Warming House Party.
Miss Lois Jackson is entertaining at her home in Iva Miss Bessie Tripett of Spartanburg and the following week-end party from here: Miss Alberta Brock, Miss Ruth Fretwell, Willie Marshall, Eugene Watson, Rufus Hill, Cleveance Beatty, Louis Ledbetter and Thos. F. Cartwright.

Fant's Christmas Reception.
A charming affair for the coming week is the Fant Christmas reception which will be held on Tuesday at Fant's Book Store.

This store has always been a popular rendezvous for Anderson shoppers, and they have planned this delightful occasion for the pleasure of their host of friends. From noon till 10 o'clock on Tuesday, the public is cordially invited to visit their store, and they expect to make it a very delightful occasion.

Mrs. J. L. Gray Entertains.
The second of a series of charming little informal parties being given by Mrs. Louis Gray was given on Wednesday afternoon at her home on East Orr street. This was another little sewing party, so popular just now, when busy housekeepers are delighted to combine duty and pleasure and spend an afternoon making dainty pieces of hand work for Christmas in such a charming way.

Mrs. J. L. Sherrard and Mrs. S. H. Provost assisted the gracious hostess in serving dainty refreshments.

A Delightful Blamer Party.
One of the most beautiful of the Thanksgiving dinner parties was the one given by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Baldwin at their lovely home in North Anderson. The pretty Dutch colonial cottage is ideally fitted up and the attractive hostess served an elegant course dinner. A great pleasure of the day was the recitations of Miss Kittle Watson of Fort Valley, Ga. This charming young woman is a most gifted elocutianist and given in her attractive, inimitable manner, her selections delighted all present, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Satterfield, Hartwell, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hudgens, Miss Kittle Watson, Mr. T. S. Maxwell and Mr. Clyde Smith.

The guests were kept through the evening when a tempting supper was served and the following also invited: Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Smith, Messrs. S. M. Wolfe, Billy Lyon, L. M. Cochran and T. P. Dickson. The evening was delightfully and informally spent.

"A Neighborhood Sewing Party."
Mrs. J. B. Marshall entertained a few friends at a delightful little "neighborhood sewing party" on Monday at her home on Marshall avenue. It was one of those informal little affairs, that are so pleasant and enjoyable, and the time was profitably spent doing all sorts of pretty needle work. The attractive hostess served dainty refreshments.

Reception For Tuesday.
The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company are planning a beautiful house warming on Tuesday afternoon and evening when they will throw open their handsome new building on West Whitner street to the public. Mrs. Rufus Fant has charge of the decorations and the Anderson Floral Company will furnish the carnations for the occasion.

Invitations will be sent out to all the subscribers and their families and the management hopes that everybody will try to come whether they are subscribers or not.

The Philathea class of the Central Presbyterian church will serve the refreshments. Arrangements have been made for delightful music throughout the afternoon and evening, the hours being from 3 to 5 and from 7 to 10. It promises to be a most charming and delightful occasion.

The Elks at Home.
The handsomest and most beautiful affair of the week was the dance and reception given on Friday evening by the members of the Elks Club at their pretty home on McDuffie street. This was one of the most elaborate and delightful of the many pretty af-airs they have had and already they have made quite a reputation for themselves. The members of Anderson social set look forward with greatest pleasure to "The Elks at Home."

Dancing was enjoyed by many in the beautiful hall on the second floor, while those who didn't dance spent their time either playing cards or chatting in the pretty parlors.

During the evening elegant refreshments were served in the spacious and beautiful dining rooms. The members of the club should be justly proud of their beautiful home and the charming success of Friday evening, for every guest present was enthusiastic in their praise of the pleasure of the occasion.

"Dr. Frazer and His Boys."
Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Frazer entertained the young men of the Friday School and Prof. Banks on Thursday at an elegant Thanksgiving dinner. Dr. Frazer's love for "his boys" is one of the chief characteristics of his life, and he is never happier than when giving them pleasure.

An Informal Supper Party.
Mr. and Mrs. C. B. J. DeCamp entertained on Friday evening at a charming little supper party in honor of their seventh anniversary. Just a few friends in a delightfully informal manner that was fully enjoyed by those present. They have a most attractive home and never more so than on this occasion when the time was spent in a pleasant social way.

