

Southern Christian Advocate to Be Published In Anderson

CONTRACT AWARDED THE ANDERSON DAILY IN-TELLIGENCER

REV. KIRKLAND
WILL ALSO COME

Is Official Organ of the South
Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church
South.

By unanimous vote of the board of managers, the contract for the publishing of the Southern Christian Advocate, the official organ of the South Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has been awarded to The Anderson Daily Intelligencer. This action was taken by the managers at a conference held yesterday in Columbia for the purpose of awarding the contract for the printing of this publication.

Editor to Move Here.
The Rev. William Clarke Kirkland, recently elected editor of the Advocate, will move to Anderson within the next few days, in order that he may give his personal attention to the publishing of the paper. The Rev. Mr. Kirkland and his family will prove a very welcome addition to the religious life of the city, and that Anderson is to be the "home" of the official organ of the Methodist Conference in this State will prove a source of gratification to the members of this and other denominations in this city and county.

At Greenville Now.
As generally known, the Southern Christian Advocate has been published in Greenville for the past three years or more. Prior to that time the paper was published in Spartanburg. At the recent conference, which was held in Sumter, the Rev. Mr. Kirkland was chosen editor of the publication, to succeed the Rev. S. A. Nettles.

The new editor of the Advocate is well known to members of the Methodist and other denominations of this city, but for the information of those who may not be so well acquainted with him, the following personal sketch is published:
Today there is not among the young men of South Carolina Conference a better equipped and more promising young preacher than William C. Kirkland. Strong in physical manhood; striking in appearance; largely endowed by nature with intellectual powers; his mind trained in the best institutions of our Methodist and other denominations of this city, and for the information of those who may not be so well acquainted with him, the following personal sketch is published:

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Theford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.
"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Theford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without it."

THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Theford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.
If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

INVESTIGATION OF WHITMAN MURDER

Sensational Reports Continue to Circulate in Greenwood.
Hackmen Questioned.

GREENWOOD, Dec. 17.—A private investigation into the murder of J. C. Whitman was held Wednesday morning in T. F. McCord's office by Coroner Dock Owen, T. F. McCord representing the State, W. H. Leaman, foreman of the coroner's jury, and Mr. W. J. Snead, foreman of the grand jury. The hearing had been announced to take place at 10:30 at the court house, but it was later decided to exclude the public and hear additional testimony behind closed doors. All of the evidence, as at the last investigation, was taken down by a stenographer. This being true, all that is reported here is necessarily "hearsay evidence," but the statements made are based on what was heard outside the closed doors.

One of the most sensational reports of the day is to the effect that one of the witnesses examined has stated that he saw Jesse Clem and a man wearing a white sweater up town Saturday night about 7:30 o'clock. He saw the two soon afterward near the P. & N. lunch stand, where Clem is said to have told Bob Cogges: "You didn't think I would come back with him, but you see I have brought him." This witness, it is reported, has said further that he heard the men, there were five in the crowd, talking about hiring a hack, but decided to "go down the railroad, where it wasn't so muddy." The last he saw of them they were going towards the Seaboard station from the lunch stand.

Another report, which may or may not have been told at today's investigation, has it that Jess Clem's father declared he burned some rags in the grate at his home early Saturday night. This is said to have been a few minutes after he had gone home with Bob Reed. Mr. Clem is said to have gotten sick from drinking too much liquor. Reed said this morning that he went home with the elder Clem Saturday night and remained at Clem's home about 10 or 15 minutes. He passed Jess Clem as he (Reed) went out of the house.

That two white men were seen in the woods near the scene of the crime Monday morning before the report of finding the dead body had been made is another report today. It is claimed that the two men hid in the woods until after the officers arrived and then, by a circuitous route, came up and joined the crowd that gathered around Whitman's body.

Several colored hackmen were called to testify before the private investigation today, the supposition being that the coroner is working on the theory that Whitman may have been murdered and then taken to the woods. The hackmen were not disposed to say much about the case before called in to give their testimony.

It is presumed that the evidence will be sifted down after the hearing today and only the important witnesses will be bound over. All of the witnesses who were here at the last hearing were present at the court house this morning.

WOMAN DIES IN FIRE.

Mrs. Elizabeth Huggins Loses Life
In Flames.

ORANGEBURG, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Elizabeth Huggins was found dead this morning about 5 o'clock at the home of her son, J. T. Huggins, having been burned to death. The body was found lying under the house. A groceryman named John O. Keller, today identified the dead body as the man who had come to his store shortly after noon yesterday, obtained a box, placed several bundles in it, and then securely wrapped it. It also was reported that Hohl later mailed a box of similar description to P. C. Wright Louisville. The Louisville postmaster has been notified to watch for the package.

The police decided today that one of the two revolvers carried by Hohl contained blank cartridges and was used merely to frighten those whom he encountered in the banks. Cashier George Winters, who was powder burned by the discharge of Hohl's revolver declared Hohl fired point blank at him when only a foot or so away. He was not wounded. No bullet holes were found in the walls of either bank where the bandit fired at employees.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 18.—Incoming mail today contained no package addressed to "P. C. Wright," Postmaster E. T. Schmitt said tonight. Detectives have been stationed in the postoffice lobby to arrest anyone who might call for such a package.

