LEBANON HIGH SCHOOL DOUBLE SPRINGS LIMESTONE COLLEGE CLEMSON COLLEGE IVA HIGH SCHOOL THE CITADEL HONEA PATH SCHOOL

We have finished two months of school work. The honor roll for the second month in the high school was larger than the first month. From the tenth grade were: Max Welborn, 98; Perlie Webb, 98; Edith Hutchinson, 97; Lois Richardson, 97; Roy Craig, 97; Mary Smith, 96; Mildred Smith, 96; Malcolm Duckworth, 96. From the ninth grade was Bessie Harris, 95.

We had school on Saturday in order that the teacher and students might have holiday on Friday. Misses Lella, Claudine and Lucile Sullivan spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Coleman of Townville. Mr. Jack Cromer of this section, who went to spend the winter in Florida, has returned home. He brought home the hides of several foxes and catamounts killed by himself.

GAFFNEY, Dec. 7.—On Wednesday evening the student body was delightfully entertained by a recital by the music department. Dr. J. S. Dill, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivered his third address Thursday morning before the student body. His subject being Athens.

On last Saturday night the Calhoun Columbia and the Palmetto Literary Societies held an inter-school contest in declamation. D. E. Swinehart and W. E. Blake represented the Columbia. L. C. Cannon, F. A. Clark and F. D. Stribling, the Calhoun. The judges Dr. R. N. Brackett, Prof. T. G. Foats, and Prof. D. H. Henry, gave the highest ranking to D. H. Swinehart, second place to L. C. Cannon and third to W. H. Blake. The declamations have been pronounced the best heard ever in some time.

The members of the eleventh grade met and organized the class with the following officers: Essie Cook, president; Earle Smith, vice president; Eugene Wait, secretary and treasurer; T. A. Sturid, chairman. Class colors, red and gold. Motto, "Be what you seem to be." The flower is yet to be selected. The class meets at pleasure of the president.

THE CITADEL, Charleston, S. C., Dec. 7.—41 of the 43 members of the senior class were present at the banquet given in their honor last Friday evening by Cadet W. Allen Moore, Jr., at his residence on George street. The two front rooms of his home were very appropriately decorated in the Citadel colors, light blue and white.

Quite a number of the young people of the town were entertained last Friday evening by Miss Hazel Shirley at her home on West Greer street. The members of the eleventh grade met a few days ago for the purpose of organizing their class. They began the work of organizing by electing their officers for the year.

Shop Early

Mr. George Jolly and family of Anderson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jolly Thanksgiving. We have our window shades up and they add greatly to the comfort and appearance of the building.

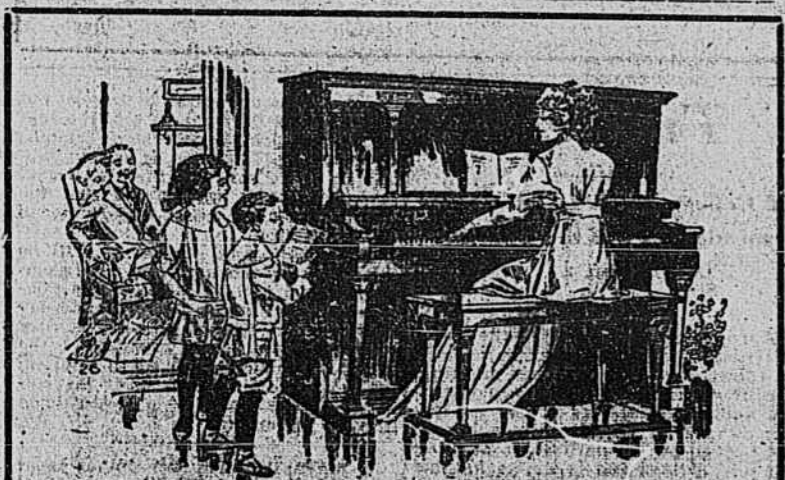

Several of the ladies of the community have donated beautiful pot plants to the school. Our library has been enlarged recently. The books have not arrived, but we are expecting them soon.

On last Saturday evening, Hon. Geo. B. Cromer delivered the sixth number of the Life Work Series address before the Erskine Y. M. C. A. on the subject "Law as a Life Work."

On account of the unfavorable weather conditions the basketball game scheduled with Wofford for last Saturday afternoon was postponed. The squad has been forced to resort largely to indoor practice during the past week.

On Wednesday we took our first drawing lesson that proved a success. We had Thanksgiving day and the Friday after our holiday. We will have to come to school on one Saturday to make it up as we cannot lose any time.

This morning Prof. R. A. Banks departs for Columbia. His loss is keenly felt by the faculty and patrons of the fitting school as well as by the town at large.

GET A PIANO FOR CHRISTMAS

Little eyes will brighten, sober faces will smile, the whole family circle will be drawn closer in bond of Merry Christmas under the charm of music from your own piano. For your selection we offer a great assortment of some of the very best pianos made.

When Frances I. of France lost the battle of Pavia he wrote, "All is lost but honor." When honor is saved, nothing is really lost. One of the characters in one of Seneca's plays tells how she has met with great trouble, has lost all of her family and had many disasters.

Be a captain of your soul. A call comes to us to take charge of our craft on the sea of life. Be a man, a woman.

A great many years ago a man was suffering a great calamity, he lost his political career, through no fault of his own, and finally he lost his health. His friends came to console him and sympathize with him.

Remember the great courage of Martin Luther when he was about to commit himself to reform, he said, "Here I stand, I can not do otherwise, God help me." This is impossible without a trained will.

We are here in the United States, talking about hard times and we ought to be ashamed of ourselves. But listen! Along a line of more than 300 miles in the eastern part of Europe, you will find the cold winter weather, standing in snow and sleet, with their hands and feet freezing, are thousands of men.

On last Sabbath evening, Hon. Geo. B. Cromer delivered the sixth number of the Life Work Series address before the Erskine Y. M. C. A. on the subject "Law as a Life Work."

On Monday evening a joint meeting of the Erskine Y. M. C. A. and the Erskine staff was held at the woman's college. Reports of the recent meeting of the Press Association were made by delegates of the two staffs and such topics as tended to the improvement of the magazine discussed.
