death of her father, Robert Smith, which occurred one year ago, and it is said that since that time she has not been herself. She was very devoted to her father and the members of her family believe that she finally grew so despondent in the brooding over his death that she determined to take her life.

After viewing the body and hearing the statements in the case, Coroner Hardin decided that it was plainly a case of suicide and that no inquest was necessary.

Miss Smith was 18 years of age on July 3, and was very popular in her section. She was of a kind disposition and always ready to take part in the social affairs of the neighborhood. She is survived by her mother, and one small brother and five sisters.

The girl was a member of the New Prospect church and although none of the funeral arrangements had been made last night it is probable that she will be buried here today.

Unusual Clothing Values

There is still a good selection of Men's Clothing which we are closing at remarkably low prices. The size range holds suits for stouts, slims, regulars—in fact we can fit anybody. These goods are in the weights that will be wanted for weeks ahead or until the weather is cold enough to call for the heavy winter suits.

Exceptionally Attractive Suits As Follows:

Pretty lot of Men's Suits, light colors, $10 values—sale price, $7.50, our special close out or knockout price $5.98. These goods all this season's manufacture and correct in style.

Men's all Wool Blue Serge Suits, well made, big $10 values, closing price $7.98.

Men's Oswego Serge Suits, sold special at $15.00 most everywhere, Bales' regular price $12.50, closing price $10.00. Come in two or three piece suits, full or skeleton.

One lot special $18.00 Suits, sold here regularly at $15.00, pretty news tripe, of neat patterns and latest styles, closing price $11.98.

Get as good clothing here as anywhere and always get it for less.

THE BEE HIVE

G. H. BAILES, Proprietor