HART COUNTY'S FAIR ATTRACTS ATTENTION

THIRD ANNUAL EVENT SCORES SUCCESS

ATTENDANCE GOOD

Splendid Exhibits in All Departments to Make Fair the Best Association Has Yet Held.

(By a Staff Correspondent.) HARTWELL, Ga., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The second day of Hart county third annual fair absolutely demonstrated beyond a doubt that this fair is the biggest success the county has ever scored. More people are attending, more interest is being shown, and the exhibits are more numerous and better than they have ever been before.

While Tuesday was a big day, because of the fact that it was "Educational Day" the really big day of fair week will come tomorrow and Hartwell is preparing to entertain hundreds of visitors. This will be "Live-stock Day" and already the 40 stalls for animals have been filled with pure bred, Hart county raised horses, and numerous other animals are hitched on the outside. At least 60 and possibly 75 horses will be exhibited today.

Too much can not be said about the agricultural exhibits sent to the fair. They are pronounced by hundreds of visitors to be the best of any shown at any county fair in Georgia and visitors from South Carolina say that they are equally as good, if not better, than the agricultural products displayed at the various county fairs in the Palmetto State.

Of decided interest is the main building of the fair association, wherein is found almost every product raised in Georgia. Of especial interest is the display furnished by the Nuberg community. This enterprising section sent a corn display to the fair and in this exhibit corn is shown from the time it ripens until it has been made into every conceivable shape and form. A complete corn mill, constructed entirely of corn, is to be found here, while the arrangement of corn meal, corn, on the cob, shock mats, and other objects made from corn, absolutely defy description. So far as can be seen the only thing the Nuberg community neglected to include in its exhibit was a quart of "mountain dew."

Apples, potatoes, cotton, syrup, watermelons, peaches, oranges, all these are on display at the fair in every imaginable shape and form and they are arranged in tasty and attractive manner.

The Cedar Creek exhibit is another feature of the fair. Here may be found home raised oranges, grown in the Cedar Creek section, together with other delicious fruits and products. A jug, made from Georgia clay, in the year 1863, is an interesting part of the Cedar Creek exhibit.

One of the most interesting features of the fair is that part devoted to the girls' canning club. One Hart county girl made 4,000 pounds of tomatoes off one-tenth an acre of ground this year and many of her tomatoes are on display.

The quilts, carpets, fancy work and numerous household articles being displayed all show that Georgia women and the women of Hart county excel in handwork with the needle.

The exhibit devoted to the public schools of Hart county reflect great credit upon the Rural School Improvement association of that county. The exhibit shows samples of work done by the students of the public schools during the months of September and October and excites wonder from all the visitors.

The flower department of the fair has probably attracted the attention of more visitors than any other part of the fair. Enormous chrysanthemums of every hue and shade are being displayed while the potted plants and cut flowers are absolutely beautiful.

The livestock department is interesting. Blooded animals from all parts of the county are on exhibit and the one thing necessary to place the finishing touch on this department is tied by a chain to a dry goods box—a typical Georgia "houn" dog. The fine dogs, poultry and horses exhibited are equally as good as may be found in any of the Southern States. While the Hart county fair is only three years old, nevertheless it ranks well up with any fair. M. W. Norman is president of the association and T. B. Thornton is secretary and to these two gentlemen much of the credit for the success of the fair is due. They have spared no pains in making it a success.

The fair began last Tuesday with "Educational Day" at which time over 1,800 school children attended and helped to swell the day's attendance to over 4,000 people. The fair continued all day today and will go through tomorrow and Friday.

Many Anderson people are present and it is believed that numerous other visitors will come from the Carolina side of the river for the last two days of the event.

NEUTRAL SHIPS NOT FORBIDDEN

British Government Will Give Report Why Red Star Liner is Detained.

(By Associated Press.) AMSTERDAM, Via London, Nov. 3.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung says it learns from James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany, that not only will the exportation of German chemicals to America soon be generally agreed to but also the importation of American cotton to Europe in ships flying the American flag.

The American government has received assurances from the British government, says the paper, that American ships carrying cotton will not be prevented from running into German ports. The German government has promised Ambassador Gerard that American cotton ships bound for Russian ports will not be molested.

Neutral Ships Can Enter German Ports

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—As interpreted at the State department, the British government's notice that the North Sea had become a field of military operations does not mean that American and other neutral ships are forbidden to enter those waters. It is viewed simply as a warning that ships entering the North Sea do so at their peril.

The offer to provide pilots and sailing directions for such neutral vessels as care to pass through the English Channel is not regarded as mandatory, but rather as a caution to neutral shipping.

The British government has promised to supply the State department with a full report upon the conditions under which the Red Star liner Kronland is detained at Gibraltar, and the department will await the receipt of this report before it decides to follow up its original protest against the detention of the ship. This is irrespective of the proceedings of the prize court, to which the British authorities have referred the case of the Kronland.

