

Mrs. Sarah J. McDaniel.
 On Friday afternoon, Nov. 13th, 1903, the gentle spirit of Mrs. Sarah McDaniel took its flight to realms of peace.
 Mrs. McDaniel was the only daughter of Colonel and Mrs. J. T. Ligon, and she was fifty-three years and fifteen days of age on the day of her death. She leaves surviving, to mourn their loss, a husband who, through the entire period of their blissful union, was the ideal companion in love and tender devotion, and thirteen children and four brothers, she being the only daughter of a large family, to all of whom the sympathies of friends unnumbered are assured.
 In the death of Mrs. McDaniel, this community is deprived of one of its most active servants in every cause that looked to the works of charity and the ministration of love. She was a Christian woman who, in the quiet of her home and the most unobtrusive labors of love, built wisdom and the peace in the hearts of her family and her friends.
 The loss of so good a woman from the community impresses those of us who remain with that deep sense of excited character through which we learn that she is not lost to us but lives today in the supreme enjoyment of the virtues she strived so diligently to exemplify through her every act—through all her life—and, as we mourn, we grieve not for the things she loses but for the separation which, because we cannot comprehend her glory, we cannot understand, and will not be able to understand till, like her, this mortal shall put on immortality.
 Words are idle at a time like this. There are no words that can tell of the wondrous love of mother, wife and friend. No language can speak the sacred reverence with which her sweet memory will live with us, but, true to our faith while she lived, in our lives made better through her goodness, we are hoping to show forth her influence by lives refined and chastened by our loss.
 A Friend.

The following extract from a letter written by G. M. Harmon, editor of the Dispatch, the proprietors of the famous Remedies is self-explanatory: "There is no pill that equal Ramon's Pills; they leave the bowels and stomach with such pleasant healthful feelings—no bad effects—after performing their work thoroughly. I have tried them and know whereof I speak." See at Earles Drug Store, J. D. Moore, Craig Bros.

Reply to Mountain Sprout.
 Editor Sentinel-Journal:
 Recognizing your columns to be a medium through which you publish facts as well as falsehoods or the right when wrong impressions have been made, allow me space for a reply to Mountain Sprout in regard to our school election.
 Through justice to trustees and patrons I beg to say Sprout has deviated from the truth or has been handling it very carelessly. I am the man accused of sending for "two old women" as he calls them, to come and vote. This I can prove by good authority to be positively untrue.
 He tries to make it appear that these women were not eligible though I declare them to be, as both patrons. There were two votes cast for them, and they were in the count.

LIBERTY DETS.
 Liberty, S. C., Nov. 16, 1903.
 Mumps and whooping cough are very much in evidence at present in our midst.
 Mrs. J. D. Smith was quite sick the past week but is improving.
 Four sermons were preached here yesterday but there were vacant seats plenty while there were many people who seemed to be unaware of the fact.
 The weather has been foggy and damp for some time while the ground was dry enough to plow and wheat sowing and corn gathering have been pushed rapidly.
 Since the bulk of the cotton crop has been marketed the cotton that was stained by the recent frosts brings a better price than the white. If it goes to 20cts it will do the producer but little good.
 Our town authorities took the census of the town a few days ago and the result was 200.

Central Items.
 Our section was visited with a good rain last week which did the turnip crop much good and softened the hard ground so the farmers could sow wheat.
 The Southern Railway Company is putting in a side track down to the Isaacena Cotton Mill.
 The cotton mill at this place is progressing rapidly.
 F. B. and J. N. Morgan have just completed the new bank.
 We can compliment the County Commissioners of Pickens and Oconee for the good bridge over Keowee river near Lawrence's. But the road on the Pickens side is very near impassable. I do not see how the Commissioners ever got there to let the bridge out for it isn't anything from N. M. Madden's to the bridge but a gulley.
 Married, on Sunday Nov. 8th, 1903, at the residence of the groom's brother, Joe Jewell to Miss Martha Maw. All of Pickens county. Rev. Lydia officiated.
 G. M. Maddox has the finest wheat in this community. Brown Eyes.

Best Liment.
 "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liment on the market," writes Post & Bliss of Georgia, Va. No other liment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief for rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pins in the chest. Give this liment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Pickens Drug Co., Earles Drug Store, Pickens and T. N. Hunter, Liberty.

TRESPASS NOTICE.
 All persons are warned to not hunt, fish, make roads, cut timber, or in any manner trespass on any of our lands under penalty of the law.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
 by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be lost forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. Send for circular, free.
