COMMITTEE PLANS TO HOLD FINAL MEETING

ARRANGING FOR COMING POULTRY SHOW

ALL IN READINESS

November 17 Will Witness First Big Poultry Show Ever Attempted by Anderson.

A tremendous impetus will be lent the poultry raising industry in Anderson when the first big show ever attempted in this county, is held in Anderson. The show bids fair to be a tremendous success in every particular and the people all over the county are planning to send chickens for the exhibit. One of the promoters of the exhibit, speaking yesterday to a reporter for the Intelligencer, said that the number of entries for the show had already surpassed all expectations and that more chickens would be exhibited here on the 17th than the people of Anderson ever saw before. There will be a special meeting of the executive committee of the Anderson county Poultry Association one day next week, and the date of which has not yet been determined. This committee is composed of Dr. Herbert Harris, the secretary and Mr. A. N. Campbell, the president of the association. Others of the executive committee will be present and at this meeting the official program will be made and released to the press. The committee will have everything then in shape for the first big show which is to be held on Nov. 17, just two weeks from today. Members of the association look forward to an excellent show this year and as it is the first one that their association has given the attendance will necessarily be large. This show will be held under the joint auspices of the trades extension department of the chamber of commerce and the poultry association. The place of the show is the Pepper building on West Whittier street and this structure is large enough to accommodate any number of coops for exhibits. By the rules of the association, each exhibitor will have to furnish his own coop. These coops are made by any of the local lumber companies and the pattern for the same is in the rooms of the chamber of commerce. It is expected that among the prominent men to make addresses before the association on the day of the show, that of Prof. Hare of Clemson College, who is the poultry expert of the United States government in South Carolina, will make the principal address. Mr. Hare is a fine speaker and is one of the best known poultry men in the United States. A fine address is expected from him.

CONGRESSMAN COMES HERE FOR ONE NIGHT

ENORMOUS ATTENDANCE IS LOOKED FOR

TO HEAR ADDRESS

Hon. J. Thomas Hefflin Will Prove Drawing Card When He Speaks at Frazer Fitting School.

It is doubtful if Anderson people ever showed more interest in an address in this city than is being manifested over the appearance of the Hon. J. Thomas Hefflin of Alabama. Mr. Hefflin will come to Anderson next Monday and will speak Monday night in the auditorium of the Frazer Fitting School on West Whittier street. It is understood that the seat sale for this attraction has already been very large and that there is an increasing demand daily for tickets. Congressman Hefflin and Dr. W. H. Frazer, headmaster of the Frazer Fitting School, were schoolmates and they have always been intimate friends. Therefore when the Alabama man made his preparations to come to South Carolina this year he placed his itinerary in Dr. Frazer's hands and the Anderson man full authority to attend to the booking in this State. Dr. Frazer has made a number of engagements all over South Carolina for the distinguished speaker and Anderson will mark the opening of a two weeks tour through South Carolina.

"When Knighthood was in Flower in the South" will be Mr. Hefflin's topic when he comes to this city and the address has been pronounced as being heard magnificently by those who have heard it delivered. This will be a genuine treat for Anderson and one that all the people in the city will appreciate.

Tom Hefflin certainly should be "Alabama's Pride." Big, robust, and full of energy, a high power oratorical gun of rapid fire calibre, shelling the Republican fortifications, which crumple like powder before his onslaughts, he most assuredly is most entertaining speaker that addressed a Salisbury audience. As a relater of anecdotes, in an entertaining style, Mr. Hefflin is superb, and he was loaded with these last night. His preparation was a gem, a glittering diamond, something to touch the enthusiastic chord in every human heart, to thrill and charm the mind of his hearers. As an orator, a word picture painter, and entertainer, a deliver into facts and figures, a student of history, and an all-around speaker there is no superior and few equal to the Hon. J. Thomas Hefflin of the State of Alabama—Salisbury (N. C.) Evening Post.

Dr. J. P. Neff, of Richmond, Virginia, in a letter to a friend said: "The people on the streets of Fredericksburg are talking of nothing but Hefflin's speech delivered here last night. Lawyers and professional men who have heard Polk, Miller and Bab Taylor say that Hefflin is far superior to them, that he is the best story teller they ever heard, that his language is the most beautiful and they pronounced his speech the finest ever delivered in Fredericksburg."

"He has an impressive personality, a fine resonant voice, and in some respects, reminds me of Bryan. But the attribute that shines more distinctly and brilliantly than any other in this man's character, is that of sincerity. He told stories that nearly drove the assembly into convulsions but these would be followed by pathetic appeals to their sense of justice and their love of country.—Dayton (Ohio) Daily News."

Put on Brakes—Stop—Whoa, Hallelu! Congressman Hefflin makes a decided hit with the crowd. Dramatic in manner and personality, the speaker was both eloquent and able in his presentation. His stories were striking, and altogether his message was delivered in masterly style.—Savannah (Ga.) News.

Hon. James Thos. Hefflin of Alabama is an orator of rare ability. Mr. Hefflin is more than that—he is a man of magnetic personality, a man of striking appearance, big, broad-shouldered and genial, an entertaining talker and a general story teller.—Florida Times Union, Jacksonville.

Congressman Hefflin is a wonder as a political speaker and also his Atlanta speech has been in great demand all over the State.—Constitution, Atlanta, Georgia.

