Accident

Joe Norris Had to Drive His Automobile Into the Curb to Avoid Collision.

As he was starting for Hartwell, Ga., driving down West Market street, Joe Norris and his companions had a narrow escape from a collision with a buggy and Mr. Norris was forced to drive his machine into the curb, where it was badly damaged. Accompanied by Miss Cleo Bailey and Harry Snow, Mr. Norris left the city about 7:30 o'clock for the Georgia town. He had reached Market street and was driving at a good rate of speed when a buggy in front of him swerved to the wrong side of the road and Mr. Norris either had to strike the buggy or drive into the curb. He chose the curb and as a result his machine was badly battered.

Imperial Musical Comedy Company, Carrying Eleven People, Here This Week.

The attractions for this week at the Palmetto will even surpass those of the past week, and Mr. Pinkston recommends the "Imperial Musical Comedy Company" to the lovers of high class vaudeville. This company carries 11 people and elaborate costumes. Their opening play on Monday will be "My Wife Has Gone to the Country," Tuesday night they will present "Pin-ups," and later in the week, "Too Many Babies." There will be a change of program every night and every number new and entertaining. The best of films will be shown.

These for Monday night being a four reel Western comedy, "The Outlaw Reformers."

An announcement that will interest the public is that Mr. Pinkston has secured the films of "America," the big Hippodrome performance now being shown to thousands of people daily in New York's greatest play house. The date for this seven film feature play will be given later, but will be about the second week in November.

Mrs. J. E. Wofford of Starr spent a day here in the city yesterday with friends.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

In an interesting letter from the place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

Orr Mill

Second Feature on Y. M. C. A. Program Will Bring Dr. Clinkscales Here Today.

The Orr Mill people declared yesterday that no more welcome speaker could have been secured for the second event on the Y. M. C. A. series of lectures than the gentleman who is to speak this afternoon—Dr. John G. Clinkscales of Spartanburg. Many people in all parts of the county know Dr. Clinkscales and he will be given a warm welcome this afternoon.

The address this afternoon is to take place in the Orr Mill auditorium, over the company's store. Last Sunday about 600 people heard Prof. Daniel of Clemson college and it is believed that fully 1,000 will hear Dr. Clinkscales this afternoon.

While the address has been arranged primarily for the people of Orr Mill, nevertheless the public will be heartily welcomed and many visitors from different sections of the city are expected.

GERMANS RENEW THEIR EFFORTS

man, according to the Russian reports, were repulsed with immense losses.

In Poland the Germans are reported to be falling back to new positions near their own frontier, while in Galicia the fighting continues without material change.

The situation created by Turkey's attacks on Russian towns in the Crimea, and upon Russian ships in the Black Sea should soon be cleared up as Great Britain and Russia have presented a demand to the Sultan for an explanation of the incidents, the dismissal of the German officers and men from Turkish warships, and the dismantling of the Goeben and the Breslau, the former German cruisers.

Turkey's reply made be delayed, as it was announced tonight that telegraphic communication with Turkey was interrupted. It is not yet clear what damage the Turkish fleet has done, although reports from different sources say four Russian torpedo boats, a mine layer, a collier and a coast guard ship were destroyed.

One of Great Britain's difficulties will be the protection of the oil fields which she recently acquired in Persia. Indian troops can be brought up for this purpose.

There is much speculation as to what action the Balkan states and Italy will take in view of Turkey's entrance into the struggle, but as yet there has been no definite statement on this subject.

Acroplane Flight

The pupils were then given leave to inspect all the exhibits at the fair, and with the same precision that marked every other event of the day, Aviator Richter here in sight. He circled the grounds three times and made one beautiful farewell dip within only a few hundred feet of the crowd. It was a beautiful day for the birdman too. His afternoon flight came fully up to that of the morning.

Prizes were awarded in the educational department Friday morning. The Greenville Female College, whose exhibit did not arrive until Thursday night, was given first prize for the best exhibit made by any college in the Piedmont section. Lander College won second place. These prizes are $25 and $10 respectively.

PIEDMONT FAIR CLOSES IN A BURST OF GLORY

Attendance Beyond All Expectations and Great Interest Shown by Visitors Every Day—Every Feature Was Carried Out Without a Hitch and the Greenwood Spirit of Boosting Was in Evidence Everywhere.

(By a Staff Correspondent.) GREENWOOD, Oct. 30.—The first session of the Piedmont Fair closed yesterday in a burst of glory. The attendance was possibly in excess of the expectations of the promoters, and the great interest shown not only on this day but on every other day, convinced those in attendance that the Piedmont Fair had come to stay. Every feature of the fair was carried out as it was planned without a hitch, and if there were any dissatisfaction over anything done or said, it was not manifest to the observer. The Greenwood spirit of pulling together and boosting was shown in the staging and management of the fair. Other fairs elsewhere have not been successful, but this cannot be said of the first session of the Piedmont Fair. It was a grand success.

