CHEDDAR NEWS.

Thanksgiving passed very quietly in Cheddar. A few visitors were here and most of the men spent the day hunting. Mrs. Bell, of Antreville, who has been visiting relatives here, is now quite ill with pneumonia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Allen Mahaffey. Misses Mamie, Helen and Josephine Price, of Greenville, spent Thanksgiving day with their sister, Mrs. Curtis Copeland. Miss Lucy Kelly visited relatives in Pelzer Thursday and Friday. Miss Gertrude Clinkscapes visited home-folks near Bethany Wednesday night and Thursday. Mrs. Henry Smith, of Greenville, Mrs. Wilson, of Antreville, Mrs. Sam King, of Anderson, and Mr. Will Bell, of Antreville, have been called to the bedside of their mother, Mrs. Bell. Mr. and Mrs. Dock Ellison and children spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Kelly. Claude, the little two and-a-half-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Cooley, was badly burned on Wednesday afternoon. While playing too near a pot of boiling water it was overturned and the little fellow received some painful injuries. Drs. Haynie and Todd, of Belton, were quickly called and did all they could to relieve the child's sufferings. Back in Washington. WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—President Wilson returned here early today from Williamstown, Mass., where he spent Thanksgiving day with his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Savoy. He drove out once to the White House.

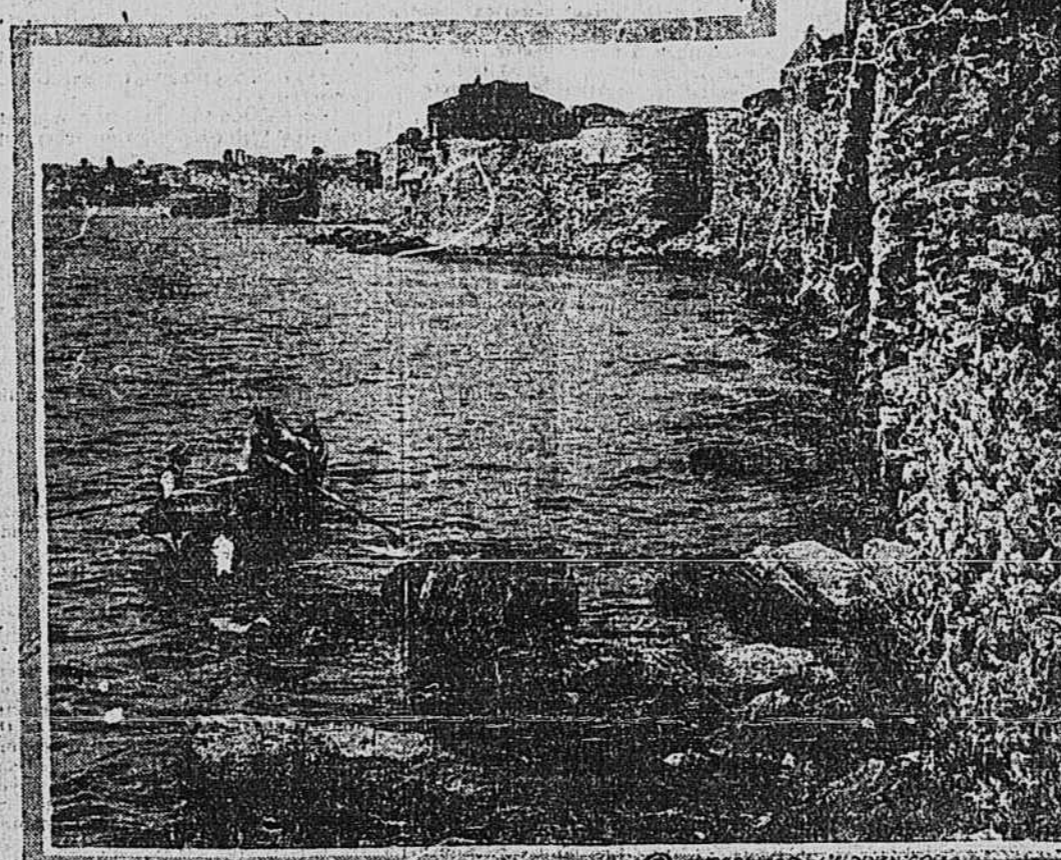

BELTON SOCIETY.

Erskine-Slyter. BELTON, Nov. 29.—Quite a number of relatives and intimate and well wishing friends gathered at the beautiful country home of Capt. and Mrs. J. S. Erskine three miles west of town Thursday afternoon to witness the marriage of their daughter, Bertha, to Rev. Henry Slyter. As the 4 o'clock chimes mingled their echo with the bright autumn sunshine without the guests assembled from lawn and porches into the spacious parlor which had been transformed into a bower of pleasing beauty of white and green, with potted plants and trailing vines drooping with graceful effects. To the accompaniment of Mrs. R. L. Parker on the piano Miss Grace Campbell sang beautifully. Then with fairy like change the magic notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march announced the approach of the little flower girls dressed in lace frocks carrying baskets of chrysanthemums of the season's choicest offering, followed by Master James Singleton, nephew of the bride, bearing the ring in the petals of a carnation, and just in the rear came the bride and groom who paused in an improvised alcove of flowering plants, surmounted in the background with a pyramid of soft glowing candles, where Dr. Jno. G. Law of Walhalla, pronounced the impressive Presbyterian ceremony uniting their lives. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome prune chiffon broadcloth coat suit with hat and gloves to match and bore a bouquet of carnations. Following the ceremony they boarded the Blue Ridge train just in front of the home amid showers of rice and congratulations, and began their journey to Covington, Kentucky, where they will be domiciled in the manse of the Presbyterian church of which Rev. Slyter is pastor. The sweet cheerful and even disposition of the bride, the deep interest she has ever shown in church work, rare qualities and virtuous attainments peculiarly fit her for a minister's wife, and the benediction of scores of warm friends follow her in her new home. The groom is one of the leading ministers of the Kentucky synod and a much beloved pastor of the church which he supplies. The high regard in which the couple are held was silently attested in the gorgeous array of handsome and valuable presents of which they were the recipients.

