

SEE THESE NIFTY COLUMBIA WOOLENS.

Buy a suit of clothes tailored to your measure, made from very special woolens, you to select yours from hundreds of patterns now on display at this store. Our autumn-display is in its first freshness and beauty and we have some extraordinary values in woolens from which suits are being made to measure at $15 - $16.50 - $18 - $20 and $22.50

These are going rapidly. Come and select your suit before some of the patterns are sold out. We have nothing but the newest and classiest of foreign and domestic woolens in our display. It delights the eye, and the clothing we make proves a source of constant delight and satisfaction to the wearer.

If the above prices do not please you, remember we tailor clothing to measure at practically any figure you may wish to pay.

Suits $13.50 to $40.00

Columbia Tailoring Company

F. M. UNGER, Manager

A. DEAN, Asst. Manager

122 W. Whitner Street

M'ADOO WON'T LEND HIS AID

DECLINES TO AGREE TO PLAN SUGGESTED BY HENRY.

A SHARP LETTER

Says That Cotton Farmer Do Not Want to Help More Than Any Other of Crop Growers.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The plan for a federal aid to cotton growers to the extent of $400,000,000 was the subject of sharp criticism in a letter to Representative Henry of Texas, in public tonight by Secretary McAdoo. The letter is in reply to recent statements to the House by Mr. Henry. Mr. McAdoo announces the proposal is $400,000,000 of Panama canal bonds to bolster the cotton crop is not practicable and generally objects to all the features of the Henry plan. He calls attention to the fact that those who deal in tobacco, naval stores, copper, silver and other commodities have sought government aid. "If we disregard every suffering interest except cotton," he said, "and make it the sole beneficiary of government favor, what becomes of the Democratic principle of equal rights for all special privileges to none?"

Mr. McAdoo announces the proposal is $400,000,000 of Panama canal bonds to bolster the cotton crop is not practicable and generally objects to all the features of the Henry plan. He calls attention to the fact that those who deal in tobacco, naval stores, copper, silver and other commodities have sought government aid. "If we disregard every suffering interest except cotton," he said, "and make it the sole beneficiary of government favor, what becomes of the Democratic principle of equal rights for all special privileges to none?"

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Some of the most lasting friendships are often formed when one, or both, friends were in adverse circumstances. The merchants and business men, who were the unfortunate farmers that they are their friends in need, will be almost sure to be the ones to whom they will go, when prosperity again comes their way.

luxuries with necessities, then if you can't pay your debts, look your creditors in the face and tell them so, and ask them if they can possibly do so, to help you until the hard times are over.

The fact that we must go to home merchants in time of distress, is enough for us to decide that we should patronize them under all circumstances aside from the fact that we sometimes have to wait for our money to be returned from the mail order houses because the goods were not what we thought, or the garments didn't fit like we thought they would.

The buy-a-bale movement will surely prove a patriotic one if all that want to, can sell one bale for ten cents, and no effort be made to just buy from the most needy. Any suggestion that tends to divide people into classes should be avoided.

In times of stress we have many opportunities to help each other, but we must be sure we don't mistake giving for true charity. One of Webster's definitions for charity is "universal love. It must have been Paul's words that inspired him: "Though I give all my goods to feed the poor, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing." There will be many that will not have the actual necessities of life, but nobody wants to be an object of charity alone, but an object of love and charity is different. The word limit prevents me from suggesting a way to reach them. True charity will find a way. Do unto others as we would have them do unto us, will solve our problems in time of war, and in time of peace.

MRS. R. O. BROCK. Pendleton, S. C.

TOWNVILLE NEWS.

Townville, Oct. 9.—Special. We welcome October with its bright, blue weather. One October spent on a well-kept Southern plantation will fill the mind with happy memories which will be a source of pleasure during the remainder of a life time.

sufferings. To the dear bereaved ones we would say, Do not come to us, but God grant that we make our paths straight as here and meet her over on the other shore where there will be no sorrows and suffering. God knows best. He makes no mistakes. He lets this precious flower bud and bloom into a happy Christian; and when her precious work was ended, he said: "Well done my good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord." She was always gentle, kind and true, to her husband, children and home and friends. Her doors were always open to every one, she always treated everybody alike and no one knew her but to love her.