The line of exhibits were very good. There could not have been a better exhibition of horses, cattle and hogs, to say nothing of the splendid exhibit of poultry. The only feature of the fair not up to expectations was the agricultural exhibits. These were a bit off as to quantity but the quality of the exhibits was good, and they were nicely arranged.

Yesterday was educational day, and the big day of the fair. The parade in the early morning was a magnificent exhibition of the interest the county has in her educational institutions. At least 3,000 pupils took part in the parade, and the schools of the county were represented as well as the schools and colleges of the city.

The Parade.

The parade was a wonder in beauty and precision, the children, from the smallest to the largest, filling their places in the long procession with perfect exactness and, of course, the cadets led the way with soldier like precision. The procession started exactly on the minute, at the intersection of Cambridge and North Main streets, and marched to the fair grounds down Main to Magnolia, and Phoenix in approximately 30 minutes. The line of march was as follows: Chief of Police J. B. Riley on horseback; Messrs. H. V. P. Schrader, president of the Piedmont Fair Association; Mayor J. A. Marshall, Mr. S. C. Hodges, chairman of the board of aldermen in a automobile, followed by the following cars: Mr. W. R. Cothran with representatives of the Greenville Female College; Prof. W. W. Nickles and John O. Wilson, both dressed in co-con suits, and Superintendent of Education John F. Wideman; Col. F. N. K. Bailey and Major W. D. Workman. Then came the county schools in the order named: Phoenix, Coopersville, Bold Springs, Calhoun School, Pine Grove, Olive Branch, Quarry, Luks, Verdery, Bradley, Coronado, Edgewood, Mount Moriah, Puckett, Fellowship, Lebanon, Kinards, Jones, Ninety Six, Ware Shoals Magnolia Street Greenwood High School each class carrying an individual banner. Leslie, children of the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, all dressed in cotton gowns, and the young ladies of Lander College. A cordon of police followed the procession and kept order through the streets that were massed with humanity.

Orphanage Patriotic.

Special mention should be made of the children of the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, who, true to the call of the Educational committee, came dressed in cotton goods. Dr. A. T. Jamison marched in the procession and wore a white suit with white cotton cuffs. Many were heard to express pride in the appearance of the orphanage children.

Once in the fair grounds the school children and students massed in the arena in front of the grandstand and Superintendent took advantage of the opportunity before the crowd disbanded and made a few remarks: "It gives me great pleasure," he said, "to greet you on this glorious day and joyous occasion. If every industry in Greenwood county would do their full duty as the children of our public schools and students of our colleges have always done and will continue to do, we will have a fair second to none, not only in South Carolina, but in all the Southland. The key of every door of the Piedmont Fair is turned over to you and I hope you will enjoy the day to the fullest and when you turn your faces homeward you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you saved the day for the first Piedmont Fair. You are thrice welcome to the joys and privileges of this grand occasion."

Ed McKinney was charged with being drunk and disorderly and failed to appear and his bond of $10 was declared forfeited.

One extraordinary case was heard by the magistrate in which four young men were waiting for a train to arrive, in order to take their departure and to pass the one who was in the name when one of the deputy sheriffs came by and they were all arrested. They were fined $10 each. Their names appeared on the magistrate's docket as J. D. Sanders, J. L. Povey.

J. L. Winaker received a fine of $10 for the charge of carrying a gun and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20.

Tom Gandy was charged with gambling and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10.

One very interesting case in to come before Magistrate Broadwell Monday when the case of W. L. Trench, charged with assault and battery upon the person of W. M. Welborn, will be called for trial. It is alleged that Trench made an assault on Welborn using a knife and a gun. The affair took place in the Caraway Institute section of the county and a number of people will come to view that neighborhood for this hearing.

Charged with Murder of Wife. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 29.—Scott Stone, a private in the United States army, was arrested at Jefferson Barracks today charged with the murder of his wife and four children whose charred bodies were found on September 23 after their home near Tolono, Ill., had been destroyed by fire.

primary school, Margaret Lyon; best plain sewing to grammar school, Fannie Metts; best fancy work to High School, Jessie Bailey; best manual work, Clyde Dean; best in grammar school, Talmage Wix; best to high school, Gordon Duckett.

The afternoon was devoted to judging the horses in several classes, and to a football game between the Bailey Military Institute and the Wofford Fitting school, which resulted in a score of 12 to 0 in favor of the B. M. I.

