

SOUTH RETAINS ITS TRADITIONAL ALLEGIANCE TO DEMOCRATIC PARTY

EIGHT U. S. SENATORS AND SIX GOVERNORS WERE ELECTED

ONE IS IN DOUBT

Underwood, of Alabama, and Hardwick, of Georgia New Senators Elected.

(By Associated Press.)

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—The South retained its traditional allegiance to the Democratic party in today's elections in the various States. Eight United States senators, all Democrats, and six governors were elected.

The only Democratic gubernatorial nominee whose election was not definitely assured by the early returns was R. L. Williams, of Oklahoma. These reports showed John Fields his Republican opponent, polling a large vote and only a few hundred votes behind Williams. Later reports, however, showed Williams still ahead.

Congressional districts in which the results were left in doubt by the returns available up to midnight included the eighth and tenth North Carolina, the fifth Tennessee, the eighth Oklahoma and the third Louisiana.

F. A. Linney, Republican, opposing Representative R. L. Doughton in the eighth North Carolina, and J. J. Britt, Republican, running against Representative James M. Gudgeon in the tenth North Carolina, showed unexpected strength. Both of the present representatives are Democrats.

Representative W. C. Houston, Democrat, of the fifth Tennessee, was opposed by H. C. Watts and Doak Aycock, who made the race as Democratic-Independent candidates.

In the eighth Oklahoma, Representative Dick T. Morgan, Republican, had strong opposition from H. S. Johnston, the Democratic candidate. It was believed, however, that Morgan would retain his lead.

Much interest attached to the election in the third Louisiana, where Henry Gueydan, Democrat, was opposed by W. F. Marth, progressive. The third district is a sugar section and much opposition to the Democratic party developed as a result of the removal of the tariff on sugar. Early returns showed Marth leading Gueydan two to one.

Only two new senators are in the Southern list, Underwood of Alabama and Hardwick, of Georgia. Both have been serving in the house of representatives, Underwood for twenty years and Hardwick for twelve.

The list of senators and governors follows:

Senators:
Alabama—Oscar W. Underwood
Arkansas—James P. Clark
Florida—Duncan U. Fletcher
Georgia—Richard I. Manning
Louisiana—Richard I. Manning
North Carolina—Richard I. Manning
Oklahoma—James P. Clark
South Carolina—Richard I. Manning
Tennessee—Thomas C. Rye
Texas—James E. Ferguson.

Governors:
Alabama—Oscar W. Underwood
Arkansas—James P. Clark
Florida—Duncan U. Fletcher

North Carolina—Richard I. Manning
Oklahoma—James P. Clark
South Carolina—Richard I. Manning

Texas—James E. Ferguson.

North Carolina.
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 3.—Incomplete returns at midnight show the election of R. L. Doughton, Democrat, in the eighth North Carolina congressional district by about 1,600 majority.

In the tenth district, J. J. Britt, Republican candidate, claims election by 800 and J. M. Gudgeon, Democrat, by 500. The indications are that Britt is elected.

The entire State and county Democratic tickets were elected by large majorities and the proposed constitutional amendments were adopted by an overwhelming majority.

Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 3.—Early returns throughout the State show the election of the entire State Democratic ticket, including Congressman Burnett, in the seventh district, where the only formidable opposition was made against the Democratic nominee.

Congressman Oscar W. Underwood, Democratic nominee for United States Senator, made a clean sweep of the entire State according to early returns.

Oklahoma.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 3.—Late returns showed heavy Democratic losses in southern counties, bringing with them the possibility of the election of Field, Republican, to the governorship. Has Drawn Sword In An Unholy Cause

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 3.—Agá Khusu, known as the spiritual head of the Mohammedans in India, East Africa and Central Asia, has addressed to the Moslems in British dominions a communication expressing deep sorrow that Turkey has lost her position as the trustee of Islam, having drawn her sword in an unholy cause. The duty of Moslems, he says, is to remain loyal to their temporal and secular allegiance. Turkey's act, continues the message, is not the free will of the sultan, but the will of the German officers and other non-Moslems who have forced him to do their bidding.

British Merchants Being Detained by the Turks

There are about 25 British subjects ashore at Basra in addition to those who may have taken refuge aboard the river steamers.

DAMAGED COTTON WAS SOLD BY INSPECTOR

BARBEE & COMPANY MADE THE PURCHASE

TOOK ENTIRE LOT

Twenty-Eight Bales of Cotton, Damaged by Fire on Railroad, Sold to Firm in N. C.

Representatives of a number of cotton dealers in this part of the county, including Anderson cotton buyers from other sections of North and South Carolina, came to Anderson yesterday to confer with W. G. Sears, insurance adjuster, in regard to the cotton burned several days ago while in transit to Anderson over the Charleston and Western Carolina railroad.

All told there were 28 bales in the shipment and the cotton was shipped from Hester, S. C., by S. J. Hester and was consigned to the cotton warehouse in this city. Only five bales were badly burned but the remainder of the cotton was damaged to some extent by the fire.

When Mr. Sears arrived, representing a certain well known transportation insurance company, he considered the bids of local buyers first but decided that he could get more money by shipping the cotton. Finally the bid of Barbee and company, cotton dealers of Raleigh, N. C., was accepted and the cotton will be shipped to the North Carolina town at once.

It is said that the bidders were afraid to go too high in making offers for the cotton because of the fact that it was hard to determine just how much damage had been done by the water when the Anderson fire department extinguished the flames.

