A WILDWOOD BEAUTY.

Painty Phases of the Bird's Foot violet-Pausy and Pure White, The violet family is full of charming surprises. In the common bird's foot ctolet. Viola pedata, we find delightful variations. 'The bird's foot violet is one of the handsomest of the violet family. It is widely spread over the Atlantic. coast territory of the United States, its bright blue flowers being among the carllest to welcome the advent of spring. The San Jose Scale. ATreatment of orchard trees by fumition is the best method for San Jose Scale where the trees are small enough iods covered by a tent not costing too much. As the cost of a tent rapidly increases with its size, however, it does not pay to fumigate orchard trees more than ten or twelve feet high and six or eight feet across Spraying with crude petroleum is somewhat expensive, and the results are not as satisfactory as with other materials. Other objections are the unrelies ility of the pump and the fact that a double tank pump is not included in the average spraying outfit.

All things considered, the time, sul phur and salt wish proved the most satisfactory, giving the best results, while its cost was only medium, and only an ordinary spray pump was necessary for its application.

The Difference Good Seed Makes. ing Gem melons it is impossible to produce a good melon. All who grow melons for market know to get top prices they must have the best flavor and a good appearance and well netted. I have known a good many instances where there was a difference of 50 cents per basket in returns received for same day's shipment. I do not know of any plant that can be as easily improved as to quality and productiveness as the Gem melon by the careful selection of seed .- A. V. Schermerhorn, Canna Culture.

Cannas are grass feeders. They are not very particular as to soil, preferring a somewhat heavy to a light one as long as it is nourishing and well drained. During their period of growth they require plenty of water, and a few manurial waterings will be found of service.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Description of a Chantagus County (N. Y.) Farmer's Ba n. My stable is a very ordinary affair but I think as convenient as some more expensive ones. Platform on the ground at one end of stable 7 feet 4 inches long, at the other 8 feet, gradually lengthening. This accommodates large or small cows. Width of manger, 20 inches, is included. Drop behind the cows, 8 inches; space from there to wall is cement, sloping toward the drop about two inches in three feet. Have no gutter and find this stable much easier to clean. Platforms should slope to gutter about two inches in four

For manger back use 2 by 8 inch plank on edge twenty inches from front. Hayrack is thirty-four inches from floor to bottom of rack. For bottom use 2 by 12. Place its front edge even with the front of manger. For slats use 1 by 2, 3 feet long, nailed four and a half inches apart. Rack in this way is 12 inches at bottom, 3 feet high and should be about 3 feet wide at top with equal flare on both sides. Put in partitions 41/2 feet high, reaching back 41/2 feet from front of manger, so that each cow has a separate manger and cannot hook her neighbor.

Partition is of inch boards down. Board at back end of partition should reach the celling for support Do not let partition reach into rack which is better not divided. For end of stable where platform is longest put partitions about 8 feet 2 inches apart and gradually nearer toward short end until only thirty-four inches is allowed. This is very little difference, but sufficlent for stable fifty feet long. I have

Fasten a pole three inches in diame ter into floor four inches from manger and four inches from partition on left side of each cow. Procure ordinary cow tie chains with the large ring and swivel. Slip ring over the pole, which should be about four feet high, and then fasten top of pole to partition nearly perpendicular. This allows the cows to step back and forth, but with the manger low. They lie down so far forward that they very seldom get any manure on them. My cows have no horns, so do not hook. Never have any trouble about wasting hay or keeping bedding under cows. -- Cor. The question of economy of storage room is entirely in favor of silage, writes a correspondent of American Cultivator. Less room is required for storing the product from a certain number of acres in the silo than in a barn in cured condition. Hay placed n the mow will take up more than three times as much room as the same quantity of food materials put into the silo. In the case of field cured fodder corn the comparison comes out still more favorably to the silo on account of the greater difficulty in preventing the thick cornstalks from spoiling rive full benefit from the food materials in the field cured corn fodder it must be run through a feed cutter in smal! proportions at a time; the corn which pay $100 a year. For catalogue, must in most cases be hunked, cribbed address HARRISON RANDOLPH, and either ground cob and all or shelled and ground. In siloing corn the whole plant is now as a rule run through the cutter and filled into the sllo at once, thus doing away with the separate handling of ear corn. Careful experiments with milk cows conducted by several of our experiment stations have shown that sliage thus made from corn cut "cars and all" has produced somewhat more milk and butter than dry fodder and ear corn handled and fed separately, the product from the same area of land being compared in both cases.

Extra Pasture Land.

As animal industry becomes a per manent industry more of the farm must be converted into pasture. But if the fertility of the farm is to be increased, if a good profit is to be realized from the new system, two blades of grass must grow in the place of one; twice as much stock must be kept on the same number of acres. It will draw very greatly upon the intelligence of the man to handle his pasture land so that the yeld of forage it produces becomes even better every year. The pasture must have periods of rest. It cannot be continually nipped into the ground. It must not be overstocked. Forage crops must help it out in a hot, dry spell and in early fall. It will need a top dressing of manure or some good commercial fertilizer. Kentucky blue grass, a native of our state, with a mixture of orchard grass, is probably the best variety of our grasses suited to permanent pasture.-Indianapolis News.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Effected Cure.

Heart disease is curable, but in people of advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, hope for all sufferers in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which we know from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful sufferers, will cure where all else has failed. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a regulator of the heart's action and the most effective treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

"During the Civil war I contracted heart checive treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

"During the Civil war I contracted heart disease, and in 1896, while living in the grand old town of Lexington, Va, I grew so much worse, I left there with my wife to visit my sister-in-law, Mrs. T. A. Kirby, at Roanoke, Va. While I said nothing to anyone I never expected to live to return to the dear old town. On reaching Mrs. Kirby's she insisted I should try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I procured a few bottles of it, also the Nervine and Tonic. After using one or two bottles, I could see no improvement, and I despaired of ever being better, but my faithful wife insisted on keeping it up, which I did. Improvement soon began in earnest and I took in all fifteen or sixteen bottles. I was restored to perfect health and while I am 70 years old, I am comparatively a boy. You sir, are a benefactor, and I cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to suffering humanity."—J. L. SLAUGHTER, Salem, Va. All dinggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles Remedies.