In the awards made to winners in the horse entries Anderson county had several entries which won. J. J. Fretwell, of Anderson carried off a number of blues and reds on his pair of fine bays, as did Messrs. A. B. Pickens and J. D. Smith of Melton school district, and of Anderson R. F. D. No. 2, who exhibited three beautiful county raised mares.

Thursday Mr. Fretwell won second on single harness horse driven by a lady, and second on double team, heavy harness horse, driven by lady, as well as second on combination saddle and harness horse, farmer class.

Friday's Awards. Saddle and harness horse, first and second—Pickens and Smith. Pair of mules, home raised—L. I. Sanders.

Beware!

County Officers Are as Busy as City's Policemen and Many Arrests Being Made.

The day of the evil-doer in Anderson is hard, judging from the familiar sentences being heard—$100 or $50 days; $30 or 30 days, et cetera. The policemen have for the last few days been manifesting that the law breakers consider themselves as busy and the county officers seem to have been seized with the notion to "go thou and do likewise."

The past two days have been busy one with Magistrate Broadwell and yesterday his docket was crowded.

Henry Reese, a negro, charged with beating his boarder, was arraigned and sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or to serve on the public work for 30 days. He took his term.

C. F. Rice, a negro, was charged with assault and battery. He drew a sentence of $20 or 30 days and succeeded in raising the coin with which to pay his fine.

Alec Wilson and Clarence Wilson, both negroes, were charged with being drunk and disorderly and they were both convicted. They were given sentences of 30 or 30 days in each case.

Ed McKinney was charged with being drunk and disorderly and failed to appear and his bond of $10 was declared forfeited.

One extraordinary case was heard by the magistrate in which four young men were waiting for a train to arrive, in order to take their departure and to pass the one who was in the name when one of the deputy sheriffs came by and they were all arrested. SOUTH CAN HELP ERADICATE PELLAGRA

Public Health Service Announces That Disease Can Be Stamped Out by Using Proper Food.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The treasury department's efforts to get Southern farmers to diversify crops and turn some of their fields over to other products than cotton took a new turn today when the public health service announced that the South might help to eradicate pellagra by raising beans and peas instead of cotton.

"If you would avoid having pellagra, you must eat an abundance of beans, peas, milk, eggs and lean meat as a part of the regular diet," says a statement issued today through Assistant Secretary Newton. "By using these foods regularly not only may pellagra be cured when the disease is not too far advanced, but prevented. This actually happened in at least one institution where, in 1913 there were 75 cases. As a result of change of diet not a single case is known to have developed this year."

"It appears then that pellagra is but another example of a class of diseases, like scurvy, can be prevented and cured by an abundance of food of a proper character; and this fact suggests the advisability of Southern farmers cultivating beans and peas and raising dairy cattle instead of cotton at a time when the market for the latter abroad has been all but destroyed by the war."

IVA NOTES

Among the social events of the week was a sociable given by Mrs. W. A. Wiles on last Thursday evening. The parlor and dining room were decorated with an abundance of autumn leaves. Several bowls of bright fall roses added their fragrance to the decorations. Miss Annie Halford rendered some instrumental selections during the evening. Punch was served in the dining room by Miss Annie Sadler. After playing various games a salad course was served by Mrs. W. A. Wiles, Mrs. W. F. McGehee and Mrs. J. E. Watson. Misses Sophy and M. E. Jackson of Storeville spent a few hours here Friday with relatives.

On last Wednesday evening Mrs. Amos McDonald entertained quite a number of young people. The evening was most pleasantly spent in chatting and listening to some special music rendered by the school.

Miss Annie Halford, Miss Halford, was accompanied by Dr. D. A. Burris and Ben Brown on the violin and Mrs. Lullie Price on the guitar.

Rev. B. J. Hood and wife left Friday for Anderson where they go to attend a meeting of the A. B. Presbytery. While there they will be the guests of Rev. H. W. Stone and family.