BISHOP'S BRANCH DOTS

PARIS, Nov. 3.—(12:50 p. m.)—A microbe which caused gangrene in bullet and shrapnel wounds has been discovered by Doctors James Scarlett and Georges Desjarline of the American ambulance service. After much experimentation on horses and guinea pigs, a serum is now being prepared by Dr. Henri Welsberg of the Pasteur Institute.

The discovery is expected in medical circles to have world-wide importance. The serum is being injected into patients of the battle field in the early stages of infection, obviating amputations and preventing great loss of life.

Makes Discovery of World-Wide Importance

Received Returns at White House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—President Wilson received the election returns at the White House tonight over a special wire. Though he displayed keen interest in many contests, he made no comment.

Most of the evening the president spent with his family, reading bulletins aloud as they were sent in. Once he went over to the executive offices and stood for awhile behind the telephone operator. News of the election of Whitman, Republican, as governor of New York was received by the president without a show of surprise.

Attorney General Gregory, Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary Tammany and other officials were in the executive offices until late in the night reading the returns.

MR. FEATHERSTONE AT BETHEL CHURCH

Delivers One of the Best Addresses Ever Heard in Anderson Sunday Morning.

The address Sunday morning at Bethel Methodist church by Hon. C. C. Featherstone, of Greenwood, was one of the best ever heard in Anderson. Mr. Featherstone has a statewide reputation as an orator, and his reputation did not suffer in his address to the 300 persons who composed his audience Sunday morning. The hour for morning service at Bethel church was given over to Mr. Featherstone, who was present on invitation of the pastor, Rev. Danner.

The speaker did not confine himself to a particular subject, but his address was given mostly to a discussion of those things which make for manhood. His statement that the practical truths of Christianity applied to everyday life would solve many of the troubles to which we are heir, seemed to find a ready response in his audience. His application of the needs of boys and girls made a lasting impression on those present.

"God," said the speaker, "has only made one man out of the dust of the earth. All the others have been made out of boys." Considerable merriment was caused over an answer by a little boy when asked by the speaker what God made men out of. "Sand," replied the little fellow. Judging from the use made of this article by many so-called men, it seems that this little boy must be mistaken," was the reply.

Mr. Featherstone had all the children in the audience to memorize and repeat after him the following three recipes for manhood and womanhood:

1. "Turn to the right and move forward," which is the sign over the entrance to Brooklyn bridge.

2. "Be sure you are right; then go ahead," from Davy Crockett.

3. "Cease to do evil, and learn to do well," from the Bible.

LABOR UNION CAUSED CONSIDERABLE MIX-UP

FIGHT AT ANDERSON MILL MONDAY NIGHT

WOMEN WERE HURT

Representative of American Federation of Labor Was trying to Organize Association Here.

While a speaker was addressing a large crowd of mill workers at Edmonds store on F street in Anderson mill village Monday night, a fight took place between Henry Alken and W. S. Edmonds, during the course of which Edmonds was out across the arm and his wife and daughter also suffered painful injuries from knife wounds. It is said that the cutting was done by Henry Alken.

It seems that the crowd of mill people were rather noisy while the speech was being delivered by the labor organizer and Edmonds came out of his store and asked that they be quiet. Henry Alken was in the crowd and before this time he had heard it said that Edmonds had referred to him as Judas. Alken thought that this was a good time to repeat this insult so he called out "Yes, and Judas is here tonight." This precipitated a battle of words, followed by blows, and then the cutting ensued. Alken came over to the city and surrendered to the officials and gave bond while Officers Driskell and Whitten went over to the mill village and arrested Edmonds. The case was tried yesterday afternoon at 10 o'clock in police court and both participants in the conflict were convicted. Alken was fined $5.00 but sentence was suspended and Edmonds was fined $5.00.

It is understood that the effort to organize a branch of the American Federation of Labor here will likely prove successful. It is understood that the organizer left the city yesterday but will return in a few days and that the association will be formally perfected, officers selected, etc.

It was learned yesterday that Edmonds was not injured to any extent in the fight and the cuts sustained by his wife and daughter were scarcely more than scratches.

REPUBLICANS MAY GET BIG MAJORITY HERE

ALONG ABOUT THE YEAR OF 1894

NO INTEREST HERE

General Election Came and Went And Many Anderson People Never Knew It Happened.

Whether they did not have registration certificates of just simply did not care anything about the general election is a matter of some doubt but it is certain that Anderson people took practically no interest in the election held yesterday. The vote was very light indeed at all boxes and it is understood that a number of country boxes did not go out at all and hence at those precincts there was no balloting.

There was only one federal box and only one federal ballot. This contained the names of E. D. Smith for United States Senator and Wyatt Alken for Congress.

There were three State boxes and about 101 different amendments to be voted on, the only one of which interested Anderson people was that giving the town of Belton the right to assess abutting property.

When the polls closed yesterday afternoon all the managers locked up their boxes and in some manner disappeared from view. So far as can be learned no tabulations have yet been made and no figures have been compiled. It was absolutely impossible last night for The Intelligencer to secure any returns and it will probably be several days before the managers can give any exact figures on the amendments, since they were so numerous.

It is believed that the total vote for Anderson will hardly exceed 1500, as that is about the figure for most general elections.

While the local folks did not care much about how the election went in South Carolina, they were interested in the vote cast in other States for Congress, Governor, etc. Numerous calls were received over the telephone from people wanting to know who was elected governor of New York, who was elected to Congress in different states and how the Democrats upheld their end of the fight. Many calls came in person to The Intelligencer office to get the returns as they came in over the wires of the Associated Press.