Mrs. Hicks leaves a husband and five children, (one being provided her to the grave some two weeks ago) one sister and two brothers. The husband is Mr. S. L. Hicks; children are Messrs. Sam J. Hicks, of Six and Twenty, and Mrs. Mary Wilson, Mrs. Nannie White and Miss Lela Hicks, of Refugee section. The brothers are Mr. William McAlister of Liberty, C. and Mr. Ezekiel McAlister of near Central, S. C. The sister, Mrs. Bessie Hicks, of Six and Twenty, she has a large number of friends and relatives, besides those named above, too numerous for the writer to try to mention.

Mrs. Hicks was born in 1855. She was a daughter of "Uncle Billy" McAlister, and lived in the Six and Twenty section, the most of her life. She became a member of the Six and Twenty Baptist church in her early years, and has always been a faithful church and Sunday school worker, until some two or three years ago. She became too feeble to attend much, but she always had a prayer on her lips for her church, her pastor and her Sunday school work.

Interment took place at the Six and Twenty Baptist church the day following her death, amid a large concourse of relative and friends. Weep not dear children, I can never come to you. Prepare yourselves for heaven. Where mother waits for you. Mrs. Paul Gillespie. Central, S. C.

TWO PRETTY CUPS FOR PREMIUMS

Will Be Given At Coming Poultry Show For the Amateur Chicken Fancier.

SECURING PRIZES FOR BOYS CORN CLUBS.

COMPLETE LIST TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON.

BOYS CORN CLUBS.

Corn Exhibit Will Take Place Here in November and Valuable Prizes Will Be Awarded.

Some earnest work is now being done by those interested in the Boy's Corn Club work for Anderson county and if the plans go astray the exhibit to be held here about the middle of November will do much to stimulate the boys of the county in their endeavor to raise more corn and better corn than this county has ever produced.

J. W. Rothrock, president of the Anderson County Farmers' Club and demonstration agent for this county, has for some days and while the list is not yet complete, Mr. Rothrock has secured some very valuable prizes for the boys.

NEW GOVERNMENT TRIED IN MEXICO.

May Be That Country Will Be Put Under the Commission Form.

WILSON ENDORSES COTTON EXHIBIT.

Likes Idea of Having Goods Shown in Washington and Approves Plan.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Urging that the demand for cotton be increased, President Wilson today gave out a statement endorsing the exhibit of cotton goods held here this morning, saying that similar exhibits be held in other cities.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Urging that the demand for cotton be increased, President Wilson today gave out a statement endorsing the exhibit of cotton goods held here this morning, saying that similar exhibits be held in other cities.

CONDITIONS ARE MUCH IMPROVED.

President Learns That All Parts of U. S. Are Fast Recovering.

RURAL CHURCH IS FAST DYING.

AMERICAN CHRISTIAN SOCIETY HOLDING SESSION IN ATLANTA.

STARTLING TALK.

Church Workers Say That Field Is Now Ready for Great Effort to Be Put Forth.

Atlanta, Oct. 9.—The rural church is in a period of transition. Hundreds are dead and other hundreds are dying. Thousands of rural and village communities are overgrown with many existing organizations.

PEOPLE TO WEAR COTTON CLOTHES.

While the cotton situation does not seem so much improved by the many efforts being set forth to help the Southern cotton farmer, nevertheless almost every business agency in the country seems to be trying to help. Having become interested in the movement inaugurated in Washington for people to wear cotton made of cotton, the Atlantic Coast Railway has written for all its agents in different sections of the country, regarding the wearing of cotton goods.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Some of the most lasting friendships are often formed when one, or both, friends were in adverse circumstances. The merchants and business men, who were the unfortunate farmers that they are their friends in need, will be almost sure to be the ones to whom they will go, when prosperity again comes their way.