Republican in Tenth North Carolina

(By Associated Press.) ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 4.—While the official count may make slight changes in the size of his majority, James J. Brill, the Republican-Progressive nominee for congress in the tenth district, has defeated his Democratic opponent, James M. Gudger, Jr., the present congressman by at least five hundred votes. Mr. Gudger carried but four of the 13 counties in the district.

In Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 4.—Eight Republicans, one Democrat and one Progressive constitute Minnesota's congressional representation elected yesterday, according to returns tonight. Governor-elect W. W. Hammond, Democrat, was given a plurality of 20,000 over his Republican opponent, W. F. Lee.

War or Peace.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—American league owners, at a special meeting here tomorrow, probably will cast their votes for war or peace in the baseball world. Negotiations with the Federal league are known to have been carried to an extent which requires only sanction of the rulers of the game to bring peace.

MYERS' BONDSMAN PAYS $600 TO CITY

SAYS HE WILL OFFER $100 REWARD FOR HIS APPREHENSION

OTHER WARRANTS

Several Other Cases Stated for Today—Some New Cases Developing.

(From Thursday's Daily.) Having failed to appear for trial yesterday morning, Mr. S. W. Williford, bondsman for Louis Myers, defendant in seven of the liquor cases in the recorder's court, paid into the city treasury of the city of Anderson the sum of $600. Mr. Williford says that he will offer a reward of $100 for the apprehension of Myers and that he will do everything possible to bring him back to Anderson. So far as the city is concerned these cases have been settled and Mr. Williford can only look to Myers for the recovery of the amount of the bond paid out for him.

Myers was arrested on seven charges, and the city attorney announced yesterday that there are yet several warrants against him which have not been served. The idea of going ahead and trying Myers even after his bond has been paid is to get the records complete now.

The afternoon session of the recorder's court yesterday City Attorney Sullivan announced that he had dismissed one of the four remaining cases of the city vs. Louis R. Myers; thus leaving for trial only three cases, all of a similar character and charging the defendant with keeping and maintaining a place in which alcoholic liquors and beverages were received and kept for sale.

The case dismissed was the one in the warrant of which the defendant was charged, substantially, with keeping a place where people resorted for the purpose of drinking alcoholic intoxicating liquors, wines or beers, malted, brewed or of vinous character. Attorney Sullivan gave as his reason for the dismissal of this case, that he did not wish to embarrass a number of young men in the city who had been in the habit of resorting to Myers' club, by summoning them as witnesses. This has been in line with Mr. Sullivan's lenient desire to be as reasonable as possible with all, and to make out the city's cases with the least possible embarrassment to any persons who might consider going into one of these places a moral wrong.

The three remaining cases while in effect were tried together, were in reality so far as the record will show, tried separately and distinct, a separate record of each case being ordered on each warrant.

Mr. Dagnall demurred to the jurisdiction of the court in each of the three cases, as he has previously done, claiming that W. H. Frierson, Esq., and not Hon. D. G. Russell, is the proper qualified recorder; he also interposed pleas of former jeopardy as heretofore, except that he made his plea stronger than he has heretofore done, since he claims that it takes a continuity of offenses in order to create the legal crime of nuisance, that being an essential ingredient of the crime of keeping a place where liquors are stored, etc., in other words that there would have to be a series of offenses in order to constitute the crime, and that being so that all of the offenses so constituting the crime would be but a single offense. All of the various acts being merged into the one legal crime.

He challenged the city attorney to produce a single case in controversy of this, and the city attorney accepted the challenge and cited a case to the court wherein a similar state of facts had existed, with regard to a doctor practicing his profession in this State under similar circumstances, and in which case the supreme court held that more than one crime had been committed even though the periods of the two crimes overlapped each other.

The court overruled Mr. Dagnall's contention, and the cases went to trial without a jury, each side agreeing to accept testimony heretofore placed on record by the reporter, with certain specified changes agreed to. The defendant was convicted in

DIRECT APPEAL TO BANKERS

Boston and New England Bankers Will Be Asked to Subscribe to the Loan Plan.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Direct appeal for subscriptions to the proposed $125,000,000 cotton loan will be made to Boston and New England bankers by W. F. G. Harding, member of the federal reserve board, in active charge of this fund. Mr. Harding and Governor Hamlin, of the board, were in Boston today endeavoring to interest New England bankers.

Those bankers are said to look upon the plan as peculiarly designed to help only the South and to feel that it is their duty primarily to care for the cotton manufacturers of their section whose interests may not be along the line of maintaining the price of raw cotton.

Mr. Harding, however, was said to be confident that his mission would meet with success.

Reports from other sections of the country to date show that the plan is being approved by bankers and business men. Members of the federal reserve board here look upon the proposed aid to cotton producers as a matter which concerns the whole country and hope that action will be taken in New England.