Red Cross Sales.
Miss Anna Ross Cunningham who has charge of the sale of the Red Cross stamps in Anderson has arranged to place them on sale at Moore-Wilson's, Orr-Gray's, Mrs. A. C. Holliman's, Evans' Pharmacy and Cox's Book Store. These stamps are sold for the benefit of the Anti-tuberculosis league in South Carolina and the money realized will be used to push this great work in our State. It only means a few cents here and there and yet a great and grand work can be carried on that will benefit thousands of sufferers.

Postmaster John R. Cochran has kindly consented for Miss Cunningham to arrange an attractive desk in the postoffice lobby and here for ten days before Christmas several young ladies will sell these stamps.

Rose Hill.
The second of the suppers at Rose Hill Club was given on Tuesday and was as delightfully pleasant as the other one. Quite a number of ladies went out for cards during the afternoon. At 7 the gentlemen came out for supper which was heartily enjoyed. Afterwards the guests enjoyed dancing until about 9, after which they dispersed with pleasant memories of a very pleasant occasion.

Chinese Doves.
Miss Georgia Harris is the proud possessor of a beautiful pair of Chinese doves that have been sent her from Baltimore. There are possibly the first of the kind ever seen in this community and are most interesting and pretty. They are light tan in color, with black rings around the neck. Their coo is particularly attractive and musical.

Mrs. John E. Sadler and Miss Mary Sadler have been spending several days with relatives in Washington, Ga.

Miss Louise Agnew will return today from a visit of several days to relatives at Donalds.

Miss Anna Ross Cunningham is home after a visit to Greenville and Spartanburg.

D. A. R. Meeting.
Mrs. John Linley was the gracious hostess on Monday afternoon to Catechee chapter D. A. R. Her new home on North Anderson Heights was charming and the cordial welcome accorded each guest on arrival made it a pleasure and a privilege to be among the number.

Mrs. Chester Plant, the chapter delegate to the recent conference in Rock Hill, told in most interesting way of what South Carolina D. A. R. is accomplishing and for what the order stands.

Mrs. Plant paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. A. P. Johnstone, a valued member of Catechee and former regent, who is State secretary. She said that in giving the report of her year's work Mrs. Johnstone by her bright wit made it a very different thing from the usual stereotyped ones, and most pleasingly impressed the conference.

Mrs. E. R. Horton had a very interesting and instructive paper on "The Character and Objects of the Early American Explorers."

Miss Rhoda Vandiver furnished music for the occasion which found favor with her hearers.

At the close of the program Mrs. Plant anticipated the coming Thanksgiving feast by serving her guests with most delightful plum pudding and coffee.

Christmas For the Needy.
In accordance with a movement which there has been an endeavor to start, Catechee chapter considered the matter of refraining from making Christmas presents this year to grown people, other than servants, and using the money thus saved in feeding the hungry and clothing the cold. While every member did not pledge herself nor does the chapter intend to stop its offering in Catechee chapter.

The regent will gladly receive any money that may be given for the purpose and after consultation with those persons who are in a position to know the needs of our community will use the money to make not only Christmas, but Christianity something more than a name to the Lord's poor.

When those in our midst who are clothed and fed if the contributions are more than is needed, then most gladly and thankfully will the surplus be sent to the homeless, the desolate, the starving elsewhere. In poor ravaged Belgium if we can only get enough.

Christian friends, at Christmas time remember he who giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord.

Mrs. Sallie Burriss of Mississippi, who has been visiting relatives at Birmingham, is here to spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. O. L. Martin.

Mrs. Arnold of Greenwood is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Rhett Parker, on West Whitner street.

Birthday Party of Caroline Speer.
Caroline Speer entertained 50 of her little friends at her home on Blockley street Tuesday afternoon in honor of her sixth birthday. It was an ideal afternoon for a party so the children enjoyed many games on the lawn. The house was very pretty with pot plants and pink carnations. The color scheme of pink and white was also carried out in the refreshments that were served by Misses Sara Mattison and Caroline Maxwell. The table was decorated with pink tulle stretched from each corner to the chandelier, and a large bunch of pink carnations in the center. The birthday cake was very pretty with its six tiny pink candles burning very brightly. Many pretty and useful presents were received by the little hostess. Miss Sara Frances Stephens assisted in making the afternoon pleasant for the little folks.