Coal Movements Show Increase

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The moving of anthracite and bituminous coal on 13 leading eastern railroads increased slightly during September over that month a year ago. Coke showed a large falling off. Statistics issued today by the department of commerce show an anthracite increase for the month of 253,640 tons; a bituminous increase of 86,640 and a coke decrease of 747,572 tons.

Prince Hussein Kemal Has Been

Prospect of Prolongation of Hostilities.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—A British protectorate over Egypt was proclaimed today. Prince Hussein Kemal has been appointed sultan and has accepted. He is an uncle of Abbas Hilmi, until now khedive.
The French government has recognized the British protectorate over Egypt, in which France formerly had such important interests, and in return Great Britain has given notice that it adheres to the Franco-Moorish treaty of 1912, which gave France a protectorate over Morocco.

In a letter addressed to Prince Hussein on his appointment, the British acting high commissioner for Egypt, Milne Cheetham, details the efforts which he says England made to avoid war with Turkey, but which were frustrated by the war party and the Ottoman cabinet.

In inviting Prince Hussein to accept the office as "the prince of the family of Mehemet Ali, most worthy to occupy the khalid position with the title and style of Sultan of Egypt," Mr. Cheetham announces that Great Britain accepts all responsibilities for defense of the territories under the new sultan, that all Egyptian subjects will be entitled to protection by Great Britain, that with the disappearance of Ottoman suzerainty the restrictions placed by Turkey upon numbers and organization of the army will disappear, that the relations with foreign powers will be conducted by a British representative in Cairo, and that the religious convictions of the Egyptian subjects will be respected scrupulously.

In connection with his letter the commission in a statement tonight says that in declaring Egypt free from obedience to Constantinople, Great Britain has been animated by no hostility toward the Caliphate, and that in any movement to strengthen and improve the Mahometan institution of the new sultan will have the government's support. The promise is made that after the war treaties will be revised and that "in such measure as the degree of enlightenment of public opinion may permit" the government will be associated with the task of government.

In all garrisoned towns a salute of 101 guns was fired and the Union Jack was hoisted.
The official press bureau made this announcement:
Prince Hussein Kemal Pasha, the oldest living prince of the family of Mehemet Ali, has accepted the post of Sultan of Egypt."

MAILED MONEY TO LOUISVILLE

Believed the $13,500 Obtained
By Automobile Bandit Was Shipped by Parcel Post.

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 18.—The $13,500, obtained by Frank G. Hohl, the automobile bandit, who yesterday robbed two banks here and was killed after fatally wounding a policeman, is believed by officers to have been shipped by parcel post to Louisville, Ky., by the robber.

A groceryman named John O. Keller, today identified the dead bandit as the man who had come to his store shortly after noon yesterday, obtained a box, placed several bundles in it, and then securely wrapped it. It also was reported that Hohl later mailed a box of similar description to P. C. Wright Louisville. The Louisville postmaster has been notified to watch for the package.

Meat in America Will Be a Rarity

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—"Meat in America will be a rarity before the war ends, with its drain on our supply," said Henry J. Williamson, statistician in the department of agriculture, today. He has been in the west touring stock centers.
"Unless scientific breeding for increase in general and the slaughter of calves ceases, before five years have expired America will find herself in the class of European countries that have to import beef," continued Mr. Williamson.

WANTS $500,000 BOND ISSUE FOR HIGHWAYS

FARMER WOULD LIKE TO SEE
ANDERSON COUNTY VOTE
THIS NOW

GOOD RESULTS WOULD FOLLOW

Permanent Highways Would Be Established and Work Given Unemployed.

"I believe that now is the time to take up immediately the question of a bond issue for a system of public highways in Anderson County. The legislature meets next month and we could get a bill passed there easily giving the county the right to issue bonds in the sum of from $100,000 to $500,000, redeemable in 40 years, at 4 1/2 per cent. interest, and hold the election late in February or in March and have the work well underway by April or May," said a prominent farmer of the county yesterday.

"The issuing of these bonds in the spring of next year will accomplish two important results; first, it will be the means of at least giving the county a modern, permanent and complete system of highways; and secondly, it will furnish more than enough work for all persons in the county, and especially in the rural districts, who may be temporarily thrown out of work because of conditions prevailing. It is just the time to make a proper move to give the county a real system of good roads.

"Such a sum would be sufficient to build from 150 to 200 miles of magnificent permanent highway, and the amount of money now being spent to build temporary and makeshift country roads would be more than sufficient to maintain the new bonded system to be thus built and to pay the interest on the bonds.

"I have talked with many farmers and quite a few business men, and I know the farmers favor the issue. It is only a question of lining up the business men. While the farmer would be the chief beneficiary, all town people and especially merchants would benefit indirectly."

Betts Did Not Testify.
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 18.—Carleton Hudson, indicted recently in New York under the name of Carleton Hudson Betts, who arrived here yesterday, did not testify today in the suit brought against him by Mrs. Caroline King to recover more than $100,000 which she asserted Hudson had obtained from her. It was denied that the case had been settled out of court.