Hefflin is a strong man, mentally, morally and physically. He is the most genial of men and could, away anecdotes with Doctor Knowlton himself. There is a deal of the poet in the man and his aptitude to see the "good" in a thing is what has appeared in a book instead of a speech in Congress would be classic. Every Alabama school boy ought to memorize it. How Southern Tom Hefflin is. An Okra with a heart beat like this is native to the soil of the Ag-Savoyard in Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

Representative Hefflin is one of the most attractive and eloquent speakers in Congress. Rarely gifted as a story teller and a master of the use of beautiful and trenchant English, he never fails to please.—The News and Observer, Raleigh, N. C.

MRS. M' GOWAN NOT GUILTY

On Trial for the Murder of J. Leroy Brown—Unwritten Law Was Chief Defense.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Florence McGowan tonight was found not guilty in the circuit court here of the charge of having murdered J. Leroy Brown, of this city. The judge's instructions to the jury held that the defendant was shown by the evidence to have committed murder. Speculators in the court room cheered the jury verdict. The "unwritten law" was the chief defense of the accused, who was the first white woman to be tried here for murder. She shot and killed Brown about two months ago in the court room in which her trial was held. The motive given for the killing by the defense was that Brown had wronged Mrs. McGowan's daughter. The latter is fifteen years old. Brown was 21. The jury considered the evidence six hours before arriving at a verdict. Nine jurymen are said to have voted for acquittal and three for manslaughter on the first ballot. Mrs. McGowan resides in Mobile, Ala.

American Horses in Battle. The American horse is one of the first to answer the bugle call of the European war. Representatives of many foreign governments are in this country purchasing horses for the various armies of the warring nations and practically every State in the Union is contributing cavalry material to the belligerent factions. The American horse is a utility animal and excels that of any other country on the face of the earth. He has "waded our fields, fought our battles, and he is now going to the front in the services for foreign lands which he has so faithfully rendered at home."

In Dire Distress. (By Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 5. (7.30 p. m.)—The population of southern Poland, whose villages and lands have been devastated by the march and counter march of Russian and German forces since the beginning of the war, are in dire distress, according to a report today from Professor Bernard Beres, the British Government's representative at Russian headquarters.

Liquor Trials Still Have Same Results

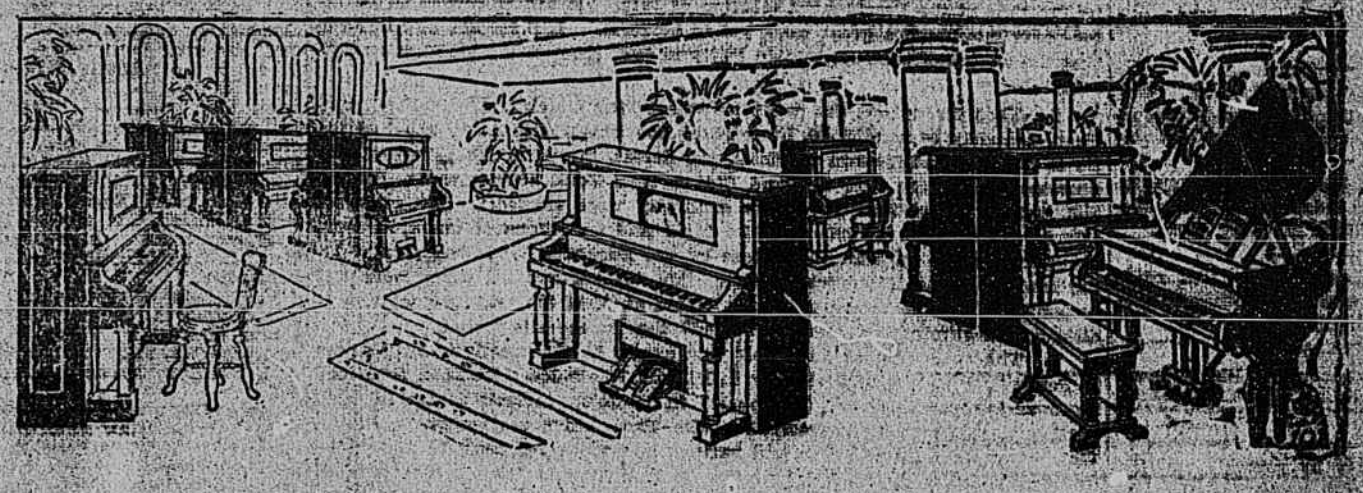

Two Convictions Yesterday in Police Court

Work Continues

Claude Breazale and Marion Eskew Both Found Guilty When Tried By Recorder.

The same story practically was told yesterday in the trials of those charged with violating the liquor laws of the city and State. Yesterday the cases to be tried at this time were heard on this charge in recorder's court, and both the defendants were found guilty. When the case of Marion Eskew, charged with selling, was reached on the docket, the attorneys in the case consented for the trial to proceed without a jury and judgment left in the hands of Recorder Russell. This case was begun without the defendant being present and it is now believed that he had jumped his bond of $400 and is in the State of Georgia. Eskew's trial differed but little from those of the last few days. Detectives Wiggin, Jones and Baxter all testified, the defense offered no witnesses and the recorder adjudged the defendant guilty. On account of the fact that the defendant can not be located, no sentence was passed in this case. The trial of Breazale differed in no particular from that of Eskew, except for the fact that Breazale is charged with aiding and abetting in conducting a place where alcoholic liquors are sold and is also charged with selling. One of the principal points against him is that the police