In Honor of Miss Osborne.
Mrs. John Anderson was the attractive hostess to a few friends yesterday afternoon when she entertained in honor of Miss Osborne of Atlanta, the charming guest of Mrs. L. C. Harris. Three tables of buffet bridge was formed and the afternoon was most delightfully and pleasantly spent. Later the cards were put aside and Mrs. Anderson served an elegant salad course. Those invited to meet Miss Osborne were: Madames J. L. Sherrard, J. L. Gray, M. E. Donham, T. L. Coley, E. F. Cochran, Bond Anderson, G. B. Green, Morrison, L. C. Harris and Mrs. Hunter.

Miss Osborne leaves today for her home in Atlanta, after a delightful visit here.

In Honor of Miss Helen Little.
Mrs. A. L. Smothers entertained about 50 young people last night in honor of her niece, Miss Helen Little of Eatonton, Ga., who is spending the winter here attending high school and studying music under Prof. Chambers. The evening was delightfully spent playing games and was fully enjoyed by the fortunate guests.

In Honor of Miss Cann.
Miss Eunice Olden pleasantly entertained the old girls of the class of '13 on Monday afternoon in honor of Miss Una Cann, who is the first bride in the class. Each of the guests were given pencils and paper and asked to write a note to be opened by the bride on her wedding trip. Afterwards tables were arranged and several merry games of cards were played, after which the hostess served an elegant salad course. Among those present were: Misses Una Cann, Ely Cummings, Lorena Pickett, Ella Mae Trumble, Willie Cann, Leona Foster, Eugenia Maxwell, Ruth Wells, Laura Wall, Nell Pruitt, Mary Riley, Sadie Gray, Mrs. Ed. Kimsey and Mrs. Harrison Pruitt.

In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glenn entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Marion Glenn at a three course turkey dinner at 6 o'clock Wednesday at their beautiful country home. The library and reception hall was tastefully decorated with pink chrysanthemums and ferns. In the dining room pink carnations and ferns were used. In the center of the table was a large mirror which was a vase of carnations and ferns rested. Those attending the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rhody, Mrs. Laurence Davis, Mrs. Ella Hamilton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burriss, Mrs. Robert McDonald, Hunterville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Sullivan, Dr. and Mrs. Jeter Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Glenn and Misses Agatha Spellman, Leta Smith and Anabel Dean.

Mrs. John Laurent and Miss Janie Duggan of Clayton, Ga., are visiting Mrs. George Evans on West Whitner street.

Thompson-Duckworth's Pretty Home Wedding.
A pretty home wedding was that of Miss Mary Thompson to Mr. John Duckworth on Wednesday afternoon at 6:30 in the morning. The wedding march was played by Miss Kathleen Thompson, a sister of the bride. The only attendants were Misses Alice Duckworth and Miss Thompson, who wore lovely white Hageris dresses with pink girdles and carried a showy bouquet of pink carnations. The bride wore a handsome blue cloth suit and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley. In the east parlor the colors white and green were used. In one corner was an embankment of ferns and palms and an arch entwined with green and white and studded with little candles. The bridal party stood beneath this arch. Immediately after the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining room where an elegant salad course was served by Misses Mattie McDaniell and Mildred Thompson. In here the color scheme of yellow and white was carried out. The souvenirs were planned by two dainty little girls, Lucile Thompson and Frances Duckworth. Mrs. Hunter Thompson and Miss Alice Duckworth met the guests at the door and assisted in entertaining the guests.

The Social Side of College Life.
While the other sides of college life have not received any less attention than their due, the social life of the college community has had an added energy for the past two weeks. Besides the distinctly college functions the different members of the faculty have attended various social affairs given by their friends in the city. On Saturday evening Mrs. G. W. Evans, a former member of the faculty entertained at dinner in honor of Mr. J. K. Breedin, formerly of Wakefield of the present faculty were there from the college.

On Monday morning Mrs. Kinard gave a most delightful luncheon to the ladies of the faculty. Before luncheon was served every one was engaged in some sewing they had brought, or that was furnished by the hostess. This was the first time the beautiful new president's home had been the scene of social festivities, and everyone was commenting upon its attractiveness. Mrs. Kinard is a most charming hostess and everyone gives a royal good time.