BELTON, Nov. 28.—Mrs. John M. Geer spent Friday in Belton the guest of Mrs. H. M. Geer. Miss Miriam Lee of Anderson spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Belton the guest of her father, Mr. W. E. They have visited Belton before and are always welcome here. Miss Nannette Campbell is spending the week-end in Greenville, the guest of her friend, Miss Lucile Calmes. Mrs. W. C. Hearin is spending the holidays with her parents in Greenville. Master Gordon Sherard is spending the week-end in Greenville, the guest Hearin. Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Harper spent Thanksgiving day in Greenville with Ancient Wall for Defense of Constantinople.

This is the ancient wall of the water front of Constantinople which the Turks hope will hold them safe against the attack of battleships if they succeed in entering the Bosphorus. The wall has been built for many hundred years. Stones in their native shape and mortar were the material used. But since modern cement of fifty feet in thickness has been blown to bits by the artillery used in this war the old wall may not last long against the Russian, British, or French fleets should either pass the Bosphorus or the Dardanelies.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Leland Vass. Mr. L. A. Werts and Max Rice were visitors to Williamstown Thursday evening. Misses Marguerite Adams and Beas Allen spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Greenville, guests of Misses Mary and Jeanie Allen. Miss Sue Covington spent the holidays with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Covington, in Greenville. Mr. and Mrs. Ola Key and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Campbell spent Thanksgiving day in Honea Path with friends. Mrs. Joel Kay and children were the guests of relatives in Honea Path Thanksgiving. Miss Lizzie King, who has been quite a popular guest of Mrs. H. M. Geer, for several months, returned to her home in Florida Friday. Miss King made scores of friends while here and they will look forward to her coming back again with pleasure. Miss Stella Lawton spent Thursday in Belton. Miss Lillian Shirley visited relatives near Anderson during the holidays. Miss Claudine Skelton visited Brownlee, S. C. for the holidays. She was bridesmaid on Thursday night for her friend, Miss Elsie Brownlee, who was married to Mr. J. A. Sharp. Miss Ruby Willford went to Clover, S. C., to spend the holidays with friends there. Mr. H. Reid Sherard and Master Reid, Jr., have returned from a visit to relatives in Iva. Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Stringer had as their guests for Thanksgiving day Mrs. A. R. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Joel T. Rice, Mr. E. B. Rice and Miss Leda Poore. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Brown and children, Mrs. Ida Brown and Mrs. H. Miss Julia Blake, who is attending Converse College, spent Thanksgiving at her home in Belton. She was accompanied by her friends, Misses Fath, Simpson, Glass and Seales. Miss Blake entertained for her guests on Wednesday evening at a beautiful tea party. Covers were laid for 12 and Mr. E. D. Blake presided in his usual charming manner, making all the guests feel happy and at home. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Blake, Misses Julia Blake, Fath, Simpson, Glass and Seales and Messrs. L. A. Werts, Max Rice, Blair Rice, Ethel Frierson and Louis Seel. Miss Blake and her guests returned to Spartanburg Thursday evening.

Cotton Mill in the Hands of Receiver

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 28.—E. F. Verdery of Augusta, Ga., and B. H. Moss of Orangeburg, S. C., were today appointed temporary receivers for the Orangeburg Manufacturing Company, a cotton manufacturing concern of Orangeburg, S. C., by United States Judge Smith. Application for the appointment of receivers was made in the federal district court here by the Citizens and Southern Bank of Savannah, Ga., which alleged that the milling company is insolvent and sued to recover on a note for $25,000. The complaint alleges liabilities of approximately $200,000 with assets not estimated. Judge Smith set December 14 for a hearing on continuation of the receivership. Horses for the Armies. New Orleans, Nov. 27.—The British steamers Rowanmore and Anlan which cleared from here today carried 2,144 horses said to be for the use of the British and French armies, in addition to large cargoes of cotton and grain. The Rowanmore cleared for Bordeaux and the Anlan for Liverpool via Avonmouth.

SENECA.

On Tuesday afternoon Miss Lucile Hamilton entertained at a Miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Marguerite Adams. After arrival of the guest they were asked to write their ideas of marriage. Mrs. W. J. Holoway won the prize which she graciously presented to Miss Adams. The guest prize was a handsome hand-crocheted table runner. The guest were then invited the dining rooms which was tastefully decorated with ferns, numerous pink candles being used, where a delightful three course luncheon was served by Misses Francis Hamilton and Annie Hunter. As the strains of the wedding march were heard the guest returned to the parlor in the center of which stood a large pink basket filled with numerous dainty and useful gifts. West best wishes for the bride and farewell to the noxious the guest departed at a late hour. Those present were: Misses Adams, Jennings, Hunter, Morrison, Reid, Moore, Sleight, Norma and Sue Gignilhat, Etta and Ross Clarkson, Harper Galphin, Mesdames Livingston, Loye, Lowry, Hallway, Mariett, Shelor, Harper, Smith and Stribbling. STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery. Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theodor's Black-Draught, and just taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—never had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me. Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangement of the stomach and liver. It contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. Get a package today. Only a quarter.