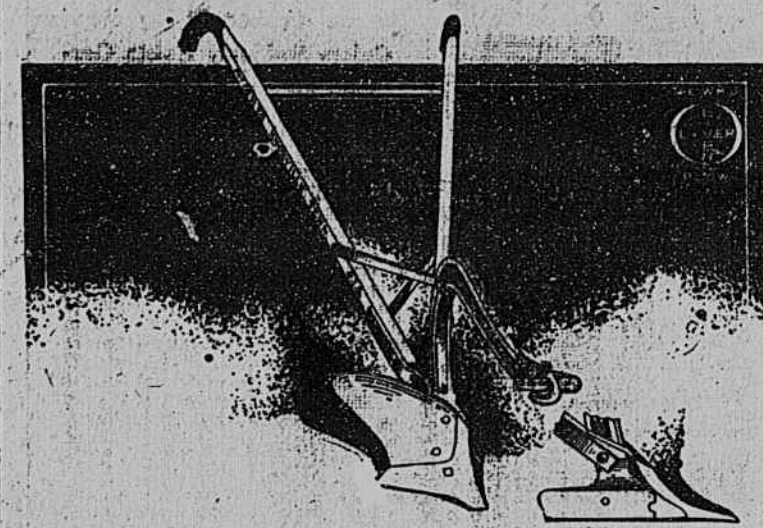

George E. Roberts Resigns as Director

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—George E. Roberts, first deputy director of the Federal Reserve Bank, today announced that he had resigned his position as director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Mr. Roberts' resignation was accepted by President Wilson.

Mr. Roberts' resignation will return to the banking business which he left in 1910 to become director of the bank for the second time. His first service in that position was from 1908 to 1912. Mr. Roberts was consulted frequently by officials of the Democratic administration when the new currency law was being framed. He is a Republican, but it was claimed at the treasury his resignation was entirely voluntary and would be accepted with regret.

Mr. Roberts will become chairman of the president of the National Bank of New York. It was announced that Mr. Roberts hopes to take up his new duties next week after his return to Washington of Secretary McAdoo.

WEST SIDE SQUARE

ANDERSON IS NOT TO PAVE STREETS

By reason of the fact that the South Carolina House of Representatives killed the bill Friday, permitting the city of Anderson to increase her bonded indebtedness from 8 per cent of the taxable property to 15 per cent, there will probably be no street paving done in Anderson at an early date. Anderson people had been hoping that the bill might get through the General Assembly and that the work could be begun early next spring. Senator Sullivan had the matter in charge in the Senate and got the bill through but when it reached the lower house a snag was struck. Some of the Anderson delegation opposed the idea and refused to support the bill and notwithstanding the fact that it has been dragging along in the House for several weeks, no vote was secured until Friday. The measure was then called and while only six votes were cast against it, yet this was sufficient to defeat the bill. The explanation of this lies in the fact that the bill was an amendment to the State Constitution and therefore required a two-thirds majority in the House. The recent filibuster served to get two things in the lower house into such disorder and so many members were absent from the house when the bill came up for a vote that it was impossible to secure the necessary majority. Messrs. Nelson, Hall and Scott voted for the bill, Mr. Gray did not vote and Messrs. Ashley and Summers voted against the bill. Had the bill gone through something like $300,000 would have been turned loose in Anderson early next Spring and hundreds of laboring people, who may be out of positions by that time, would have been given work to do.

It is understood that Governor Blaise was opposed to the city of Anderson being given any help in this matter and one gentleman, present when the conference was held with the chief executive, said that he declared to a delegation consisting of Messrs. C. E. Tolley, Solicitor Kurtz P. Smith and Mayor Godfrey, on the day before the special session of the general assembly convened that the city of Anderson would not get anything from him as long as he remained governor of South Carolina. He declared that the people of that city had no reason for treating his brother-in-law, Mr. Summers, as they did in his race for state senator, and for this reason he intended to use his influence with Mr. Summers against giving his support to the Anderson measure. The Governor declared also that if the measure passed the general assembly he would veto it; that he did not intend to let Anderson get anything if he could help it. He stated that this did not apply to the county of Anderson; that the county could get anything it wanted.

Ask American People

000 or $5,000,000 monthly. There is no money in Belgium. The whole credit machinery has ceased. Eighty per cent of the people are unemployed.

"A plan may be devised whereby such obligations as possess property may give obligations to pay when the war ends, but even if we could realize on these obligations we must still have at least $2,500,000 monthly in food or money with which to buy it.

"During the war we have received and expended an emergency fund $50,000,000 and yet this is only four days supply. The problem is immediate. The Belgians are having themselves but they can do little. The British and French are under such strain that they also can do little. Besides the nations, together with the Dutch, have a million refugees on their hands.

Americans must feed Belgium this winter. There never was such a call on American charity and there never was a famine emergency so great.

Will you, therefore, in the interests of humanity, open a subscription among your readers, ear-marked for the sole purpose of purchasing and transporting food? Every dollar so raised will be used to purchase food in the United States."

Discontinue Leases of Wires to Brokers

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Postal Telegraph Company today announced that it had decided to discontinue its leases of wires to brokers and that the required 30 days notice had been given. The announcement comes as a sequel to the Interstate Commerce Commission investigation into brokers' leased wires. The company contends that it is all a pretense that brokers cannot get sufficiently quick service on public wires.