On Monday evening Miss Maddocks entertained at dinner a few friends in honor of her friend, Mrs. Helen McCandless of Louisville, Ky., who is visiting here. These little week-end gatherings among the faculty are the means of uniting the faculty in a good fellowship and afford means of recreation and diversion much needed. Enthusiasm and interest in athletics have been at their best all winter. The tennis tournament began Tuesday afternoon, 16 young ladies taking part. The second round was played Wednesday afternoon, with finals in doubles and singles being played Thanksgiving morning at 8:30. Misses Maggie Shirley and Nellie Gentry played the final round against Misses Julia Ledbetter and Una Pettigrew, the former two winning. In the final singles Miss Shirley beat Miss Gentry. The other matches were won by: Misses Maurice Logan, Lafayette Johnson, Anna Tribble, Nora McAllister, Ruth Brownlee, Ruth Hembree, Marguerite Henry, Cecile Schultz, Marie Nelson, Wanda Verrie, Nellie Darricott and Winnie Howard.

OSBORNE & PEARSON

All The Good Overcoats

And By Far The Largest Selection to Be Found Anywhere.

A Pretty BIG Statement But a TRUE one.

Now, therefore, you men and young men whose overcoats are fringed and frayed from a season or two's strenuous campaigning against old Boreas, you fellows who have often tried but never succeeded in finding "just what you want" are cordially invited to come and investigate what I have done through a close association with one of the leading overcoat houses of the country to bring real overcoat superiority to you at $8.00, $10.00, $12.50 and Up.

Those who have examined this line of coats say our prices are $3 to $5 per cent below the usual run of overcoat prices and that the styles, materials, etc., are the equal of any of them.

cal accompaniment. She did best the French Canadian dialect selection—her voice being better adapted to that style than to heavier characterization. The singer has a good voice and many of her songs were very pretty, still she needs more temperament to make her work appeal.

Lander Club.
The November meeting of the Lander Club was held on Friday afternoon with Mrs. T. A. Wigginton and Miss Maggie Garlington at the home of the former on Greenville street. On account of sickness in her home Mrs. C. O. Burriss offered her resignation as president and Miss Maggie Garlington, the splendid supervisor of rural schools was elected in her place. It was announced that the Piedmont Magazine had accepted the serial story written by several members of the club, and will soon have it ready for their readers. Germany, Belgium, and Holland, the countries most prominently before the public just now, have been selected for the winter's study by the program committee.

Mrs. D. S. Vandiver read a most interesting paper on German Universities, especially Leipzig, Heidelberg, and Bonn. Miss Eddie Davis read a fine paper on the Reformation. During the delightful social feature the two attractive hostesses served dainty refreshments ending this pleasant afternoon.

Facing Them to Return.
(By Associated Press.)
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 27.—War conditions in Canada are forcing fugitives from justice from the United States to return to this country, according to Clarence L. Reames, United States district attorney here. Careful watch the Canadian authorities keep on foreigners, and the fear of conscription are contributing causes.

Life Imprisonment.
MAON, Ga., Nov. 26.—A. J. W. Stokes, a Macon lawyer, today was found guilty of the murder July 4 last of McGill Thompson, a contractor, and don't recommendation of the jury was sentenced to life imprisonment. Stokes advanced the plea of self-defense on the ground that Thompson had broken up his home.

Wants the Family.
LONDON, Nov. 25.—(4:40 a. m.)—Harter's Petrograd correspondent sends an official statement which warns the public to observe caution in accepting rumors of a crushing Russian victory. The statement says the retreating Germans are offering desperate resistance and the battle has not been finished.

LYCENUM ATTRACTION.
The second number of the lyceum course at the college was given on Friday evening and was attended by a good crowd. Those appearing on the program are advertised as the Alabama Favorites, a group made of three young ladies, a violinist, a soprano, and a reader. The violinist, Miss Galloway, who played here last season plays with a splendid technique and finish. For work of an evening she was even more brilliant than when she was here before. Miss Galloway is an attractive reader with a very evident abundance of temperament. She gave several selections with most
